THE WEST.

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, }
CHICAGO, Feb. 26, 1880. }

Indications of the opening of spring trade are beginning to show themselves in this market to some extent, and operators, glad to welcome the return of the active season, are preparing to meet it at least half way. A considerable number of travelling men are scouring the Western country in the interest of Chicago dealers, and the reports which are received from them so frequently take the shape of orders, and sometimes fairly large ones, that their employers are generally pretty well satisfied with their success. Mail orders, too, are coming in at a rate which promises to bring the aggregate sales for February up to a figure that will compare most favorably with that representing the business done during the corresponding time last year. The general belief seems to be that there is a large demand coming to this market, and certainly it is based upon facts that warrant such a conclusion.

In the matter of prices there is nothing in the way of a change to record. The current list is maintained firmly by nearly if not quite every one, and weakness, on any grade, has become a thing almost unknown in the market. It would be singular if it were not so, under existing conditions. With a good, indeed an exceptional, demand for the season, with assortments broken, and most of the staple qualities in short supply, and with the prospect that the wants of buyers will tax the ability of sellers to the utmost to supply them, it would be surprising indeed if prices were not firm.

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, }
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 26, 1880. }

The business of the West is better than it has ever been at this season of the year, but the distribution of it has been changed during the last ten days by the reduction of lumber freights from Chicago westward, upon the plea that the Sioux City Lumber Line was commanding some freights from Wisconsin, which was not to be permitted. All eyes will now be turned anxiously to this company and their patrons, who stand in the breach, so to speak, to prevent the starting of the whole lumber business on the down grade again. If the lumber line will make another slight concession, and extends its benefits to the lumbermen of Minnesota as well as Wisconsin, we feel sure that they will make a price on lumber which will fully settle the question of their power to hold the Missouri Valley business. With this new Chicago freight reduction, there is no reasonable expectation of an advance in the price of lumber.

The continuance of plenty of snow in the pines has enabled the loggers to do splendid work, but they have not yet made up the loss of time from a late start. The St. Croix and Upper Mississippi will come nearer getting the estimated amount of logs than the Chippewa and Wisconsin, while the Black River people are a long way behind either of the others in the per cent. of logs secured up to this time, but it is too early yet to estimate the shortage there or elsewhere. There is a little cold comfort to Wisconsin lumbermen in the fact that their neighbors over in Michigan are still worse off and further behind in their work, but it is to be taken into account also that the Michigan loggers will try to furnish Chicago cheap lumber at any cost to them, if it takes all summer to get the logs.

FOREIGN.

From a report in the London Timber Trade's Journal giving particulars of a recent sale at the "Baltic" of Cabinet Woods, we select the following items. After noting details on some lots of Mahogany and Australian Cedar, the report says:

The remainder of the catalogue consisted chiefly of walnut (nearly all hought in) ex Westbourne; 43 logs American walnut passed at 3s. 6d; the broker said that if 3s. were offered he believed it would be accepted, if not, it would be shipped to the Continent.

Sixty-four logs hickory, ex D. H. Morris from New York, sold at the very low figure of 6d. to 9d. per cubic foot, and was actually put in at 3d. per ft. cube by a party whose conscience must be very small indeed. Again, in this case there will be a small remittance to the shippers, but on this occasion it is their own fault for shipping such rubbish here.

The following sales were effected:—

Manogany—Honduras, ex Nymphen from Belize 213 logs at 4d to 8 1/2d., average, 5 17-32d; Cuba, ex Plymouth Rock, 6 logs at 5 1/2d.; ex Ellen Austin, 8 log ends at £5 per ton; ex J. M. Mayo, 2 logs at 6d.; St. Domingo, 10 curls at 14d.

Cedar—Honduras, ex Nymphen from Belize, 6 logs at 4 1/2d.

Walnut—American, ex Capella from New York, 2 logs at 3s. 6d. per cubic foot; ex Roslin Castle from New York, 5 logs at 3s; ex Mercurius from New York, 12 logs at 3s 6d.

Hickory—American, ex Morris from New York, 22 logs at 6d., 18 logs at 9d., 12 logs at 7d., 12 logs at 8d.

Messrs Edwards & Son, at Mincing Lane, on Thursday evening, offered a cargo of Tabasco mahogany ex Solveig from Santa Ana, for account of Messrs. Skelton & Schofield, prices ranging from 4 1/2d. to 9 3/4d. About 11 tons of log ends sold for £6 10s per ton. The bidding opened very spiritedly, and continued so throughout; every lot sold, and we consider realized good prices.

The following mail advices from Rio Janeiro came to hand just too late for our last issue:

Pitch Pine Deals.—The arrivals have been 223,008 feet per Tuck Sing from Wilmington and 3 6,457 feet per E. A. Sanches from Brunswick which were sold at about 31x500 per dozen 3x9x14; the 53,365 feet which arrived day before yesterday, per Sea from Pensacola are still unsold. The extraordinary large shipments from the United States added to the enormous entries of Swedish deals have caused this visible decline which will we suppose curtail any future shipments from the United States for the moment. We quote 34x500 to 35x500 per dozen 3x9x14 according to assortment of cargo and port of loading.

Spruce Pine Deals.—The arrivals have been 396,697 feet per Lizzie Dalglish from Calais were part on order and part for sale; 1,524 feet per Mary Siowe from New York, and 428,014 feet per W. H. Genn from Bangor not yet sold, we quote 2x300 per dozen.

White Pine Lumber.—The arrivals consist of 53,090 feet per F. J. Merryman and 17,363 feet per Thames both from New York and sold to arrive. Market is most firm and as high as 117 reits per foot could be obtained were there any here.

GLASGOW.

The London Timber Trade's Journal has the following from Glasgow:

Imports continue light, as is to be expected at this time of the year, arrivals during the week being two cargoes St John, N. B. spruce deals, which are now in course of discharge.

On the 10th inst. Messrs. Farnworth & Jardine, Liverpool, sold by public auction at Yorkhill yards here a cargo of Mexican (Minatitan) mahogany, which realized an average of 5½ d. per foot, prices ranging from 4¼ d. to 1¼ d.

There was a good company, but dealers appeared to buy rather for immediate wants than with the view of stocking, and, probably on account of the extreme sameness in dimensions of the cargo, there was not much animation in bidding. Besides, ship-builders' work generally is scarcely so far advanced as to induce them to be in the market in strong force as yet for wood which they will certainly require by and by for the large orders on hand.

Following the sale of mahogany Messrs Singleton, Dunn & Co. offered by auction Cape Breton birch, and parcels of spruce and pine deals, various qualities. Prices offered for the birch not coming up to brokers' expectations, it was withdrawn.

Quebec yellow pine planks, 1st quality—
12 & 13 ft. 9 & 10 x 2 2s. 6d. per cub. ft.
12 & 13 ft. 7 x 2 1s. 10d. "

Miramichi spruce deals (an inferior or 4th quality parcel)—
12 & 13 ft. 11 x 3 10¼d. per c. ft.
14, 16 & 17 ft. 11 x 3 10d. & 10¼d. "
14, 15 & 17 ft. 9 x 3 10d. "
13 ft. 9 x 3 9½d. "
12 ft. 9 x 3 10d. "
11 ft. 9 x 3 9½d. "

NAILS.—Manufacturers, dealers and speculative holders all continue to express great confidence in the market, and are offering supplies with moderation and much showing of indifference. The movement, however, is slow, and buyers generally handle only small jobbing lots. We quote 10d to 6d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do. per keg, $5.65; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.15; 3d and 4d, light per keg, $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.65; 2d per keg, $7.90.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.90. Floor casing and box, $6.15@6.90. Finishing, $6.70@7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.
1¾ to 1½ in. 2 & 2½ in. 2½ & 3 in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.90@8.00 $7.40 $7.15 $6.90 per keg.

OILS.—The market presents no really new points. A very good jobbing trade has been done, and for all leading qualities full figures were asked, and, as a rule, submitted to without much contest on the part of buyers. In a wholesale way, the general market has been fairly active and about steady. We quote linseed oil at 8½@9c. from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—For all sea-sable goods the demand has had pretty fair volume, and, on the whole, rather tends to increase. This is confirmation of dealers' expectations and very naturally strengthens the market. Supplies can still be found in sufficient quantity and variety to meet all the requirements of the market, but there is no surplus or the least indication of a desire to realize.

PITCH.—A little more doing in small lots and prices steadier, with the supply not very full. Holders, however, in all cases, are quite willing and ready to operate. We quote at $2@2.12½ per bbl. for city, delivered.

PLASTER PARIS.—Lump plaster remains nominal in the absence of sales, but, we understand, that $3 per ton freight has been bid, which will give some idea of probable cost. Calciné not very active for export, but the home trade is first rate on all grades and the market well sustained at the late advance. This, by the way, was 10c. per bbl. and not $10 as the types had it in our last, an explanation probably unnecessary to any one in the trade.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Jobbing operations are increasing somewhat under the influence of more call for consumption and the cost is kept well up to the usual relative position with the rates on first hand parcels. In a wholesale way the recent movement was light and the tone only barely steady. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 46@47 per gallon, according to the quantity of the stock handled.

TAR.—The stocks in hand are moderate and under very good control. Demand fair and values generally ruling firmly. We quote at $2.00@2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2.00@2.25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

*To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

DEAR SIR:—My lawyer has just notified me that on March 3d a Mechanic's Lien for $2,605 was filed by Frederick Buse against the five buildings, southwest corner of First Avenue and Eighty-fifth street, now owned by me.

I beg to state that no sum whatever was due from me to Mr. Buse at the time said lien was filed. That Mr. Buse sold me brick to the extent of $2,605 and accepted in payment therefor an order on Mr. Frederick Becker, payable when the roofs should be on said buildings, that work has progressed on said buildings as rapidly as possible, and the second tier of beams is now on. The filing of this lien was wholly unwarranted and was a great surprise to me.

I consider this explanation due to those from whom I have purchased materials, and who might suppose from seeing the record of this lien that I had failed to meet any of my engagements. Yours truly,

OTTO W. LOEFFLER.

BUILD UP THE WEST SIDE.

Would it not be well for several owners of West Side property to talk less of the future grandeur of that section and build more. Improvements are absolutely necessary, and now is the time for a few enterprising men to set to work and go at it. We know of two owners ready to form part of any combination that may be formed to begin at once and build. Their efforts simple and alone would be fruitless, as it requires several owners to build up one or two blocks, but they are willing to co-operate with others so as at least to make a beginning. The necessity for the immediate construction of houses west of the Central Park was forcibly brought to our notice during the past week by a gentleman now residing in Brooklyn, and anxious to change his domicile to this city. He does not wish to live in Harlem, but in the vicinity of the Park. Upon enquiry of several up-town agents, he found that there were no suitable houses to rent in the locality he had selected, and hence made up his mind to remain in Brooklyn for the present. Enterprising owners will find it to their immediate pecuniary advantage to build along the Eighth avenue, or the cross streets. It is of no use to say that this or that street is not in a condition for immediate improvement. The Department of Public Works is disposed to come to the rescue of owners wherever and whenever the proper application is made therefor, and the Board of Aldermen are in a mood just now to stand by the Department. Combined action is all that is required on the part of a few owners to start the ball. The shanties of the district will be removed by the first of May, but they might as well remain if their removal is not to be followed by immediate improvements. Only a few weeks intervene, and if anything is to be done at all in the line of building after May 1st, now is the time to make the necessary preliminary combinations and preparations.

SECOND SOBER THOUGHT.

It is a matter of satisfaction to THE RECORD that several of the leading dailies, which for weeks past raised the cry for five cent fares, have during the past few days seen the hollowness of that cry and embraced the views so elaborately set forth in these columns several weeks ago. True, the change of base on the part of the Herald especially, was very much like that of a skilful acrobat, sudden, sharp and decisive, but in the field of common sense there is always plenty of room for a repentant sinner.

All the arguments printed in THE RECORD have since been used with effect, not only in Albany, but elsewhere, and whatever may be the ultimate fate of the bill pending in the Senate one thing is sure, there is very little chance that anybody will ride, for some time to come, from the Battery to Harlem for five cents, except during the commission hours. Should the bill pass and be signed by the Governor, we understand that the elevated railway companies will at once appeal for protection to the Supreme Court of the United States on constitutional grounds, because the new law would impair the obligation of the solemn contract entered into between the State and those holding the franchise, which is specially forbidden by Federal law. It is to be hoped, however, that Governor Cornell, even if the foolish bill pass the Senate, will stand between constitutional rights and popular clamor—if such there be—for in the Senate, at least, it cannot be passed over his veto. This would save litigation and remove all barriers which now impede the progressive construction of the roads on the upper part of the island. The people of the annexed district will be virtually deprived of rapid transit to the lower part of the city if the companies are driven into expensive litigation. Already there is a partial suspension of work on the Second avenue line above Sixty-fifth street, and with the slow methods that characterize all our law courts, there is no telling how long the citizens of the West Side will be deprived of additional facilities and termini for which they are clamoring, and which the managers of the road are willing to give them, if they are only let alone. It is to the interest of property owners on both sides of the Harlem that the Manhattan Railway Company be permitted to work along, as it has begun, exploring regions of the city hitherto unoccupied, and satisfying hundreds and thousands of our citizens by furnishing them with a mode of quick transit, unparalleled in the annals of travel, either in this country or abroad.

CARELESS FORECLOSURES.

During the past seven years there have been a great many foreclosures, and many lots are now held and offered for sale by parties who make their title through such foreclosures. They are therefore receiving a sharp scrutiny from the lawyers, who are examining titles on the sales now making. All the rules of law surround, with their protection, a purchaser who takes title by deed from his vendor, but this is not so strongly the case with a title taken by hostile proceedings from the owner. Questions of regularity are more carefully looked into, and if there is any outstanding interest in a person who is not made a party, or an infant or absentee is not brought within the jurisdiction of the court, a serious question may arise.

Two classes of these questions are now receiving attention. First: whether the common practice can be upheld, where an attorney appears voluntarily for a defendant, and waives service of notice of the ordinary proceedings in the progress of the action. A client is bound by the acts of his attorney in performance of his duty to protect the client's right; but is he bound by his waivers and consents? If a case should arise where a defendant had suffered an injury and the attorney was not responsible, it might be that the authority of the attorney to appear for him would have to be proved to uphold the title, and that the court might hold that an attorney had no power to waive anything—that his duty was to watch and to defend. In the case of Lyon vs. Lyon, 67 N. Y. 250, the Court of Appeals held that an attorney could not waive an irregularity after judgment, and consent that the clients should be bound by the decree. An extension of this rule might break up the practice of attorneys stipulating away the defence of their clients before judgment, and throw upon the party seeking to uphold the rule, as in that case, the necessity of establishing the attorney's authority. Secondly, the process of constructive service of the summons by publication has, beyond doubt, been taken as against many defendants who were entitled to personal service. The carelessness of attorneys and their unwillingness to take trouble has no doubt, in many cases, led them too readily to resort to the order of publication. In such cases the party thus irregularly served is not bound by the foreclosure, and still retains his interest in a lien upon the property foreclosed. It may be very difficult for a lawyer now examining a title to ascertain the facts, but a great risk would be run if a mistake of this sort were made.

These are two only of the many questions demanding a critical investigation in the examination of a judgment record in foreclosure.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

 For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv and v of advertisements.

Considerable property was offered at public sale during the past week, but whether it was the storm that made itself felt on Tuesday, as well as on Thursday, the total result is that the transactions of the week in the Exchange Salesroom were not of the most cheerful kind. Of course, there are always exceptions, and so there were during the week, but, taking at this closing day a survey of the market there appears to be somewhat of a pall hanging over the energies of buyers, and a languor that aside of the weather, betokens a desire on the part of some capitalists to wait for something new to turn up. As to sales of speculative property at auction, we merely record the fact that during Tuesday's storm, Mr. Harnett withdrew from sale the twenty-six lots on Lexington avenue, One Hundred and Second and One Hundred and Third streets, after having tested the views of buyers, who were not disposed to come up to the ideas of the owners of property. They are now held at private sale. Some valuable business property, on Greenwich and Reade streets was withdrawn on the same day by A. H. Muller & Son. The same firm sold, however, on Thursday, by order of the executor, No. 39 West Twenty-eighth street, for $23,000. The well-known Mr. Plaintiff was also around during the week, and of course, secured sundry bargains, but the most notable one was the sale of 236, 238 and 240 William street corner of Duane, by A. J. Bleeker & Son. This property now rents for $2,700 per annum, and was disposed of by order of the Executor for $21,200. The sugar refinery block, on Water and Cherry street, including machinery, also was sold by Mr. Camp at a far lower figure than anticipated. This same auctioneer disposed of thirty-six acres of land at McComb's Dam to Fordham, for $100,250, to Mr. Thayer, representing it is said, the plaintiff. This sale, however, it is rumored, is preliminary to the sale of an adjoining strip of land, all of which we are told is now the subject of a negotiation, which when completed, will reach in magnitude the recent Astor purchase in the annexed district. Thursday's sale of lots on Third avenue and Ninety-seventh street, by W. O. Hoffman, was also favorable to the plaintiff, outsiders being scared by the mountain of rock that ornaments that vicinity.

Notwithstanding the report to the contrary, printed in this column last week, and the denial furnished by Mr. Judson Jarvis, we have to announce the fact of the sale by private contract of the Brennan mansion and property, on the Grand Boulevard and One Hundred and Fifth street, to Mr. D. Dexter Allen, Mr. Vernon K. Stevenson, Jr., having effected the sale. It appears by the contract, which has been filed in the Register's office, that the consideration is $44,000, and this apparently ends all further litigation in regard to the property.

Some very fine property, both vacant and improved, will be offered in the Salesroom during the coming week. On Monday, Mr. Bernard Smyth will offer, by order of the Supreme Court, ten lots on Tenth avenue and Two Hundred and Thirteenth street; eighteen lots on Ninth avenue and Two Hundred and Fifteenth street, and twelve lots on Two Hundred and Fifteenth and Two Hundred and Sixteenth streets.

The most important sale of this week, however, is the one announced by Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son, for Thursday next, of property in the Tenth, Twelfth and Thirteenth Wards. The sale, we are positively informed, will be peremptory, and we must honestly state that it is but seldom that such an excellent chance for investment is offered at auction. By referring to our advertising columns, it will be seen that it is an executor's sale, which includes valuable East Side improved property, paying immediate returns, as well as some vacant property in the upper section of the city. The same firm will sell, on Tuesday, No. 161 Broadway, and, on Saturday next, by order of the receiver, Stephen V. White, the banking building formerly used by the Grocers' Bank, at the northwest corner of Barclay street and College place.

Some East Side property, notably on Fifth street and Lexington avenue, will be sold, on Thursday, by Mr. R. V. Harnett, while, on the same day, Mr. Peter F. Meyer, will dispose of several choice lots on One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street and One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, also of some business property on Greenwich street.

We also desire to call attention to a sale of Cannon street property, which is to be conducted by E. H. Ludlow & Co., on Tuesday next.

A large sale of West End or Eleventh avenue property will be made by Mr. Harnett at the end of this month, but not until he has disposed of the Carman estate, on the 25th instant.

An important, sale by order of the executors of Mrs. D. W. Mason's estate, will be held at the Commercial Exchange, Brooklyn, by James Cole's Son on Tuesday next, comprising property on Bridge street, Duffield street and Greene avenue. For further particulars see advertising columns.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

The market, compared to the transactions of the previous three weeks, has been flat and stale, and unprofitable to many brokers. Whatever the cause, whether the stormy weather or something else, there has been a lull in the transactions at private contract. Investors have had a chance to reflect, and they have apparently lost nothing by reflecting. Some claim that prices have been marked up somewhat too rapidly of late and hence welcome the hiatus in the market, even though it be of short duration. There has been plenty of talk in and around Pine street and many contracts drawn up ready for signature, but somehow or other in many instances buyers and sellers have failed to come to terms, notwithstanding the energetic efforts of numerous brokers. Rumors abound of course, but even these are not worth the printer's ink, unless they have some sort of authentic basis, and hence we omit them. The principal sales made at private contract during the week are the following:

Northwest corner of Eighth avenue and Seventy-first street, four lots sold by Mr. Dixon for the Republic Fire Insurance Company at $65,000. There are two lots on the avenue and two on the street, the two avenue lots being figured together at $49,000, and the two street lots at $16,000.

Messrs. Lespinasse & Friedman have sold, at private contract, the block bounded by One Hundred and Fifty-first and One Hundred and Fifty-second streets, Eighth avenue and McComb's Dam road, 200x144x226x237, for $28,000 cash.

The same firm closed a contract yesterday for the sale of the southwest corner of Eighth avenue and One Hundred and Ninth street (100x100), four lots for $45,000 cash.

Several sales have also been effected during the week by L. J. & I. Phillips, but particulars could not be obtained.

It is now understood that the Moller mansion, at the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Thirty-second street, recently resold, as stated in these columns, for $160,000, for business purposes, has been secured by the well known firm of Duncan & Sons. This is an innovation that will startle Fifth avenue, but, nevertheless, there are very few families in that vicinity who will object to having fine groceries so handy for purchase.

The Manhattan Life Insurance Company have sold at private contract during the week twenty six lots at Seventh avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street at terms the particulars of which have as yet been kept strictly private.

Mr. Doying, the builder, who recently sold his houses on Sixty-seventh and Sixty-sixth streets, between Madison and Park avenues, has purchased three lots on the south side of Sixty-seventh street, 150 feet east of Fifth avenue, for $28,000 each, from Mr. H. R. Bishop.

Mr. Bernard Smyth has sold during the week the following houses at private contract: No. 11 East Thirty-eighth street and 16 East Thirty-ninth street for $68,000, also No. 240 East Seventy-second street, a three-story brown stone house, for $12,000.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending March 12:

AN EXTENSIVE GRATE WAREHOUSE AND FACTORY.

The business of manufacturing ornamental grates for the numerous modern houses now in course of construction all over the country has assumed such vast proportions that we were not surprised to learn that the eminent Canal street firm of J. S. Conover & Co. found their premises at the old stand too contracted to enable them to fill with satisfaction all the orders that pour in upon them. They have been compelled, therefore, to secure another building in addition to the Canal street warerooms, so as to find elbow room for their extensive business. At the latter place the show and salesrooms now are not invaded by workmen, thus giving ample space to the various salesmen to display the numerous designs of grates emanating from the artistic brain of the gentleman who has special charge of this department. He alone, of all the workmen, occupies as yet a room in the Canal street establishment, the remaining floors being exclusively devoted to the display of grates, ranging all the way from eleven dollars to eight and nine hundred. The sight, though an instructive one, as showing the immense quantity of shapes and designs in which grates can be manufactured, is indeed a bewildering one when it is considered that, after all, these grates are all intended only for one purpose, the ornamentation of the fire place. One of the most notable features on our visit to the warerooms was the elaborate display of brass open fireplaces with andirons and basket grates and the apparatus pertaining thereto, such as fenders, fire-irons, wood boxes, coal hods, made in brass of artistic designs. How a builder or house owner can ornament the various fire places in his building to the greatest advantage, can best be explained by a visit to the Canal street warerooms, which are, no doubt, the most extensive of the kind in the country.

The new factory of the concern, located at Bank street, Bleecker street and Abingdon square, was visited on Tuesday last by a representative of THE RECORD, and, through the kindness of the manager, he was shown all over the premises. The factory, which has a frontage of 100 feet on Bleecker street, and 50 on Bank street, is six stories high, each floor being devoted to a separate department. The grinding, polishing, and the soap stone works are all attended to on the first floor, while the second floor, though for the greater part devoted to the shipping, is really, in itself, a branch warehouse. The packing of the stock, which requires considerable care and attention, is done on the third floor. The fourth and fifth floors are occupied by workmen who attend to the brass finishing, nickel plating, gilding and polishing. Here a great deal of skilled labor is employed, which requires considerable supervision and watchfulness. The iron finishing, and, in fact, the general grate finishing and japanning is done on the sixth floor. No less than 125 hands are employed in this factory alone, where steam power is used to accelerate the operations of the various workmen.

If architects, builders and owners generally would pay a visit to these establishments, both to the factory and the Canal street warerooms, they would consider themselves well repaid for their trouble. The numerous variations in this particular line of trade, constitute, indeed, a subject of valuable study.

In our notice of the excellent houses built by Breen & Nason, printed in THE RECORD last week, our types made us say that the halls were laid with marble tiling, while it was the intention of the writer to state that the halls were laid with encaustic tiles. These were obtained from the enterprising firm of Thos. Aspinwall & Son, 604 Broadway, which concern also furnished them for the various fire-places.

General Egbert L. Viele, known all the country over as an expert in topography, has just removed his office to 139 Broadway, first floor, rear, next door to THE RECORD office. Thus, by his simple involuntary action, the popular engineer approves of the excellent topography surrounding our business domicile. The readers of THE RECORD are to be congratulated that their favorite weekly is published in a locality endorsed by an expert like General Viele.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS—The market for Common Hards has not been very active, and an irregular sort of tone prevailed on the business accomplished. The condition of the weather has to some extent tended to check demand, and in addition to this a great many consumers were very fairly supplied from the comparatively free purchases induced by the first break on values two or three weeks ago. In the meantime, the arrivals were sufficiently liberal to form quite an accumulation afloat, and with most of the advantages thus in their favor, buyers have very naturally assumed all the indifference possible in the effort to obtain easier terms. More or less success has attended this plan and the cost is off somewhat since the day of our last report on all grades. The principal offering has continued to come from the Haverstraw yard, and for these as high as $9.75 per M was obtained where the customer was hasty or careless in negotiation, but a close, careful buyer could operate at $9.50, and a few have even obtained cargoes at $9.25 per M. Moderate arrivals of "Up Rivers" took place and these averaged about $9.00, but occasionally dropped to $8.75 per M. As the above figures are based upon actual sales they must as a matter of course be accepted as a true representation of market value for the time being, and certainly the best to be obtained on any effort to realize. Yet to cover the entire position it may be added, that certain of the manufacturers are stiffly holding their stock at the yards for a price equivalent to about $11.00 per M. here, and seem to think they will eventually get it. We hear of no recent arrivals from Long Island. For Pale Brick the demand very good and the position steady at $7.00 to $7.50 per M. for the general run of the offering. Fronts are scarce and nominally unchanged.

CEMENT.—A strong market is retained on domestic and full former rates are supported without much difficulty. The present outlet is supplied from carried over lots, which are in small accumulation and no new stock has as yet been reached. Foreign grades continue in much favor and at full rates, with importers in many cases much behind with their orders for want of stock.

HARDWARE—The general market continues to show a good degree of animation, with the expression almost universally cheerful and confident among dealers. Builders' Hardware of all kinds, Mechanics' Tools, Garden and Agricultural Implements, Plumbers' supplies, etc., etc., are meeting with a steady call, and there is thought to be no reason to expect a decided abatement for some time to come. Business, however, is not making much headway, and competition commences to grow a little sharper among sellers, which checks buoyancy on values in most cases. Indeed, on screws has led to a slight reduction as shown by the following revised list of the American Screw Company: Home Trade—Domestic List—Flat Head Iron 10 per cent discount, Round Head do 30 per cent do, Flat Head Brass 30 per cent do, Round Head Brass 15 per cent do. Foreign Trade Export List—Flat Head Iron, "American," 65 per cent; Flat Head Iron, "Continental," 70 per cent discount. At a meeting of the Lock Manufacturers, the list prices of Mineral Porcelain and other Door Knobs, Bell Pulls and Escutcheons were reduced 20 per cent., and the discount changed from 33 1/3 per cent to 30 per cent. Locks were advanced to 30 per cent discount without changing list. The manufacturers of Cabinet Locks have resumed the list in use prior to March 1st, 1879, making an advance on some of the cheaper grades. Trunk Locks have advanced to list net.

LABOR.—There is a doubtful and nervous tone regarding the cost of labor, but rather over what may come than from anything as yet positively developed in the building trades. Contractors generally expect and are prepared to pay a fair advance to all classes of workmen, but it is feared that the moguls of the alleged trade unions will "resolve" that this is not enough and proceed in the usual form to attempt extorting something more. An advance in the price of labor in fact is simply a matter of course, both natural and just, in view of the increased cost of living, but the difficulty to be apprehended is that the attempt to force the advance too rapidly will greatly reduce the amount of building operations, and prove quite as detrimental to the workman as any one else interested. Whenever the working classes have a real grievance it should meet with prompt sympathy and relief and we heartily endorse the sentiments of the leading commercial journal of the city which in commenting of the reported attempt of a large manufacturing concern to take advantage of the necessities of some three thousand working men and women in its employ remarks: "Any firm that would make it a condition of employment that their employees should sign an agreement consenting to have their homes searched at any time by the agents of the firm, and contracting not to hold the firm responsible for injuries to life and limb received in its employ, exhibits a want of decent respect for the rights and character of their work people that justly exposes them to public reprobation. Men who would thus compel their employees to sign away their rights to privacy and justice, as a condition of their earning bread, are unworthy the name of American citizens."

The Bricklayer's Union, at a recent meeting, resolved to ask for only $3 per day after the first Monday in April and as this is what contractors had calculated upon it will no doubt be paid.

LATH.—Some little irregularity has prevailed, but, in general, the turn of the market was downward and a further shading on cost of 25c. per M. may be noted. A large proportion of the recent arrivals were previously sold on contract and have gone directly into yard, and this saved some pressure, but the quantity seeking an outlet was rather in excess of demand from really anxious buyers, and to effect sales receivers were compelled to give way. Early in the week $2.50 per M. was secured but subsequently the cost dropped off to $2.25 per M. and at the latter rate the market closed without any remarkable showing of strength.

LIME.—There is really nothing new at the moment. A first rate demand prevails, which would exhaust more stock than is available at the moment, and, with this advantage, sellers are naturally enabled to maintain full former rates without difficulty. There is said to be only limited amounts coming from the Eastward and of State stock the receipts are merely of parcels brought in by rail.

LUMBER.—A somewhat careful tone may still be noticed among buyers on the wholesale market, and there is evidently a disposition to take matters a little more coolly than a week or so ago. With the exception of some falling off in the export demand, however, we do not think the actual wants of the market have, in any way, decreased, and there is every reason to believe that the expectations of a large business will be realized during the season now about opening. As noted in our last, hopes are entertained that the resumption of navigation, coastwise and inland, may have the effect to increase offerings from manufacturers and holders shut off during the winter and anxious to secure some of the high rates, and the policy, therefore, is to give the demand an appearance of indifference in order to create, if possible, sufficient competition among sellers to lead to a modification of values. It does not look at present as if this plan would work very well. Prices are no doubt high enough to attract supplies, but the trouble will be to get the supplies in full enough quantity to form a surplus accumulation. There is very little of desirable quality to come from interior points; every mill South and East, whose owners have been willing to accept orders, will be busy for many weeks in meeting contracts, and the fresh calls they have refused so frequently of late will unquestionably seek the new sources of supply the moment they are available.

How manufacturers are to get stuff to "rush forward" is, therefore, a problem not easily solved. Granting, however, that supplies offered do prove as liberal as some hope, but scarcely venture to predict, it is a question if competition does not come from the buying rather than the selling interest, as the amount in yard is of remarkably small proportions and the places to "put" lumber were never so plentiful. The "boom" on prices is evidently checked in many cases, but this appears to be the only real advantage buyers have gained or are likely to hold from the present outlook.

Spruce at the date of our last had gone off a trifle from extreme figures, but has since made no further loss, and now rules quite steady. Buyers find that the bulk of the shipments made from the Eastward of late, are simply on contract, and that the liberal chartering of vessels is for the same class of cargoes, so that the chances of increased offering on open market are not much improved. Such randoms, therefore, as could be offered found ready sale, and more are wanted at $16@17, or a trifle more for choice, and there is an increased call for specials at $17@18, and up to $19 for extra difficult.

White Pine continues in a very firm position, and dealers all speak in the most confident terms. The export demand has received something of a check of late, but with a shipment of 12,160,000 feet from this port for the first two months of the year, against 8,114,000 feet for same period in 1879, and considerable amounts still loading, this outlet has certainly been a gratifying one, and has materially reduced the comparatively small accumulation on which trade commenced. In fact, holders in many cases expect to be pretty well cleaned out of stock before an opportunity is offered them for securing additions. On smaller orders more or less will still be wanted for export, while in addition to this the home trade is making heavy drafts, both for local and near by consumption, with quite a call from small country towns and cities, whose stocks are exhausted. Advices from primary points all speak of small supplies and high prices. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine remains quiet, but we find this to be due more to the fact that buyers cannot obtain supplies than because they do not want them. Every mill at the South, capable of turning out desirable stock, is under contract for all it can produce until well into the summer, and could secure many more orders were the owners willing to accept. The call for local use and for near-by consumption, operating through this market, is of itself a liberal outlet, and, beside this, there is an immense amount under engagement for Great Britain, with more or less call from South American and West India buyers. Indeed, the growing importance of this class of lumber is every day more manifest, and it is proving a source of much wealth to the South. The receipts at this port for the first two months of this year were 18,219,000 feet, against 12,293,000 feet same time 1879, the bulk coming in on contract. The latest random available sold at $24 and $26 per M., the latter for an attractive parcel of flooring, and buyers would repeat the bids if they had the chance. We quote random cargoes at about $23.50@26 per M.; ordered cargoes, $25@27 do; green flooring boards, $23.50@24.50 do, and dry do do, $25@26. Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $15@17 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods remain rather quiet, but the offering small, and holders firm at extreme rates on all kinds. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $7@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $3@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, 1/2 and 3/4 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Among the yards the business is first rate, and where dealers complain of a dull tone is attributed to a want of stock rather than an absence of demand. Values, of course, are full and well supported all around.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am. barque, 575 tons, hence to Montevideo or Buenos Ayres, $13 per M for lumber; an Am. ship, 1,015 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Liverpool, deals, about 57s.; a Nor. barque, 580 tons, from Doboy to Cork and United Kingdom or Continent, hewn timber, 35s.; a Nor. barque, 422 tons, from Doboy to Cork for orders United Kingdom or Continent, hewn timber, 35s., direct port 32s 6d.; a Nor. barque, 420 tons, from Brunswick to Cork for orders to the United Kingdom or Continent, deals, 45 7s. 6d., direct port 45 5s.; a Nor. barque, from Savannah to Rio Janeiro, 200 M lumber, at or about $17; a barque, 612 tons, from Pensacola to North Side Cuba, lumber, $8; a schr, 329 tons, from Pensacola to Matanzas, lumber, $8; a schr, 378 tons, hence to Matanzas, empty hogsheads, 70c; a schr, 218 tons, from Wilmington to Porto Rico, lumber, $9; a schr, 184 tons, from Neuvas to New York, cedar, $9 per M feet; a Nor. barque, 409 tons, hence to Hamburg, black walnut, &c., private terms; a schr, 122 tons, from St. John, N. GENERAL LUMBER NOTES, STATE.

The Troy Times says:

The presence of New York lumber buyers in the local market accompanies the opening of navigation, and indicates light stocks in the metropolis. Vessels are loading along the docks, and the season of shipment has fairly begun. The spring trade opens with advancing prices. The low water of last year limited the production of mills, and dry lumber is scarce and its value tends upward. The product of present mill operations is too green to be suitable for working before September. The condition of the market is illustrated by an offer made by a West Troy dealer, who tendered to a large owner of Michigan lumber an advance of $2 on last year's prices for 2,000,000 feet. The offer was refused. Another dealer in the same village has sold a large quantity of lumber at Bay City, Mich., at an advance of 40 per cent. on last season's values. The revival of building activity works with the scarcity of stock in producing a buoyant feeling in the market.

THE WEST.

We have received from A. H. Hitchcock, Secretary of the Chicago Lumberman's Exchange, his regular report of stocks on hand, with comparisons, from which we condense the following:

Stock of lumber and timber on hand at dates named:

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, March 2, 1880.

The market remains in about the same condition as formerly reported. There is sufficient inquiry to keep it firm and sales enough to establish prices. The sales are principally of lumber to be cut, the stock in the market being pretty much cleaned out. Sales have been reported of 2,000,000 feet at $6.75, $13.50 and $30. 500,000 feet at same figures, and 500,000 at $6.50, $13 and 30. Some small sales at better figures have been made. The impression prevails that the present freeze up will not last long and navigation will open up and the mills be running within two weeks. The yard men are having good trade and shipments by rail are considerable. Prices on salt and shingles are unchanged, and about the former activity prevails.

We quote cargo rates:

Three upper qualities	$30 00@32 00
Common	13 00@14 00
Shipping culls	6 50@7 00
Lath	1 1¢@1 50
Shingles	1 25¢@2 65

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, } CHICAGO, March 4, 1880.

Trade for the past week is reported in fair volume, orders being received to an extent fully indicative of the heretofore expressed belief of a much increased season's business. Stocks are badly broken and each day but adds to the shortage on certain grades. With no receipts, it is manifest that no possible sorting up can be undertaken, and exchanges among themselves have operated to reduce the stocks of all to about a common condition of barrenness. Inquiry develops a great lack of 1st and 2d common siding strips—especially of 1st—also of 12 feet common boards. While one dealer may lack in a grade of which his neighbor holds a good stock, it is unquestionable that in the grades named all the yards share in the shortage.

Advices from St. Louis and upper Mississippi river points indicate a shortage upon these same grades. St. Louis yards being sadly deficient in stocks of sidings and boards. In fact, about the only stock reported from that quarter as being in good or fair supply is dimension stuff. We have the same report from Rock Island and Davenport, qualified with the statement that even in this grade the yards are short of many sizes. The trade for February proved much larger than was anticipated, not only at this but at the river points where the comparison is made of a greater trade by 33½ per cent than for the corresponding month of last year. It is, perhaps, unfortunate that an impression is gaining ground at some points west of the Mississippi that Chicago dealers are—to use an expression we have heard in connection with this subject—"getting shaky," and are weakening on the price list. Offers said to have been made by Chicago drummers have had a decided tendency to produce this impression, and we learn that this, taken in connection with an impression left by the action of the late convention, which it was expected by Western dealers would advance prices, but on the contrary resolved that the stocks of the coming season would prove ample and that an advance would be impolitic, impressed the west with the idea that in place of a further advance a decline might be expected, and we have reports of a considerable holding off on the part of buyers as the result.

We note in our freight quotations a reduction from Chicago to Council Bluffs from 25 cents to 21¼ cents, and to Omaha, from 30 to 27½ cents. Eastern freights remain unchanged until March 31.

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, } MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 3, 1880 }

The boom continues to grow and promises greater things with the approach of Spring. Sales of lumber at all reporting points on the river are heavier than ever before known for February. Since the reduction in freights rates, Chicago trade is reported better for the week, but the bad condition of the roads of Illinois & Mo interfere with the trade. The Rock Island & Pacific has reduced its rates to the Missouri from 20 to 17 cents, and other lines are expected to meet the emergency soon. The Lumber Line continues to do a good business and excites a good deal of uneasiness in Chicago, and at river points below notwithstanding the stocks at Eau Claire, and along the line are exceedingly light.

The warm weather promises to cut the logging operations short and leave the stock of logs greatly behind the estimates in all three of the States, particularly Michigan, but with sufficient to supply a heavy demand.

A very firm market is noted at Minneapolis, and some dealers have advanced prices on dry flooring and fencing 50¢@$1 per thousand feet, but the advance is not general, and we make no change in price list. The snow fall of last week has prolonged the season for logging so that well informed parties assure us fully 2,000,000 feet of logs will be put in for the Spring drive.

THE EAST.

The Hartford Times has the following:

The Connecticut River Lumber Company are disturbed at a bill that has received a favorable report by the judiciary committee of the Massachusetts legislature. It is an unjust bill, and it is to be hoped that Massachusetts will not adopt an act so manifestly unjust to sister States as well as to individuals. The bill forbids the driving of logs in the Connecticut River below a point ten rods above a wharf in Holyoke. This is transparent. Its object is plain enough. The company had prepared to saw 13,000,000 feet of lumber in Connecticut next winter. To force it to saw all this lumber at their mills in Massachusetts is the object of the bill. The pretext for it is the injury the floating logs do to row and sail boats at Springfield as the logs are passing there. The lumber company always pay any such damage. Good legal counsel decide that the proposed law would be unconstitutional if passed, as it would interfere with United States navigation laws touching waters that flow through more than one State. These logs cannot be rafted, for the reason that in drafts they could not pass through the Enfield canal nor over the Holyoke dam, nor over the Enfield falls. To stop the drives (loose logs) would simply be to stop the great and important interest of working up a part of the company's lumber in the State of Connecticut, the larger part being worked in Massachusetts. The lumber company is a Connecticut corporation, with a quarter of a million dollars of capital; they own large tracts of land in Maine and New Hampshire, and the Massachusetts act, if passed, would greatly damage, if not destroy, the important interests in those States as well as those in Connecticut. It can hardly be assumed that Massachusetts will take such a step when the facts in the case are understood.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trade's Journal says of the London market:

There is still a great amount of business being carried on among the trade at a very small advance upon last year's prices. This is some evidence that the demand has not attained any very great proportions, hitherto amongst retailers, whatever it may be among the wholesale houses. Large holders or rather those who purchased largely last year, both by private and public sale, are now able to sell profitably old stock at a minimum advance, though there can be no doubt, had the demand been of that brisk character that some whose wish is father to the thought would have us believe, this would have been different, and on the assumption that most of the yards are only moderately filled, there is really no reason why last season's purchases should not go in the market at the full advance on fresh season goods that are now current. This disposition to press sales is not necessarily any evidence of prices weakening, and may be taken more as an indication of the slow progress the trade makes in its steps toward recovery from the depression it has so long groaned under.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot, since our last report, has shaded somewhat on cost, but at the reduction there was no special effort to realize, and holders now show a somewhat steadier tone. We quote at 23¼@23½ cash, and 24@24½ future delivery, for Lake Manufactured copper retains a firm position all around, and is having a pretty good sale on the regular outlets. We quote as follows: Brazier's copper, ordinary size over 16 oz per square foot, 34¢ per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per sq foot, 36¢ per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz. per sq foot 38¢ per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz per sq foot, 40¢ per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 37¢ per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 40¢ per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 37¢ per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 34¢ per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 32¢ per lb, and Bolt Copper, 34¢ per lb. Iron—Cotch Pig has not been much sought after, the arrivals were free, and under a continued accumulation of stock prices favored the buyer, closing unsettled. We quote at about $30@33.50 per ton, according to brand and quantity. American Pig is dull and uncertain, with both buyers and sellers apparently afraid to move. This, with an accumulation of stock at the furnaces, has a weakening influence on values, and supplies could probably be reached lower. We quote at $40@40.50 per ton for No 1: $38@39 do for No. 2; and $37.50@38.50 for forge. Rails have been rather quiet, but there is not much of an effort made to hasten business on the part of sellers, and values are about steady. We quote at $65@70 for iron, and $83@85 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails $40@43 per ton; scrap, $41@44. Manufactured iron not very active, and while quoted about as before, occasional sales are said to be making "a little lower." Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes at 3.7 from store, and Refined at 4¢; wrought beams at 4¢@4.7¢. Fish plates quoted at 3.8¢; track bolt and nuts 4.5¢; railway spikes, ¼@5½¢, tank, 4.8¢; horseshoe, 4.7¢; angle, 4.3¢; best flange 6.3¢; and domestic sheet on the basis of 5@5¼, for common, 10 to 20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices with 1-10¢ less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig has found a slow and somewhat uncertain market, with the turn rather in buyers' favor, though concessions are not free. We quote 6@6½¢. The manufacturers of lead are firm and quoted: Bar, 7½¢; Pipe, 8½¢, and Sheet, 9¢, less than the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15¢. Block Tin pipe, 45¢ on same terms. Tin—Pig has met with quite decided neglect, and under an accumulation of supplies the tone of the market continues weak and unsettled. We quote at 23¼@24¢, for Banca, 23¼@24¢, for Straits, 23¼@24¢, for English Refined, 21¼@21½¢, for do. Common. Tin Plates have sold in a slow, uncertain manner, and the market had a downward turn generally until of late when a few holders manifested a slight inclination to resist further concessions. We quote 1. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, $9.25@9.37½ for Allaway grade, and $9.37½@9.50 for Melyn grade; I. C. Coke $7.50@7.62½ for B. V. grade; $7.62½@7.75 for Yspitilly grade; charcoal terne, $8.50@8.75 for Allaway grade, 14x20; $17.00@17.62½ for do., 20x28; Coke terne, $7.25@7.50 for Glais grade, 14x20, and $15.50@16.00 for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelters selling moderately, but half pretty steadily, and offered with care. Quoted 6½@6¾¢, according to brand. Sheet zinc remains steady and finds a fair demand at 8¼@8½¢, according to quantity.

NAILS.—The general market continues to be supported by union of action among holders, who offer stock moderately and refuse to negotiate except upon a basis of extreme rates. The demand lacks animation from most sources and buyers appear to be in a mood to handle only just so much stock as will suit their immediate wants. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.65; 6d and 7d, common do per keg, $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.15; 3d and 4d, light per keg, $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.65; 2d per keg, $7.90. Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.90. Floor casing and box, $6.15@6.90. Finishing, $6.70@7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¼ to 1½ in.	2 & 2½ in.	2½ & 2¾ in.	3 in. & longer.
$7.90@8.00	$7.40	$7.15	$6.90 per keg.

OILS.—The consumptive demand has been steady with rather a tendency to increase, and while slight irregularity is shown on values the general turn is in buyers favor. We quote Linseed oil at 81@83¢ from crushers hands.

PAINTS.—Business continues in very good shape and is gradually growing in volume. Local consumption is especially promising and deslers count upon a full line of sales for all the really seasonable goods. As yet there is an ample stock in both first and second hands, but no surplus apparent on any description, and holders have good control, values are well sustained and there is no indication that any important concessions could be secured.

PITCH.—Demand not active, and in the main confined to the ordinary run of small parcels required on regular trade wants. Supplies fair and held at about former figures. We quote at $2@2.12½ per bbl. for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—The demand for consumption has been pretty full, and there appears to be more anxiety among buyers in view of the comparatively full cost of supplies. The wholesale market has been stimulated by speculative manipulations and some call for export, with offerings reduced. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 48@49¢ per gallon, according to the quantity of the stock handled.

TAR.—Holders continue to maintain a very fair control over the supply, and the line of valuation is, in consequence, quite full, and the effort to realize indifferent. Stocks are somewhat larger, but by no means excessive. We quote at $2@2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2@2.25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

IN THE INTEREST OF MINING INVESTORS.

Our readers will remember that THE REAL ESTATE RECORD was among the first journals in this city to predict the mining "boom," which is just now under way. More than a year ago we stated that mining ventures would probably be the coming mania. In speculative times there is always some particular lunacy prevailing in the community, which is taken advantage of by shrewd and consciousnessless operators to line their own pockets at the expense of the investing public.

The time has now come to raise a cry of warning. Mining is as legitimate an industry as farming, manufacturing or any other human industry, but, unhappily, the association of mining with stock operations has always resulted, in every community, in a gambling mania followed by loss to all but the lucky or dishonest few. Gold and silver mines have, no doubt, on the whole, been worked for the benefit of mankind, but we must remember that the great gambling eras have been brought about mainly by speculation in these necessary products of the mineral world. The Pacific Coast to-day is suffering from its experience in mining speculations. It resulted there in a change of the organic law in the State of California, intended to put a stop to the abuses connected with the manipulation of mines. This result has been to send on to the East a swarm of people who are determined to plunder the citizens of the Atlantic Coast, as they have in times past those of the Pacific Coast. The Fifth Avenue Hotel, the Sturtevant House as well as other hostelrys on Broadway are thronged with these people and certainly a more unsavory looking lot of rascals was never seen outside of Sing Sing. The remarkable thing in connection with this invasion of these vandals from the Pacific Coast is the readiness with which our merchants, bankers and leading capitalists permit themselves to be associated with them in the public prints and in enterprises of a very questionable character. With a hope of immediate profits, Presidents of Colleges, Banks, Directors in our fiduciary institutions and men of means are quite willing to act as officers in companies with associates who came here tainted with infamous records.

For a while, the daily press kept aloof from this mania, but now we see so respectable a paper as the New York Tribune together with the World both cultivating this business for the sake of the advertisements and are helping to delude, innocently of course, the community into investing in the practically worthless shares of mines now offered on this market. We make no charges against the press. Newspapers are published to make money. The leading editors, themselves, know very little about a business such, for instance, as mining. All they are cognizant of is that the public has become interested; that mines are offered for sale and that the patronage of the mining interest is very lucrative and promises to be more so. Already a swarm of sheets are published in the interest of mining, and when the daily press takes hold of the matter it really becomes very grave. Of course the newspapers have not got the knowledge even if they had the will to tell the truth about all the properties that are put upon the market. They are virtually drawn into a conspiracy with the rascals who are "rigging" the market. It is not by any means the best properties that do the most advertising, but the worst, and it is the company which advertises the most liberally which is noticed the most favorably by the newspapers. Our readers should hear in mind that in a great gambling speculation, as this mining is going to be, the newspapers are necessarily on the side of the thieves. They manage to increase the excitement and every story calculated to help the sale of the stock is eagerly copied by the press, more especially if the stock happens to be advertised in their columns. What is needed to-day is some one journal as far as it knows, to tell the truth about mining properties. THE RECORD is fortunate in having for one of its contributors a gentleman who is thoroughly posted; who has visited most of the mining regions of the country and who has no interest but to tell the truth. We propose to devote a certain portion of our space to this information. The aim will be, in a dispassionate and straightforward manner, to analyse the reports that are made, examine carefully the published statements of all mining properties seeking a market in New York, and we expect to be "nothing if not critical." We have no stock in this matter to "hull" or "hear." Our canvassers have been instructed not to go near mining companies or to solicit their patronage. We repudiate in advance any persons, claiming to represent THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, soliciting advertisements in favor from any mining corporation in this city or out of it. We believe, to-day, that investments in real estate are retarded by the prevailing mania for buying mines and mining shares. Literally, hundreds of millions of dollars are being abstracted from the East and sent out West to develop the distant regions of Arizona, Idaho, Montana, to say nothing of California, Dakota and Colorado, which might be better employed here at home in real estate investments. There is plenty of time to develop the outlying regions. We think that nine-tenths of the money sunk in sinking shafts will be worse than wasted. If any of our readers have hints on this subject we will be glad to profit by them, but we are determined that so great an interest as that of real estate shall not be lost sight of, because of this foolish scramble for the worthless shares of pretentious but dishonest mining properties.

THE HORSE CARS ABOVE FIFTY-NINTH STREET.

Mr. Cammann's suggestion, as approved by several property owners, to take the horse cars out of Eighth avenue, above Fifty-ninth street, and run them along the Ninth avenue, under the elevated road, ought to be countenanced by the railway companies. Mr. George Law, we understand, is not opposed to this change of base, and only recently stated that if public opinion manifested itself in a manner loud enough to be heard, there would not be much difficulty in arriving at a satisfactory transfer of the route of the horse railroad. An arrangement might easily be made to run the cars from the Eighth avenue circle along the tracks of the belt line, on Fifty-ninth street, and so on to Ninth avenue, and, as Mr. George Law controls the Eighth avenue as well as the Ninth avenue road, there ought to be no obstacle to this change, which is so much desired, not only by Eighth avenue owners, but by residents of the extreme West Side. The company itself will also be the gainer by this change of route, as more passengers will avail themselves of the facilities offered for short trips, after leaving the various stations of the elevated roads below One Hundred and Tenth street.

Another surface road, for which, we believe, the Broadway and Seventh Avenue Company possesses the franchise, should be built along upper Broadway and the Boulevard. It is about time that the rickety stage which traverses that route from Thirty-fourth street upward should be done away with and the residents of that section be furnished with accommodations for travel more congenial to the spirit of the times. It will also increase the business of the stores that are accumulating in the upper part of Broadway and will certainly not be objected to by Boulevard property-owners, as that thoroughfare is destined to be filled after all with first class retail establishments, for the simple reason that it is a continuation of Broadway.

THE EIGHTH AND NINTH WARDS.

It is singular that just about the time that there is greater activity in the purchase of vacant lots in the upper part of the island, there should also be a revival of interest in the property of two of the oldest wards of the city. We have already pointed out in these columns how the constant growth of the commerce of New York calls for more room to accommodate the numerous new firms and combinations continually forming in our midst. Greene street, Wooster street and even Mercer street, along with Prince and Bleecker streets, are now more and more sought after by shrewd investors, owing to this demand for more warehouse room. Steadily and without any ostentation builders are actively at work in metamorphosing the whole of the Eighth Ward, and as each new building is completed there seems to be no scarcity of tenants. They are all being occupied one after another so that a man who has not visited that section, say for a twelve month, finds himself suddenly in a region virtually new to him.

The agitation of the Washington Market question is also helping along the Ninth Ward or at least a portion of it. For blocks around the Gansevoort property, the effect of this change has already been felt to a certain degree. In the train of market men there always follow those who desire to furnish them with food and other requirements while on duty, and the lessons that have been learned in that line in the lower part of the city are not being overlooked by the Ninth Warders. A casual visit to the new market grounds must convince the most prejudiced mind that the spot selected for the market wagons certainly offers facilities which the farmers who used to block up the lower part of the city at most unseasonable hours never enjoyed there. Whether, however, the wholesale Washington Market, so called, will ever be thoroughly transplanted to the Ninth Ward is a matter of some doubt on the part of numerous persons well versed in that line of business. There are even those who state that the wholesale business is now in such a shape in this city that it requires no market at all. The heavy dealers who receive their consignments and cargoes of fruit, game and what not from other parts of the Union maintain that they can as well transact their business in the stores along Washington and Greenwich streets, leaving the market business proper to the middlemen and small farmers from the suburbs. This is a solution of a question that has created considerable feeling of late in and around Washington Market, and may be the final upshot of the entire controversy. One thing is sure, however, the New York of to-day will not tolerate any longer the Vesey and West street abomination, and even if only part of the trade moves up to the Gansevoort property, that trade is large enough to infuse new life into that locality and renewed hope in the minds of the old timers of the Ninth Ward.

By referring to the review of the real estate market, our Brooklyn readers will notice that THE RECORD does not overlook the good City of Churches. Some notable sales at private contract are reported there, and we congratulate our friends across the river that the era of activity has at last reached their city.

THE CARMAN ESTATE AND VICINITY.

General Egbert L. Viele is engaged just now in preparing a superb map of the Transvaal (across the valley), as he calls it, which includes all that portion of the city of New York lying north of the Manhattan valley, bounded on the east by the Harlem River, on the west by the Hudson, and terminating at the north in the steep declivity at the base of which lies Spuyten Duyvil Creek, or rather Two Hundred and Twentieth street. While conversing with the General in regard to that section of the city, and calling his attention to the fact that during the coming week some three hundred lots belonging to the old Carman estate were to be sold by Mr. Harnett, he frankly acknowledged, though deeply engrossed in business, that he really was full of the subject, meaning the Transvaal. "Why," he said, "Tenth avenue is to-day the greatest driving avenue from Manhattanville to Fort George. It is finer than any other drive in New York, with the exception, perhaps, of Riverside avenue. It has been carefully prepared by the Department of Public Works for driving, is kept in superb order, and every pleasant afternoon is thronged with elegant equipages. The view from the drive at Fort George of the Harlem River, and all its historical surroundings, is as fine as anyone could wish to see. The property on the line of this avenue is generally on the grade. Already there are some beautiful villas erected and the High Bridge Park, which is reached only by the way of this avenue, with its tower and the foot-walk along the bridge, is one of the most attractive spots for either our own residents, or for a stranger, to be found within or without the limits of New York."

EXCELLENT WORK IN SMALL HOUSES.

That a person can build the very best house for little money, on a small lot of ground, is now being shown by Mr. C. L. Cornish, who, though a real estate man, is a practical builder and has done some excellent work in that line. He is now finishing eight brown stone houses on the north side of Sixty-fourth street, between Fourth and Madison avenues, having a frontage ranging from 12.6 to 18 feet which are perfect gems. The stoops, rails, balusters are all of brown stone, the various stories are double floored, and the plumbing work is of first-class order. They are certainly the neatest houses of the kind we have seen recently, and the price asked for them ranges from $16,000 to $20,000 each, according to size.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iii, iv and v of advertisements.

A large number of public sales of improved as well as vacant property engaged the attention of the frequenters of the Exchange during the week. Quite a number of bargains were secured in certain localities, but, as a rule, most of the property disposed of brought fair prices. The sale of vacant lots along Two Hundred and Thirteenth, Two Hundred and Fifteenth, Two Hundred and Sixteenth streets, Ninth and Tenth avenues, passed off quite satisfactorily to buyers as well as bidders. Prices, it is true, ruled low, but it was a satisfaction to observe that there was, indeed, a market even for property which it had been difficult to sell at all a year ago. New investors, also, came to the front at this sale, as will be seen by the list at foot, and not a single lot was either bought in or withdrawn from sale. The sale on Thursday, by Peter F. Meyer, of vacant lots on One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, 235 feet west of Fifth avenue, caused a good deal of comment, owing to the excellent prices secured, the three lots being knocked down at $5,500 each to a builder and those on One Hundred and Twenty-second street, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, at $4,200 each.

A large number of capitalists watched the auction sale of 161 Broadway, by the Messrs. Muller. It was an offering of peculiar significance at a time that offices are so much sought after. The bidding, slow at first, subsequently increased rapidly by the five hundreds and thousands until $125,000 was reached. Then it began to drag and it was finally knocked down at $127,500 to the Greenwich Fire Insurance Company. It is reported that the annual income from this building, including lot in rear of No. 85 Liberty street, which was sold along with it, reaches over $16,000. Several houses on Sixty-third street, east of Madison avenue, were sold at auction during the week at prices ranging from $12,700 to $15,000.

Tenement property on East Thirty-sixth street and First avenue was sold by Mr. Harnett at fair prices, and No. 355 Lexington avenue, northeast corner of Fortieth street, for $17,900.

The sale of East Side property, forming part of the estate of the late James Horn, attracted a very large audience on Thursday, the Tenth and Thirteenth wards being fully represented by dealers and tradesmen. Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son had charge of the sale and they rapidly disposed of parcels on Chrystie, Orchard, Allen, Norfolk, Willett, Columbia, Goerck and Delancey streets at fair prices, particulars of which will be found below.

In Brooklyn, also, during the past week, Jacob Cole, the auctioneer, sold a number of pieces of improved property above the owners' limit, notably business property on Bridge street and several dwellings on Duffield street and Greene avenue.

With the opening of spring and the steady improvement in the real estate market, owners and executors now seem disposed to trust their property to the auction room, and, as will be seen by our advertising columns, the number of these sales is steadily increasing. On Thursday next takes place the great sale of the Carman estate, by Mr. Harnett, and in this connection we desire to call the attention of our readers to the views expressed in regard to that section of our city by the well-known General Viele, as printed in another column. There can be no doubt but the sale will attract the attention of investors generally. The Messrs. Phillips announce for the last day of the month an auction sale of over fifty choice building lots between Eighth and Ninth avenues, a section that is rapidly being taken up for immediate improvement by builders. We will refer more particularly to this property in our next issue.

On the same day an important partition sale of valuable Broadway property, corner of Prince street, will be held by E. F. Raymond, auctioneer, under the direction of Benjamin T. Kissam, referee. The property includes Nos. 560, 562, 564 and 566 Broadway, also Nos. 622 and 624 Broadway, known as the Olympic Theatre. Other valuable property on Fifth and Sixth avenues and Twenty-seventh street, fuller particulars of which are furnished in another column, by Messrs. Jackson & Martine, the attorneys, No. 140 Nassau street, will be offered by the same auctioneer.

During the same week some three hundred village lots and plots, dwellings and cottages, at Mount Kisco, a most lovely spot in Westchester County, will be sold at auction.

On Tuesday next, 22d inst., Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son will offer lots on Seventy-fourth street, east of Eleventh avenue; also other vacant property on Sixty-second and One Hundred and Forty-second streets, and also several buildings on Elm street; on Thursday, the same firm will offer four lots on One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street, near Fifth avenue. Improved property on Fourth avenue, Fortieth street and Fourth street, also the building corner Water and Fletcher streets, will be sold by Mr. Harnett on Tuesday next.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

For some time past, negotiations have been pending between the Catholic Church of the Diocese of New York and Columbia College for the sale of the block bounded by Fiftieth and Fifty-first streets, Fourth and Madison avenues. The College, however, did not come up to the demands of the Cardinal's representative, Mr. Wm. Kennelly, and that gentleman, on Tuesday last, finally closed the contract of sale to a Mr. Hanford, for $440,000. Mr. Hanford, however, represents another party, a private gentleman, whose name is at present withheld, at the request of the Church authorities. Mr. Kennelly assures us, however, that the property has been sold with restrictions, namely, nothing but first-class fine residences shall be erected on that block. In this connection, it will interest our readers to know that considerable progress is being made with the plans for the Cardinal's palace, in the immediate rear of the Cathedral, and which will face the block just sold. Owing to the limited space remaining on the Cathedral block, the Cardinal's residence can not be deep, but it will be made up in height and width. Some of the plans have just been finished by Mr. Renwick, the architect, and the Cardinal now has them under his examination for revision.

Aside of the above transaction the market was quite active during the week, several sales of more or less importance having been made at private contract in the upper part of the city. Mr. William Meyer has sold his sixteen lots on the west side of the Boulevard, between One Hundred and Twenty-first and One Hundred and Twenty-second streets, for $67,500. The following are the dimensions: 221.10x191.1x223.2x165.2.

An entire front, eight lots, on the east side of Fourth avenue, between Eighty-second and Eighty-third streets, 204.4x100, has been sold to Mr. Geo. Sheppard, by Mr. William Lalor, for about $70,000.

The entire front on the south side of One Hundred and Ninth street, between Lexington and Fourth avenues, and five lots on the southeast corner of Lexington avenue, making twenty-two lots in all, have been sold for $58,000.

Twelve lots on the south side of Seventieth street, between the Ninth avenue and the Boulevard, owned by Messrs. Lavenbergh & Brother, have been sold for these gentlemen, by Mr. Clancy, for $53,000, all cash.

Messrs. Scott & Myers have sold at private contract twenty-six lots on the west side of Seventh avenue, One Hundred and Twenty-seventh and One Hundred and Twenty-eighth streets, for $110,000; also two single lots on the north side of Sixty-fourth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $8,100 each; also six lots on the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-sixth street.

Mr. M. A. J. Lynch has sold at private contract, the southeast corner of Riverside avenue and Eighty-first street, 102 feet on the avenue, and 100 feet on the street, for $55,000, cash; also the southwest corner Seventh avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-second street, six lots for $32,000, and eight lots on the northwest corner of Tenth avenue and One Hundred and Thirty-ninth street, for $14,000, and resold them again for $17,250. The same broker has sold four lots on the south side of Ninety-eighth street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, but refuses to furnish the price at which the contract was closed.

Five lots on the southwest corner of Tenth avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-fifth street, have been sold by Mr. Jacob Hayes, the banker, for $11,000.

Mr. Edward Clark has purchased another lot on the north side of Eighty-fifth street, 275 feet west of Eighth avenue, for $8,000.

Breen & Nason have sold one of the houses on Sixty-seventh street, recently described in these columns, to a Chicago merchant, for $50,000. It is the house nearest the Fifth avenue.

To show the manner in which business is creeping up town, it will be seen elsewhere that Mr. John H. Sherwood has effected the lease of the store and basement of his building, on the southeast corner of Sixth avenue and Fifty seventh street, to Acker. Merrill & Condit, for ten years. The firm is to pay a rent of $6,000 per annum for the first five years, and $6,500 for the next five.

Mr. Vernon K. Stevenson, Jr., has sold at private contract, No. 246 Lexington avenue, near Thirty fifth street, for $17,000; No. 53 West Forty-fifth street for $17,750, and No. 57 East Fifty-fifth street, for $23,000.

From Brooklyn, cheering news reaches us as to revival of activity in the real estate market. In the report of auction sales, mentioned above, it will be seen that improvement has also set in at last, across the river. In addition to this, we also hear of a number of private sales in Brooklyn; among them the Thomas Hunt mansion, on the southeast corner of Remsen and Henry streets, to Mr. Henry Havemeyer, for $65,000, and the house adjoining, to Mr. Franklin Woodruff, late candidate for Mayor, for $45,000, also the house on the southwest corner of Hicks and Remsen streets, for $37,500. In vacant property also an advance is noticed. Mr. John A. Monsell has sold one of the four blocks of the Leferts estate, which he bought recently at a satisfactory increase in price. The block was sold for Mr. Monsell, by Mr. Jere Johnson, to Mr. Daniel Owens, for $500 per lot of 20x100, and is bounded by Tompkins and Throop avenues, Putnam avenue and Jefferson street. Mr. Monsell is now engaged in grading and sewerage the streets of the once famous Capitoline base-ball ground, preparatory to building on them.

HOMES FOR INVESTMENT ON FIFTY-THIRD STREET.

Messrs. J & G. Ruddell, builders of standing in this community, are now finishing three four-story brown stone houses on the south side of Fifty-third street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, well worthy the attention of buyers. When our representative visited these houses, on Wednesday morning last, he was shown over the premises by one of the Messrs. Ruddell, who happened to be busily engaged in personally superintending the numerous details connected with the completion of first-class residences. In so far, however, as they will be thoroughly finished in about thirty days from date, no fault could be found with the owner and builder whose time was entirely devoted to the mechanical success of these houses. Two of them have a frontage of 176 feet each and one 15 feet, but so completely has every inch of ground been taken advantage of, that, standing on the opposite side of the street, it is really difficult to tell which is the fifteen and which the seventeen-foot house. They are all four story brown stone and basement, and it must be admitted that the stonecutters, Messrs. Tate & Osborne, whose work has been heretofore noticed in these columns, have furnished a job there which not only reflects credit on their workmanship, but must be to them a standing recommendation to other owners and builders. The halls are all being laid with the most ornamental and expensive tiles that could be found in the establishment of Miller & Coates, and the reception rooms, parlors and dining rooms have all been finished with the most solid, and, at the same time, most artistic cabinet trimming. The builders are profuse in the praises of the assistance rendered them by Mr. Merriam, of Broadway, whose cabinet work displays the artistic taste that has guided his long business career in our city. Throughout those houses, however, there is everywhere evidence of solid and honest work—from the cellar floor, laid with asphaltum, gravel and concrete, to the upper stories, where, as well as in other parts, there are double floors everywhere. The extraordinary advantage that has been taken of the small frontage of the lots is something surprising, and the light and ventilation which, with the aid of the architect, Mr. Jardine, has been secured for the narrow floors, show not only care but ingenuity that is being thoroughly appreciated by all those who visit these houses. One more feature, to which we desire to call attention, is the manner in which the Messrs. Ruddell have looked, not only after the brick-work of these houses but the solidity in which they have caused the various beams to be laid. There is no danger here of any sagging, so securely have the beams been fastened by iron stirrups, in a manner peculiarly their own, as heretofore complaint has frequently been made, that, owing to the heavy upper part of a house, the lower beams would, in course of time, show a sagging of several inches. As already stated, the parlors and second floors are all finished in cabinet, the octagonal shape of the front and rear bedrooms, as well as the dining room on the parlor floor, relieving these houses greatly from the ordinary monotony as to shapes and sizes met with in other houses. Workmen are now engaged in finishing them, and investors who care at all to secure a first-class residence, at moderate prices in a locality where building lots are exceedingly scarce, cannot do better than to visit them. One of the Messrs. Ruddell is always on hand there, during business hours. The prices asked for the 17.6 foot houses are $40,000; for the 15 foot house, $35,000.

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS—Buyers have made a further gain on the market for Common Hards since our last report, and on about all the sales consummated lower prices were accepted. Especially was the tone heavy during the early portion of the week, the stormy weather and a great many of the workmen taking a holiday tending to materially reduce the demand, while at the same time the arrivals were full, including a great many barge loads, and the accumulations became somewhat uncomfortably liberal. After the concession, however, and with the promise of better weather, buyers came forward with rather greater freedom, and took enough to reduce the supply to a much more easily handled proportion, and this appears to have formed basis for a firmer and comparatively uniform tone prevailing, as we close our report, with a few cargoes limited a trifle above our figures. These may be given at about $8.25@8.50 per M. for Up Rivers, and $8.50@9.00 for Harverstraws with, however, not many really first class parcels offering. Indeed, all the choice and favorite makes are understood to be still held back on a limit materially above ruling figures here, and manufacturers confident that they must eventually realize expectations. Their policy has been to allow the poorer makes to come forward and become exhausted, so that the attraction of quality may be used as an additional aid in stimulating the advance all look for, before it will be possible for them to feel the competition from new stock. Pale brick are still quoted at about $7.50 per M., but the market does not appear to be over firm and, for the first time since the middle of last season, there appears to have been an accumulation of this class of stock exceeding the outlet. Fronts still without any regular market rate and figures are only nominal, but an offering of desirable quality would, no doubt, find favor at a pretty good price.

HARDWARE—Dealers are not so generally confident in their expression and the abatement of demand has evidently commenced to develop somewhat earlier than anticipated. The liberal amounts taken during the early portion of the year have given a fair supply and assortment to dealers located over a large section of the interior and the orders are now commencing to drop off. The approach of the time when lower freights may be expected also has an influence to make buyers less anxious. Local calls are fair but also moderating as about all near-by wants have been provided for. There is, however, a fair number of irregular orders coming in daily and these with deliveries on back contract, keep up a pretty full movement, all things considered. Values are generally quoted firm but close competition has an unsettling influence in a few cases. The manufacturers of Braces have adopted a uniform price for Nos. 117, 118 and 119, quoting $12, $13 and $14 respectively, with discount 50, 10 and 2½ per cent.

LATH.—The weakness noted at the close of our last report has continued, and if anything, increased, with the advantage still more or less in buyers favor as we write. The amount of stock available afloat has not been over large, and it is claimed that, with the high cost of freight and the drop in our market, manufacturers will reduce shipments, but a noticeable feature of the position is the absence of any general demand. A great many dealers are quite low in stock, but they seem to be in no hurry to replenish, and the surplus offering has to be taken up and added to the accumulation already held in a semi-speculative sort of way, simply as a matter of self-defense. Indeed, believers in higher prices are inclined to attribute last week's downward turn solely to the fact that certain operators, prominent on the market as buyers of a pretty full stock at high figures, were not on hand to take in stray cargoes out of the cold, and for that matter the operators themselves have made much the same admission, and also seem to think the prices at which supplies are held in second hands should be accepted as a basis of quotations. Somewhat verdant, certainly, but pardonable under the heavy load of stock to be carried, and the adverse results shown on actual sales, which give indications of a loss of tone generally. At the present writing, receivers are quoting at $2.25 per M., but admit the rate to be somewhat nominal, and we know it to be extreme, as sales have been made for less, and in one instance, at least, for very decidedly less. Taken altogether, the market does not show many encouraging features at the moment, and it looks as if a further modification in cost must be made to start the demand.

LIME.—Arrivals have not been very large, and the majority were sold either before or immediately after coming to hand. Receivers, however, seem to think that the supply is quite large enough for the present, as there is a tendency to a diminution in the consumption. Old work has become pretty well completed, and new is not far enough advanced to require much lime, and hence the demand is reduced. Prices, however, quite generally remain as last quoted.

LUMBER—The general wholesale market remains much the same as for a week or two past. There is an assumption of indifference on the part of many buyers under the impression that this will have an influence to induce the offering of more favorable terms, but we have been unable to discover the least sign of weakness on the part of the selling interest and, indeed, the rates obtained on one or two random offerings have tended to strengthen the position, if anything. Demand from all home sources is really very full and there is little doubt that a considerable increase of the offering could readily be placed and command high rates were it available, while the tender of specifications for special cuts continues ample and rather beyond the power of manufacturers or their agents to accept at the moment. From primary points generally come the usual spring predictions of a short crop of logs, but, allowing for the modifications these stories may have to undergo, there is nothing to indicate that we are to have any excess of lumber this season, nor are present prospects favorable for much of a shading on cost. Some purchases have been made for this market at Albany, but buyers find prices very high and the supply extremely moderate. Spruce has come to hand to some extent, but the majority of the arrivals were to meet contracts and the offering on the open market proved limited. Whatever there was available received immediate attention and commanded a good price, indeed, the position was, if anything, a shade firmer and it would be something very poor indeed not equal to $17 and we have heard of randoms as high as $18 per M. Some of the principal eastern mills remain idle and are reported as not likely to commence operations for several weeks.

White Pine retains a strong and promising market. The export demand has not revived nor is it expected that shippers will follow the recent heavy consignments by many full parcels, unless specially instructed, but the home call is free from all usual and a great many unusual sources, and the accumulations are reduced and broken, with the few desirable parcels left under control of owners who appear to be very decidedly indifferent about making any special effort to transact business. Since the river opened, attempts have been made to reach fresh supplies, but with very indifferent success, and buyers discover that everything they would like to handle is held on a limit much above the line of valuation here and in a manner to indicate that owners are not likely to yield, thus confirming previous reports in this column. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine continues in demand and for either present or future delivery could be sold with freedom. Dealers all want more or less stock in the form of the ordinary random cargoes and there is said to be plenty of buyers willing to hand in their schedules the moment manufacturers are ready to enter upon negotiations. The mills, however, continue too far behind on orders to assume many additional engagements and offerings for all deliveries are limited. We quote random cargoes at about $23.50@26 per M.; ordered cargoes, $25@27 do; green flooring boards, $23.50@24.50 do, and dry do do, $25@26. Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $15@17 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are not much wanted at the moment on local accounts, but exporters are buying fairly at primary points and supplies very firmly held. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $3@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, ½ and ¾ inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles in fair export demand with a little more call on home account and the market firm. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

Yard dealers generally continue to express themselves as satisfied with the condition of trade and report full rates ruling.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Nor. barque, 485 tons, hence to River Plate, lumber, $13, net; an Arg. barque, 331 tons, hence to Rio Janeiro, white pine lumber, $13 and primage; a Nor. barque, 640 tons, from St. John, N. THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, March 9, 1880.

Transactions have been numerous the past week, and prices a little in advance of the general average heretofore reported. Eastern dealers manifest quite a disposition to take hold, when they can get a chance, and they come down with the cash promptly. On a sale of 2,000,000 feet one of them planked $20,000 on the spot. Another transfer of the same amount commanded a large advance payment. The best sales reported was 1,200,000 by Fisher of West Bay City, to Eastern parties at $1.50, $1.5 and $3.5. The bottom figures are $7, $14 and $28, although a trifle under them has been made in some instances, but will not be again for desirable stock. Manufacturers have got their expectations up, but not above what are justifiable, and they are not disposed to make concessions. The following from the Troy Times furnishes a clue to the situation at the East and a reason for the tendency of the market here. A sharp demand for lumber exists in the Eastern market. Besides this there is the uncertain requirements which will be developed as the season advances, unless the bottom should unexpectedly drop out of all business advance. The Troy Times says: "The presence of New York lumber buyers in the local market accompanies the opening of navigation, and indicates light stocks in the metropolis. Vessels are loading along the docks, and the season of shipment has fairly begun. The spring trade opens with advancing prices. The low water of last year limited the production of mills, and dry lumber is scarce and its value tends upward. The product of present mill operations is too green to be suitable for working before September. The condition of the market is illustrated by an offer made by a West Troy dealer, who tendered to a large owner of Michigan lumber an advance of $2 on last year's prices for 2,000,000 feet. The offer was refused. Another dealer in the same village has sold a large quantity of lumber at Bay City, Mich., at an advance of 40 per cent. on last season's values. The revival of building activity works with the scarcity of stock in producing a buoyant feeling in the market.

The advance heretofore noted in shingles is maintained, and there is a manifest disposition to a still further approximation of prices. Little Jake, of Saginaw, appears to have stepped into James Stewart's place in the trade, but inasmuch as he is not disposed to sell shingles at less than their cost, for the pleasure of making a sale, the change will be advantageous. He is reported as having sold 3,000,000 to Eastern parties at $1.75 and $2.75, and refused another offer of $2.75 for 5,000,000, asking an advance of 10 cents over outside quotations. Nearly all the manufacturers and dealers have orders for more than they can supply. An advance is expected on the opening of navigation.

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, } CHICAGO, March 11, 1880. }

Inquiry at the yards develops a splendid trade more than fully corroborated by the monthly report of the Secretary of the Lumberman's Exchange. Some, and in fact all the dealers with whom we have conversed, speak of an immense city trade, showing a largely increased activity in building and manufacturing operations at this point. Among some of the larger houses the heavy orders from the West are emphasized, and these are pointed to as indicative of a vastly increased trade for the coming season. Orders from interior points in Illinois are not so heavy as from points west of the Mississippi, and we are informed that traveling men report finding a disposition to hold off for a time in expectation of a reduction in rail freights, which, it is hoped and expected, will be enjoyed after the 1st of April. We trust they will not be disappointed, but can point out no data from which to encourage such expectations. Meantime stocks are reported from the interior as being low and badly broken, and a comparatively free line of orders would indicate a good trade and a necessity for temporary sorting up, even though the ordering of full stocks should be delayed.

Prices are reported firm at the yards, and dealers inform us that no cuts are allowed by themselves or reported by their traveling men as coming under their notice.

Navigation bids fair to open at a much earlier date than for many years, and several cargoes of lumber have already reached this market from Michigan points. The movement has not as yet become general, but if the weather continues as open as at present, another week will no doubt see considerable lumber afloat for this market. There are, however, no freight quotations to be given.

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, {
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 11, 1880. }

The unfavorable weather of the week, and the impassible condition of roads in the central country did not prevent Chicago from doing a business of an average of a million and a half a day, and St. Louis over half that amount, while Minneapolis enjoyed a full share. So considerable a business at these great markets, at this season of the year, indicates that the lumbermen of the West have no just reason to complain.

The news from the logging districts makes it certain that there will be a full stock of logs secured, and the season may be considered closed. Michigan is at least 33 per cent. short, but, it is authoritatively announced that the entire fraternity of that State will resort to tramways and other inventions of the evil one to bring the supply up to a maximum. Minnesota secured her crop at a minimum cost, and will be able to compete with any market supplied by summer logging operations. The swamps are full of water, and prospects for a cheap drive are good in all the pine country.

Stocks are broken at all points, and will be depleted before new stocks can be sawed and dried. There is no possibility that prices will fall off, and no concessions are being made except on job lots to clean them up. With this condition of supplies there can be no advance or material change in figures.

In this city an active local and shipping demand is reported at full prices. Some dealers are holding dry flooring and fencing at 50c. @ $1 above price list.

FOREIGN.

The Timber Trade's Journal as follows:

LONDON.

There seems rather a lull in the timber trade, and the recent perturbation in stocks and prices appears to have subsided. The question of the heavy advance continues the chief object of discussion, and very conflicting opinions are expressed with regard to the present state of the market, the outside demand in the building trade being admittedly dull.

Still we have the fact of an authoritative firm of brokers publicly stating only last week that there would be a further advance when the first open goods arrive of £1 to £1 10s a standard. It is true this announcement had reference solely to yellow pine, but the natural sequence is so evident that it is almost superfluous to refer to it, that, if yellow pine is able to bear this rise, other descriptions cannot help sharing it. At Messrs Churchill & Sim's sale last Wednesday, however, there was no corroboration of the expected rise in pine goods, for a fine parcel of 3x11 and 12 1st bright Quebec, that the acting broker, Mr. Churchill, stated was worth £24, with difficulty realized £22 5s., while for Swedish and other north of Europe stuff prices were an appreciable improvement on the past week, especially those sizes which are getting scarce, such as 2½x7 and 2x9; in fact all scantling stuffs seem in good request, if it can be had in the common qualities. Spruce went somewhat better than at the last sale, but there were no heavy parcels submitted on this occasion, and those offered were mostly clearing lots of odd sizes.

This week's mail from Cuha reports:

White Pine—Arrivals of the week about 700 M feet, on contract; no recent sales reported and prices unchanged at from $29 a 32 per mille foot as to assortment.

Pitch Pine—Market continues supplied and we still quote $30 a 32 per mille foot as per assortment.

Cooperage Stock—Box Shooks.—The demand moderate at from 8¼ a 8¾ rs

Hhd. Do.—No late receipts and prices unchanged at 17½ rs. those for sugar and 20 rs. those for molasses.

Empty Casks—We can report this week the sale of 400 hhd. ex Edward Waite, Philadelphia, at $3¾ cash. A parcel of 208 do. arrived yesterday from New Orleans remains unsold. Tierces are less wanted and held at from 15 a 16 rs Hoops—Stock for sale adds up 100,000. Last sales at $46 cash and $47 per mille at 60 and 90dc. for long shaved and 31 do. for short do.

NAILS.—A fair amount of stock has gone out on shipping orders during the past few weeks, but nothing beyond the ordinary course. On home account the demand is somewhat slow and uncertain, and it is evident that the cost has been too high to induce buyers into operations beyond early wants. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do. per keg, $5.65; 6d and 7d, common do. per keg, $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do. per keg, $6.15; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.65; 2d per keg, $7.90.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5 90. Floor casing and box, $6.15 @ 6.90. Finishing, $6.70 @ 7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.

1¾ to 1½ in. 2 & 2½ in. 2½ & 2¾ in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.90 @ 8.00 $7.40 $7.15 $6.90 per keg.

OILS.—Demand is of an irregular character, and values fluctuate accordingly, especially on the wholesale market. A pretty fair amount of stock, however, moves toward consumption, and holders are not anxious to urge their supplies. We quote linseed oil at 81 @ 83c. from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—The general movement is good and improving, and the tone as a rule quite cheerful among a majority of the trade. Standard styles and qualities of both the domestic and foreign product, are naturally most in favor, but a very general assortment is required to meet the current run of orders. Supplies continue to be offered to about the extent of the call, but only at full prices, and the position shows much general strength.

PITCH.—There has been a little more doing, mainly, however, in the way of small parcels, and the general condition of the market remains about as before. Offerings are not made much in excess of the outlet and about former rates are asked. We quote at $2.00 @ 2.12½ per bbl. for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There is a great deal of stock still going into consumption, and jobbers secure full rates without much difficulty. The wholesale market has been unsettled under speculative influences, but the general tendency in sellers' favor, and stocks offered with much indifference. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 50 @ 51c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—A fair average movement has taken place without new feature or incident developed on the general status of the market. Supplies, as a rule, are available but not in any surplus, and holders refrain from offering except upon call. We quote at $2 @ 2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2 @ 2.25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows: 1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed i.e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranties. 2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenants against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows:
The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

OUR SUPPLEMENT TO-DAY.

Under this head we propose to tell truths about some of the mining properties offered on this market. The newspaper literature on this subject is very large, but not one solitary paper, daily or weekly, so far as we have seen, is published in the interest of the investing public. It is unwholesome that all the newspapers should be on the side of those who have properties to sell, and not one journal committed to the interests of those who have money to invest. THE REAL ESTATE RECORD has no interest, but to tell the truth. It solicits no mining advertisements; it has nothing to do with the promoting or marketing of mining shares. It does not propose, however, to run a muck upon the mining business, which it regards as perfectly legitimate, but its editor is conscious that somehow there is a peculiar danger attaching to mining investments in the form of stock companies. There has never been a time in any country where disaster did not finally come upon the community that gambled largely in the shares of bullion producing mines. Our object is simply to warn the public to tell the truth, about mines, with a view of showing that the business of mining can be conducted legitimately by private firms, syndicates and corporations, who do not care to put their stocks upon any of the Exchanges.

We print to-day a supplement devoted to this subject. Any subscriber interested in this matter can procure additional copies of this supplement at the rate of 5 cents per copy.

ELEVATED IDEAS.

By referring to an article in another column, it will be seen how Brooklyn is benefitting by the shortsightedness of some of our uptown, notably Harlem, owners. The rents of small houses, owing to the supposed influx of people consequent upon the completion of a system of rapid transit, have gone up to such an extent that a large number of those who like to dwell in our midst are once more seeking homes in the quiet City of Churches. The elevated roads have given some landlords elevated ideas, for which there exists no warrant whatever. How much wiser Brooklyn landlords act is shown by the increased demand for quiet, unostentatious houses. It will not do to say, "Oh, you cannot compare Brooklyn to New York;" and yet we cannot close our eyes to the fact that these cosey little dwellings which abound in our sister city are the very ones required by the army of clerks and mechanics constituting our industrious middle class. Neither will it do to say in the face of rapid building operations that there is too much of a scarcity for such class of houses in New York proper. On the contrary, there are quite a number of them, but they are held at figures not within reach of the class alluded to. Their income is no better than it was last year, though their work may be more continuous, and everything aside of rent in the shape of necessities of life has gone up and is still going up. Brooklyn landlords, at least, seem to understand fully the law regulating supply and demand and, while they have a good number of small comfortable houses at their disposal, they do not drive the new comers away by frightening them with exorbitant rents. Let our New York landlords take a lesson from owners across the river. It is better to secure tenants, even at short leases, at a small return on the investment, than drive them off Manhattan Island. We are glad to notice that Mr. Edward Clark, whose broad views of the requirements of our city entitle him to be quoted frequently in connection with such matters, has lowered the rents of his new houses on Seventy-third street since the first of the month, and has been the very first to set a proper example in discarding elevated ideas. This, indeed, is the only manner in which New York can ever be filled up with a working population, for which there is ample room, and also with a class of houses, which, if only held at moderate rents, can be easier disposed of here than in Brooklyn.

WEST SIDE ENCROACHMENTS.

While commerce is New York's first interest, and every facility should be granted not only by men in authority but also by citizens generally for this great and first element of the city's prosperity, there is yet and always will be a necessity equally apparent for placing upon commerce those restrictions which involve the health of our city. Therefore, in looking forward to the acquisition by the Hudson River & Central Railroad Company of the large area of territory along the Hudson River, reaching, as is supposed, to the southerly limit of Riverside Park and avenue, it becomes a matter of the utmost importance that the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, in the exercise of the grave responsibilities devolving upon them, while granting to the railroad company all facilities that may be needed for the increase of traffic, shall act with caution. It should be distinctly understood that the acquisition of any more territory by this corporation shall not involve the possibility of a colossal nuisance in the shape of a cattle yard, oil depot, or whatever may cause this nauseating fluid to fill the atmosphere with an odor that will spoil the value of property within a radius of at least three miles.

What action have the owners of property liable to be damaged taken in these premises, or what action do they propose to take? A few days of time, even a few hours, may make it impossible to prevent the calamity that has been here foreshadowed.

Property owners in the upper part of the city do not intend to be deterred by the recent decision in regard to assessments. Building improvements will go on just as readily. On Tuesday last, for instance, nearly all the property owners on Eighty-second street, between Eighth and Tenth avenues, signed a petition for a sewer in that street, preparatory to building. It is claimed that the paving, curbing and flagging can be done just as well after the houses have been built as before, and in the meantime relief will be obtained from the Legislature.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iii, iv and v of advertisements.

The week, which opened with numerous transactions pending, closed with considerable activity, but yet with the much talked of "boom" at a convenient distance. Numerous causes combined to dictate a Fabian policy on the part of investors as well as holders. The fact that a large amount of real estate was to be made subject to the hammer of the auctioneer, had a good deal to do in a market which, in the language of a shrewd observer, needs not only "careful watching but considerable nursing." There was no lack of interest whatever in the market; but the waiting policy, nevertheless, predominated until the very end of the week. The auctioneers could not complain of the lack of attendance, their stands being continually surrounded by an eager crowd watching every phase of the bidding and the final results of the various sales. The sale of the Grand Boulevard and One Hundred and Eleventh street property on Monday last cannot be called a success, it being doubtful whether the parties to whom some of the lots were knocked down will ever be asked to take title, for reasons best known to themselves, though the corner lot, secured for Mr. Wood by Mr. J. Romaine Brown, is said to be an exception in this regard. On the same day the plaintiffs in the foreclosure sale of property lying around Fifth and Sixth avenues, One Hundred and Thirty-eighth, One Hundred and Thirty-ninth and One Hundred and Fortieth streets, bought it in for $1,000 less than the incumbrances. This was also the case with the improved property sold under foreclosure; No. 150 West Forty-sixth street, only fifteen feet front, was sold by Mr. Scott at auction for $14,650, and at an assignee's sale, held by Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son, No. 104 East Thirty-seventh street, was sold for $29,250. Minor sales of the same class were held during the week with varying results, as will be readily ascertained by the list at foot. Still, if only to show the exact temper of the market, we ought to call attention to the fact that the Messrs. Muller withdrew from sale on Tuesday two lots on One Hundred and Forty-second street, between the Boulevard and Twelfth avenue, and that the Messrs. Ludlow sold on that day a lot on One Hundred and Thirteenth street, between Fifth and Sixth avenues, for $2,600. The sale of property forming part of the Aronson estate, by the Messrs. Muller, resulted in the disposal of two lots on Fifty-seventh street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $4,850 each to Mr. King, of the firm of May & King, the same purchaser securing the Seventy-fourth street lot.

Mr. Josiah Jex made an auction sale of his property on Wednesday, and at this writing even, it is difficult to say whether Mr. Jex still owns the property he placed before the public or not. It was knocked down energetically by the auctioneer, but the future will tell whether title will be passed to the gentlemen mentioned in the auction room, with the exception, perhaps, of Mr. John Farrell, who secured a good plot of five lots on the southwest corner of Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-sixth street, and who, as we understand, intends to hold on to it.

Of course, the great interest of the week centred in the sale of the Carman estate, and on Thursday Mr. Harnett's stand at the hour of noon was not over thronged with anxious buyers. Nevertheless, after some minor sales in charge of the auctioneer had been disposed of the crowd gradually enlarged, and by the time the fearfully long description of the property had been read there was little delay on the part of buyers in taking hold of the parcels submitted to them. While prices ruled low, the bidding was spirited, and continued so to the end of the sale, which lasted over two hours and a half. It was a surprise to many that the referee ordered during the sale whole plots to be sold in a lump, many buyers of four or five lots being thus ruled out by those disposed to purchase fourteen or fifteen lots. Whether this policy resulted in material benefit to the executors of the estate can best be told by studying the figures. One thing is sure, every lot knocked down at this sale was disposed of promptly. There was no "wash" about it, and quite a number secured excellent bargains. Owing to the crowded state of our columns, we are compelled to omit the descriptions of the various parcels secured, but the Carman estate is so well-known to our readers that it is superfluous to mention the three hundred lots in detail. We append simply the names of buyers, the number of lots secured by them, and the various amounts invested by them. They are fifteen in all, as follows:

Buyer.	No. of lots.	Amount invested.
William Lalor.....	96	$48,209
Bernard Fellman.....	28	16,185
George F. Gantz.....	26	24,225
John E. Cronley.....	16	31,600
M. A. J. Lynch.....	16	6,000
B. P. Fairchild.....	13	10,500
S. Newitter.....	14	7,000
W. H. Morrill.....	9	7,075
J. M. Jones.....	8	5,200
A. Lustig.....	7	9,500
J. H. Goodwin.....	7	2,660
F. Higgins.....	5½	2,530
H. W. Coates.....	5	1,675
John A. Hardy.....	4	4,250
William Lynch.....	3	5,000

Fifteen buyers bought 257½ lots for $181,609

In connection with the above should be mentioned that though the names of a few brokers appear on the list, these gentlemen had positive orders from investors for whom they have secured good bargains. The terms of the sales were by many considered harsh—all cash within thirty days—which somewhat had an effect upon prices; the property was also looked at as far removed from improvement. Though buyers secured several bargains, notably those on the waterfront, the sale, take it all in all, is considered a success, in so far as it demonstrated an activity, which has not been known for a long time, and brought new buyers to the front, men who have only recently become investors. The sale has been looked forward to with considerable interest by parties engaged in certain enterprises that were awaiting the solution of the problem of values in that vicinity, and we may now soon hear of other transactions, based upon the values established at Thursday's sale.

The auction sales during the coming week include the sale by Messrs. L. J. & I. Phillips of the valuable property belonging to Mr. John A. Monsell, all lying in the line of improvement and most of it between the Eighth and Ninth avenues. The sale takes place on Wednesday and cannot fail to attract the attention of investors.

The valuable property to be offered by Mr. Raymond along Broadway and Prince street, also the Olympic Theatre, and numerous choice parcels on Fifth and Sixth avenues will be sold on the same day as the above. Those looking for immediate returns for their money had better study the details in regard to this sale, as given in our advertising columns.

Mr. Harnett sells on Monday the Mount Kisco plots and cottages, of which mention has heretofore been made in these columns. On the 31st he will sell seven choice vacant lots on One Hundred and Twelfth street, between Seventh and Eighth avenues, and also property on Ninth avenue and Eighty-fourth, Eighty-fifth and One Hundred and Sixth streets. A partition sale of Greene. Wooster and West Third street real estate will be held by the same auctioneer on Thursday next. Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son will offer on Tuesday next, to close an estate, a fine residence on West Fifty-third street.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

While the auctioneers have had it all their own way during the week, there is an absence of sales made under private contract, but it must be said that numerous transactions are pending, most of which will see the light during the coming week. In the absence of these sales at private contract, it is nevertheless sternly denied that there is any let up to active enquiries and negotiations. In fact, the tightness of the money market, the Holy Week, and the important public sales, are given as satisfactory reasons for the non-closing of the many pending contracts. There are any number of brokers who claim that they have large orders to invest at certain figures, but that holders of property are so firm in their prices as to preclude all possibility of coming to terms. They rather hail with delight the temporary lull as to vacant property, which may lead sellers to come to terms with those standing ready to buy, at their figures. Nevertheless, we hear of the sale of a West Side block, by a Broadway broker, but he declines to furnish particulars.

Messrs. Tracy & Russell, we understand, have bought four lots on Eighty-sixth street, between Madison and Fourth avenues, for $10,000 each.

Two lots on Fourth avenue, between Sixty-eighth and Sixty-ninth streets, bought recently at auction for $11,000 each, have been resold during the week for $16,000 each. One of them to the President of a Wall street bank.

Two lots on the west side of Ninth avenue, between Sixty-sixth and Sixty-seventh streets, have been purchased by Mr. Henry R. Beekman, for $6,000 each.

Negotiations are also pending for the sale of six lots on Eighty-fourth and Eighty-fifth streets, between Fifth and Madison avenues, particulars of which have not transpired.

Messrs. L. J. & I. Phillips have sold at private contract, two lots on Eighty-fourth street, between Fourth and Madison avenues, for $15,500, to Mr. John A. MacKinlers, a Pearl street merchant.

Messrs. Scott & Myers have sold four lots on One Hundred and Twenty-second street, 100 feet east of Eighth avenue, for $3,250 each; four lots on Eighty-first street, 100 feet west of West End (Eleventh) avenue, for $18,000; four lots on Eighty-third street, 300 feet west of West End (Eleventh) avenue, for $22,000.

The same firm has also negotiated the sale of a large parcel of West side property, the particulars of which they refuse to furnish.

Mr. John D. Crimmins has sold No. 22 East Sixty-third street to Mr. Clement Ferguson for $30,000. It is an eighteen foot house.

The property situated at the junction of Broadway, Seventh avenue and Fiftieth street, which was advertised to be sold under foreclosure yesterday, has been sold to William K. Vanderbilt and others for $200,000. It belonged to the Slevin estate, and, as is understood, it is now to be turned into a horse market.

The southeast corner of Fifth avenue and One Hundred and Sixth street, comprising one lot on the avenue and two street lots, which was sold recently for $25,000, and for which title has not yet passed, has been resold for $28,000 and the lawyer's fee.

From Brooklyn, we have the gratifying intelligence that not a single Lis Pendens against real estate was filed in the whole of Kings County on the 23d instant, and for two other days the entire aggregate was three. It is a long time since we have been able to record the same satisfactory state of affairs.

Ascan Backus has purchased the Dr. Badger estate in Flushing for $10,000. Solomon Levi has purchased the estate of the late Oliver Charlick, at Mineola, for $4,000. The Morrell farm, at Great Neck, sixty acres, has been sold to Mr. John Buckley. Other sales of minor importance are reported from Long Island, all showing increased activity.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending March 26:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—No very radical change has taken place on the general market for Common Hards since our last report. The supply has been somewhat irregular, at times running full and again comparatively light, but generally running a little over the actual requirements of the current demand, which, on the whole, has been slow. The very open winter has admitted of such steady building operations that there is now less than the usual amount of unfinished work for this season, and, as contractors are hardly ready to commence on new jobs, the consumption is reduced. There is also considerable amount of stock available for fr sh operations, especially on the upper end of the Island, and, altogether, the outlet for brick is not quite so free as anticipated. However, as the amount afloat is not uncomfortably large and manufacturers are, to some extent, carrying out the policy of holding back supplies, a fairly steady tone is preserved on values and no pressure to realize has, as yet, been resorted to. "Up-Rivers" are quoted at $8@8.25, possibly, in a few instances, $8.50, and Haverstraws $8.25 up to $9, with $8.50 an average selling price. Some holders will not allow their stocks to go at these rates. Pale brick have sold as low as $5.75 for poor and $6.25 for very fine, with most business at about $6 per M. Of course, as yet, only the preliminary movements have been made against the commencement of the next crop, but it is anticipated that as soon as the frost is fairly out of the ground and the product can go on with safety that work will set in on a very liberal scale. Fronts are nominally firm, but there is very little stock and, in reality, no regular market.

CEMENT.—Business in domestic has been fair but the position of the market has changed somewhat and the fixing of opening wholesale rate, for the season brings a reduced line of cost. The figures decided upon by the manufacturers of Rosendale are $1 at the "Creek" and $1.10 here, and only small jobbing parcels from dealers hands exceed these figures. Some fresh arrivals have taken place but as yet the quantity coming down the river is small. On the imported stock the feeling is reported as strong and the demand good with more stock wanted, the arrivals proving quite light and not many additions expected until next month. Advances from abroad are also stimulating, as will be noted by the following item from an exchange noting an advance on Continental Portland Cement. "At a meeting of a large number of cement manufacturers, which has just taken place in Cologne, it was resolved, according to the Berlin Boersen Zeitung, in consequence of the considerable rise in the cost of materials used in the process to make a preliminary advance in the selling price of Portland cement, of 0.75 mark per 180 kilo, gross, and 0.45 mark per 100 kilos packed in sacks; this advance to take immediate effect. The advance, which is referred to as a first installment, is equal to 4s. an English ton.

GLASS.—Reports are still very generally of a strong and cheerful character, and both wholesale and retail dealers have much faith in the future. Our jobbers have distributed with liberality thus far, and while difficulties in the way of transportation tend to reduce the movement toward some portions of the interior, points more easy of access and our local marts still afford a good outlet. The domestic product in first hands is very scarce, as manufacturers are still much behind on their orders and likely to so continue for several weeks. The arrivals of foreign have been a little larger but nearly every package appeared to be wanted on contract and about the only way importers can take orders is to file them in turn and keep buyers waiting until they can be served in regular order. It is probably useless to add that prices rule very firmly all around and the recent advances are well maintained.

HAIR.—The demand for plasterers' hair has in common with that for other descriptions of building material shown full proportions thus far this year, with the movement still good and promising. Values naturally have hardened and the recent advance to 21@25c for goat, and 16@18 for cattle per bushel of 7 lbs. is well sustained. Really choice stock of washed hair is also further stimulated by the great advance in the cost of wool for which it is used either as a substitute entire or for mixing. The supply on hand is not very liberal nor are many additions expected.

HARDWARE.—Demand is without much animation and as a whole the market tends to drag somewhat. It is quite evident that with the amounts already shipped and those going forward daily on contract a large section of the interior gets a supply for early spring use at least, and with the setting in of the more cautious spirit, buyers are now indisposed to move, except under the pressure of the most absolute necessity. Local consumption is fair but this has in a great measure been anticipated by the jobber and retailer and does not for the present reflect upon the wholesale market. Manufacturers have many orders yet to complete but are not so far behind as a week or so ago and commence to add somewhat to the accumulation in store. Generally, values have a steady tone, and, in the majority of cases, price lists are adhered to but no buoyancy is shown and with metals on the downward turn some buyers are hopeful of better terms.

LATH.—Somebody still appears to be out of town and the market continues on the downward turn for want of enough demand to exhaust the offering. There has been some irregularity since our last, cost at first shrinking to $2, or a fraction under, followed by a better feeling with holders for a time showing much firmness at the above rate and succeeding in making a few sales and exciting a little anxiety among some of the dealers. The inquiry, however, was not prompt or general and, rather more stock coming in, receivers again weakened and a perpendicular decline to $1.75 took place at which the market stands, as we write, without the appearance of much strength. We find a portion of the receivers inclined to complain of the drop on price during the past two weeks as unwarranted, in view of the fact that the amounts held here are very small, except of stock costing a great deal more money and reports that shipments in this direction are falling off owing to the reduced price and rates relatively higher at points on the Sound. Dealers, however, even where very short of supplies, have quite decidedly held off and the cargoes coming in could only be placed by making attractive reductions in the valuation. As the season progresses, also, offerings are being made from new sources and we have even heard of letters at hand suggesting that shipments would be made by steamer if receivers thought well of it. Receivers, however, do not think well of a higher rate ruling on lath.

LIME.—The situation of affairs remains very much the same all around. Demand is a little slow, and on the whole somewhat disappointing, and while supplies show no great volume, there is quite enough for the calls made, with a trifle to spare. Sellers, therefore, have no basis for advantage, and are induced to accept former rates when opportunity offers LUMBER.—No great display of animation is to be found, owing to the rather careful manner in which all classes of operators are moving, yet the business is good for the season, and the demand really better than the business accomplished. This latter feature, as must be already well understood, is the result of the absence of facilities for meeting early calls consequent upon the engagements under which so many manufacturers are now employed, and the difficulty experienced in finding full shipping accommodation for supplies now ready for delivery. Under these circumstances, a great many buyers stand off for the present, as constantly running around calling for stock can do them no good, while there is a chance, that as more numerous sources of supply come within reach with the progress of the season, a trifle better terms may be secured. Accumulations here are running down, and aside from the large quantities intended for delivery direct to consumption, the yards must have a liberal aggregate supply, even if individually, dealers only take enough for a moderate temporary assortment. Coastwise freights are somewhat easier, but the cost of lumber at all primary points appears to be about as stiff as ever, and the offering quite as indifferent.

Spruce we find to be quoted somewhat irregularly by different receivers, but this, after all, appears to be due in a great measure to influences growing out of place, time and manner in which cargo is to be delivered, as well as to standing of customer, terms of settlement, etc. All agree that the demand is good and of a sufficiently general character to cover all classes of stock, and that it would be a very inferior cargo indeed for which a buyer could not be found. A great many specifications are still offered and buyers willing to estimate for deliveries well into the summer. As we write, about former rates are quoted, making randoms, on the general range, $16.50 @17.50, and specials ranging up to $18@18.50, the latter a little extreme.

White Pine still appears to be considered pretty good stock to have around and dealers speak in the most cheerful manner of the position of the market. The accumulation keeps well under control and, while some additions have already or will soon be made from purchases made last fall and allowed to remain at interior points, there is little danger that any more will come in than is required. Further attempts have been made to reach some of the parcels held in first hands, but the cost seems to increase rather than weaken and buyers hesitate about taking hold. The distribution from our market is general, covering export and home shipping orders and a first rate local consumption. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine holds its own without difficulty and indeed a great many of the Trade seem to think has a better prospect for steady all the year demand than any other class of lumber. Its use is becoming more general for all sorts of local and near by consumptive purposes, but especially in heavy solid work, for which there is hardly any competition; those who try it once come again, and the English demand has already made such liberal engagements against the cut that it hardly seems possible for the mills to make a surplus product sufficient to disturb values greatly. About the former general line of prices is named by most dealers. We quote random cargoes at about $23.50@26 per M; ordered cargoes, $25@27 do; green flooring boards, $23.50@24.50 do, and dry do do, $25 @26. Cargoes at the South $13@14.50 per M. for rough, and $16@18 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $12.75@14 for rough, and $15@17 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are firm on all grades and stock is wanted in full proportion to the movement in other woods, with the offering moderate and prices quite firm. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do; cherry, $15@15.50; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Yard trade is reported somewhat irregularly but we find the most cheerful expression where the best stock is left on hand and it is evident when buyers discover a desirable supply they are ready to make steady calls upon it.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br barque, 752 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Bristol Channel, deals, 57s. 6d., cargo deliveren; a Br barque, 652 tons, from St. John, N. THE WEST.
SAGINAW VALLEY.
Lumberman's Gazette Office,
BAY CITY, March 23, 1880.

There are no signs of weakness observable in the market, and it is hardly worth while to expect them to appear. With the stock of lumber on dock about all disposed of and large orders placed ahead at good, round figures, some as high as $7, $14 and $30, it is hardly probable that even after navigation has been fairly opened an trade has settled upon the basis of the season any material reduction in prices will be obtained. Trade is reported active and sales numerous. Another sale by Fisher, of West Bay City, at $7 50, $15 and $35 is reported. Other sales have been made at the range of the market, $7, $14 and $30 being quite common figures. Driving is now in progress, and the question is being asked, can the logs be got down. This is the next problem for solution, and is regarded by some with a good deal of concern.

The shingle trade continues in a booming condition, prices being maintained at the advance, and $2 and $3 is asked. The western Michigan manufacturers have also joined in for the advance, as will be seen by a communication in another column.

The steam barge Oakland and tow left the river Monday for Cleveland with 1,000,000 feet of lumber, the first shipment of the season. The freight is understood to have been $3 from Saginaw, but that was an exceptional shipment and does not indicate what freights will be. That is yet to be decided.

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, }
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 18, 1880. }

The reduction of railway freights from Chicago to the West has greatly stimulated trade at that point, and somewhat retarded business at the river cities, and the tremendous effort is now being made to secure still lower figures than those fixed at the recent meeting. Should this movement succeed a large part of the Kansas and Nebraska trade will be controlled by it in favor of Lake Michigan, and against the river towns from St. Louis to Minneapolis. St. Louis is sending out some twenty million feet a month, while the receipts for the month ending March 1st were: White Pine, 175,000 feet; Yellow Pine, 25,000 feet; Ash, 132,000 feet; Cottonwood, 350,000 feet; Poplar, 746,000 feet; Walnut, 104,080 feet; Oak, 226,000. Total, 1,809,180 feet. Since the first, several rafts of lumber have been received, and nearly 30,000,000 contracted for early delivery, largely from Black and Wisconsin rivers, at a slight advance over the prices of last fall. Prices are firm, notwithstanding Chicago road men are offering to cut prices to secure trade. Stocks at Hannibal and thence to Dubuque are so light that no effort is made to increase the business. All feel sure of closing out before the new crop is ready for shipment. It is a poor spring for drummers in the West.

The logging season has about closed, and the Upper Mississippi is the only section which has secured a full cut, and the fall off increases as one goes East, clear to Saginaw, except the Menominee, Michigan region, but we again warn our readers that any and all shortage of log supply will be made up this spring and summer in Michigan and Wisconsin. The new log crop is being sold on the Chippewa at about the figures of a year ago. The highest price paid being $5.87 per thousand on the bank.

We have no new feature to note in the market; activity and firmness are the principal characteristics of the market. Price list unchanged, and we hear of no complaints that any yards are selling below list, while some have advanced their prices for dry choice lumber.

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, }
CHICAGO, March 18, 1880. }

There is but little pointing to any changes in the status of the market at Chicago. With the colder weather of the past week orders have been more plenty, and the returns of work accomplished by traveling men are more encouraging. It is safe to say that the sales of the week have been largely in excess of those of last season for the same period, and the promise of a largely extended demand throughout the season, is no less favorable than has been indicated in the past. Reports from a large area of grain producing territory give indications of a crop which will fully equal the production of last year, for while no inconsiderable portion of the grain section has suffered largely, and in some sections totally, from the effect of an open winter, and the winter wheat is killed, yet competent authorities, after personally examining the ground, assure us that the increased acreage of the country will fully compensate the winter losses. While this, perhaps, will not help those sections which have suffered, it is an important element as regards the prosperity of the country, in view of the estimate of competent statisticians that the crop of 1879 will lack at least 250,000 quarters of supplying the foreign demand, upon the basis of an average consumption, until the 1st of September. Prices must, if this be true, be firm for all kinds of grain, and remunerative, so that the purchasing ability of the farming community, by which, to a large extent, the lumber trade is governed now gives promise of a large consumption of lumber.

We have no occasion to modify our previous statements, either as regards the stability of prices, the broken character of the stock in all the yards of the West, as well as of this city, or as regards the condition of the log crop of the winter. All the reports which have reached us during the past week confirm the estimate of 8 1/4 per cent, as the general average of the Northwest in the log crop of the winter. The cold weather of the week has, no doubt, sent many men back to deserted camps, but we can learn of no snow falls to supplement the cold weather, and the renewed effort will hardly amount to an important factor. Per contra, on the Menominee, and some other of the more northerly streams, there is still good sleighing, and logs are going in at a rapid rate. We incline to the opinion that there will be over 100 per cent, on the basis of 1879, to the credit of the Mississippi, the Menominee, the upper Peninsula and, perhaps, some other of the more northerly districts, but our figures for Michigan, and the more southerly Wisconsin streams, we see no reason for changing.

Navigation is again closed, and the ice in the straits is as firm, or more so, than at any time this winter. A few cargoes have reached Chicago from Muskegon and other Michigan points near by, but open navigation does not now seem as near as it did two weeks since. The demand reported from other points, notably the East, is heavy, with stocks low in every section. Several of the Chicago yards are changing their location, but we fail, on inquiry, to find that any of them are offering any grade of desirable stock at a reduction on that account. The receipts of the week show an increase of nearly 500,000 feet over the corresponding week of last year, in lumber, while in shingles the quantity is but a little over one-half that of the corresponding week. The shipments, on the contrary, show an increase of over 1,100,000 feet in lumber, and 875,000 shingles over those of the same period in 1879.

Spruce Pine.—Per W. H. Genn arrived 428,914 feet from Bangor, of which a part was sold to arrive and the remainder is being retailed. We quote 28@3000—29@3000 per doz.

From the London Timber Trades Journal of March 6th, we take the following:

There is a kind of lull in the timber trade just now which seems to pervade this country pretty generally, and those who keep an eye on the reports of our provincial correspondents can hardly fail to have noticed how guardedly they express themselves when speaking of the trade of the coming season. It is evident that a good spring demand is rather hoped for than depended on, and in the north of England, where trade first began to stir, after its long period of inactivity, there are signs that such goods as can get forward from ports that are open almost throughout the winter are crowding the market rather inconveniently already, and checking the rise in price which had been looked forward to abroad.

* * * * *

In the American trade we are promised, with the fresh arrivals, a yet further advance, but this will greatly depend on the disposition of the market at that time—some two months hence. A good many ships appear to be already chartered at Quebec, and some of these have to call for orders at Queens-town or other ports, so that they are evidently not all of an unspectulative character, and we may expect a larger supply from the Michigan district this year than the last, when American shippers held back very much, on account of the unremunerative state of our markets. The same may be said of Pensacola and the pitch pine regions. Last year scarcely a cargo that was sold at the public sales here in the summer left a pound a load to the shipper free on board. But the impression that prevails everywhere abroad now is that timber will be very much wanted in the United Kingdom, and that he will do best who can ship the most.

Against this, however, we have to reckon that the better classes of pine goods are less plentiful than they used to be, and this is, perhaps, the only sort that it will be safe to ship to this country, unless by specification and contract beforehand. It is apprehended, however, that as a good deal of timber of inferior quality has been lying over (for so it is reported) for the last two seasons at Quebec, it may now be considered worth while to ship it to this side for what it will fetch, rather than keep it any longer, and perhaps buyers may be found at a price with a foreknowledge of its actual state. Mere lying in the booms for a couple of seasons will not greatly deteriorate sound timber if it be not attacked by worms, and even these would not in that time have done much damage. By re-squaring the faults might disappear, but that should be done before shipment to entitle it to a merchantable price f. o. b. However these questions do not bear much on the prospects of the immediate trade. When prices are high there will always be a lot of inferior stuff offered in the market, such, for instance, as "inferior 5ths," which found purchasers during the great rise of values in 1874, which sometimes would scarce pay freight if the stuff were put on board ship for nothing. One thing, if the advent of high values brings low qualities in its train, it affords a better opportunity of dealing with the superior grades.

That plenty of timber from the north of Europe and the other side of the Atlantic will come forward during the summer there seems no reason whatever to doubt, and the best we can hope for is that the revival of energy in our home industries will soon impart its beneficial influence to the building trade, and be felt in general enterprise and the promotion of public works, so that we may have occasion for all the coming importation without its having an unfavorable effect by overcrowding and depressing our markets.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has not been very active, the demand running mainly on small trade orders as required for immediate necessities. Offerings fair but not pressed, and holders in most cases inclined to make a show of steadiness. We quote at about 22 3/4@23 cash for Lake. Manufactured Copper in very good demand, and held with a general showing of steadiness. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz per square foot, 34c per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per sq foot, 36c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 38c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz per sq foot, 40c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 37c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 40c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 37c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 34c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 32c per lb, and Bolt Copper, 34c per lb. IRON.—Scotch Pig has been quite dull, and the market heavy under the light demand and accumulating stocks here as well as the downward turn of the foreign market. We quote nominally at $8.00@33.00 per ton, according to brand and quantity. American pig is also under neglect, and, while offerings are made with care, the amount available exceeds the wants of the market, and prices show a weak unsettled tone on pretty much all grades. We quote at $38.00@40.00 per ton for No. 1; $37@37.50 do for No. 2; and $35.50@36.50 for forge. Rails have continued quiet, and there is a development of greater anxiety among sellers under which prices are weakening, and the position becoming somewhat nominal. We quote at $53@58 for iron, and $75@80 for steel, according to delivery. Old rails $37@39 per ton; scrap, $38@41. Manufactured has become greatly unsettled, and there is really no fixed market value. About form r figures are named to cover the asking rates, but it is quite generally admitted that shadings are constantly made in order to secure customers. Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes at 3.7 from store, and Refined at 4c.; wrought beams at 4.6c@4.7c. Fish plates quoted at 3.8c.; track bolt and nuts, 4.6c.; railway spikes, 5 1/4@5 1/2c, tank, 4.8c.; horseshoe, 4.7c.; angle, 4.3c.; best flange, 6.3c.; and domestic sheet on the basis of 5@5 1/4, for common, 40 to 20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars.

LEAD.—Domestic Pig has broken down in price under more liberal offerings of both domestic and foreign, and the market shows a feverish uncertain tone, with sellers still more anxious to do business than buyers. We quote 5 1/4@5 1/2c. The manufactures of lead are firm and quoted: Bar, 7 1/2c; Pipe, 8 1/2c., and Sheet, 9c., less than the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 45c. on same terms. TIN.—Pig has been held with an effort at steadiness in some cases, but the limited uncertain demand and supplies cropping out from unexpected sources have a weakening influence, and general tendencies are in buyer's favor. We quote 22@22 1/2c. for Banca, 21 1/4@21 3/4 for Straits, 21@21 1/4c. for English Refined, 20 1/4@20 3/4c. for do. Common. Tin Plates have favored the buyer throughout without creating much new demand, and the market has a flat, unsatisfactory tone on all grades. We quote I. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment $9@9.25 for Allaway grade, and $9.25@9.50 for Melvin grade; I. C. Coke $7@7.25 for B. V. grade; $7.37 1/2@7.50 for Yspitty grade; Charcoal terme $8.37 1/2@8.50 for Allaway grade, 14x20; $17.50@17 6 1/2 for do., 20x28; Coke terme, $7@7.25 for Glais grade, 14x20, and $15.50@16.00 for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter in limited request and barely steady; quoted at 6 1/2@6 3/4c., according to brand. Sheet Zinc moderately active at about 8 1/4@8 1/2c., according to quantity.

NAILS.—Buyers have continued to move with caution, and to a certain extent with indifference, on the view that cost is too high to justify any investment, beyond almost certain near-by wants. Indications of weakness, also, are not wanting, and while the openly named figures are at the old list rates, it is quite generally understood that lots held on speculation are quietly seeking an outlet at some reduction. We quote 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg. $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do. per keg. $5.65; 6d and 7d, common do per keg. $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do per keg. $6.15; 3d and 4d, light per keg. $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg. $7.65; 2d per keg. $7.90.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5 90. Floor casing and box, $6.15@6.90. Finishing, $6.70@7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.

1 3/4 to 1 1/2 in. 2 & 2 1/4 in. 2 1/2 & 2 3/4 in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.90@8.00 $7.40 $7.15 $6.90 per keg.

OILS.—There is not much new on the general market. The speculative feeling appears to have subsided in pretty much all lines, and operations are now conducted mainly on the basis of actual wants, with the wholesale market dull. We quote Linseed Oil at 80@8 1/2 c. from crushers hands.

PAINTS. In a wholesale way some descriptions have been rather dull, but as a rule the market was very fairly active. Among jobbers, the movement appears to be active and general, and the majority speak in a very cheerful and confident mood over the condition of the market. A great many points in the interior have yet to be heard from, and accounts at hand indicate that the calls when they do come will be for liberal and full assorted invoices. Prices have shown a little irregularity, but nothing out of the usual course, and most goods are held to a pretty uniform line of valuations.

PITCH.—Demand very fair, the stock not abundant, and a steady market retained without much difficulty. The distribution is to usual outlets. We quote at $2.00@2.12 1/2 for City delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—There is some grumbling among jobbers and consumers over the increase of cost, and possibly a slight check to business, but the movement still pretty full, and the market in good shape. In a wholesale way, much irregularity continues, and the business is almost entirely speculative with values of late decidedly on the downward turn. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 48@5 1/2 c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—About the ordinary run of orders has come to hand, and a very fair jobbing business is reported by the majority of dealers, with satisfactory rates obtained. In a wholesale way the position is a little unsettled. We quote at $1 87 1/2@2 25 per bbl. for New-herne and Washington, and $2@2 25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

CONVEYANCES.

Wherever the letters Q. C. and C. a. G. occur, preceded by the name of the grantee, they mean as follows: 1st—Q. C. is an abbreviation for Quit Claim deed, i. e., a deed in which all the right, title and interest of the grantor is conveyed, omitting all covenants or warranties.

2d—C. a. G. means a deed containing Covenant against Grantor only, in which he covenants that he hath not done any act whereby the estate conveyed may be impeached, charged or incumbered.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

SUPPLEMENT TO THE REAL ESTATE RECORD.

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN.

THE RECORD presents to its readers to-day a supplement containing hints which may prove of value to those wise enough to heed them. It seems to be an opportune time to call upon investors to halt and examine more closely than they have hitherto done the various plausible schemes which of late seem to be so temptingly spread before them, and it is the wish of the editor of THE RECORD to lay before its readers in characters so large that he who runs may read, the extreme danger that they are in should they allow themselves to be seduced into putting their money into these worse than wild cat enterprises, for such must be called nineteen-twentieths of all the mining stock companies to be found in New York to-day.

In doing this we are well aware that we are treading upon the corns of many who are already rich men, and more who hope to be, but that fact does not deter us in the least, and should this note of warning so much as save even one of the readers of THE RECORD from an unwise investment the editor of this paper will not consider the work as having failed of bearing fruit. We believe that anything worth doing at all, should be well done, hence instead of distributing what we have to say in a series of articles in THE RECORD, we at once launch out with enough of them to attract attention to the subject matter interested.

The working of gold and silver mines is, in itself, a perfectly legitimate industry. If conducted by individuals, business firms or private corporations, it is, we believe, a reasonably lucrative means of investing money. Senator Jones, in his speech in the Senate on the silver question, doubted whether, on the whole, mining investments paid more than 4 per cent., that is, taking the entire expenditures and offsetting them against the total bullion product.

The public hear all about the great strikes in the bullion mines, but there is no record kept of the heart-breaking failures; of the vast sums of money invested, of which there is no return, nor hope of any. All the great prizes in the lottery of business are very rare and mining is no exception to the rule.

We publish this supplement as a "danger signal," to warn the investing public against the excesses which have characterized previous speculative frenzies, such as the petroleum fever and the speculation in railway stocks which ended so disastrously in 1873. We do not promise to keep this matter up. We publish it in supplement form so as not to interfere with the regular matter of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD. If there should prove to be a demand for a journal dealing honestly with mining or other investments we may continue these supplements or issue a paper designed especially for the information of investors in securities. In any event we have done our duty to the wealthy interest represented by THE REAL ESTATE RECORD by issuing this one supplement.

THE FATHER DE SMET.

We have every reason to believe that this is one of the finest properties in the Black Hills, but nevertheless we warn the investing public that there is a risk in purchasing it. There are three factors to be considered in purchasing the shares of a mining company. In the first place the property must be a good one. In the next, it must be wisely and economically handled, and last, but not least, it must be honestly managed.

We have admitted that this property is a good one. We do not know that it is dishonestly or unwisely managed, but in view of the fact that it is a California property in the hands of Californians, that it is selling for a much higher price in New York than it ever could command in the State where it is organized, and also from the fact that it is an assessable property, we would advise our readers to keep clear of it. The Father De Smet is owned mainly by "Archie" Borland, a shrewd and lucky Pacific coast operator, originally a working miner, who has made his money by driving good bargains, by understanding his business, and, like most rich men of the Pacific coast, by getting the best of those with whom he had dealings. Mr. Borland brought this property to New York, it having a splendid reputation in mining circles. He was, it seems, unable to affect a sale to New York capitalists after trying the market for several months. He had the advantage of Deadwood and Homestake, selling at extravagantly high figures. His is as good if not a better property, and it is now offered at a less price than they are selling at on this market. People who purchase the Father De Smet should remember that it is managed by Pacific coast operators, and that it is assessable stock, organized under the laws of California. They should remember that sometime or other all California stocks are assessed. No matter how good the mine, the assessment comes sooner or later. If we are not misinformed, certain New York capitalists examined this property but did not purchase it, and the reasons would not be far to seek. The Black Hills are distant, the grade of the ore is low (from seven to ten dollars to the ton), to make a profit it requires an immense outlay for machinery and very economical management. There must be no waste, and there must be no mistakes. The prices at which Homestake and Deadwood and the Father De Smet are offered to the New York public is altogether too high. At thirty cents a month per share mining property should never sell for more than ten dollars. Indeed, the axiom is frequently laid down by those who understand mining that no stock should be sold for more than two years' product. The price of Homestake is absurd. True, it is an immense mine, a huge gold quarry, but the grade of the ore is low, the amount of machinery necessary to use and use up is very large (two hundred stamps are now employed) and yet the yield does not begin to compare with that of the Standard mine in Bodie, which employs only thirty-five stamps. Even the Little Bodie Consolidated, with its ten stamps, has turned out far more in a month than the Homestake with its two hundred stamps. Then we do not yet know what change will occur after the water level is reached. So we tell our readers that if they buy into the Father De Smet they are assured of putting their money into a good mine, only it is too high priced. Ten, or, at the most, twelve would be the proper market valuation, but even then, not knowing who the managers are, and the property being at such a distance, there is no assurance that in the long run the shareholders will get their money back.

LITTLE PITTSBURG REVELATIONS.

The Mining Record deserves a great deal of credit for having given to the public a full list of the stockholders of the Little Pittsburg Mining Company, together with the amount of stock held by them just previous to the break in the price. If a list of the stockholders after the stock was first subscribed for could also have been furnished, it would have been still more valuable, but even the present one will attract a great deal of attention, especially from persons who are loaded with the stock, which they bought upon the recommendation of the directors and others, who seemed to have got out of their stock before the break. Of course, all the directors of the Little Pittsburg are high-minded gentlemen. They stand very high in the community, and are supposed, naturally, to be men of wealth and repute. They gave their names to float the stock of the company; they induced their friends to subscribe. We have heard pitiable stories of poor people, women and others, who came to the office of the company when the stock broke below twenty, to ask what was the matter. They were told it was a raid upon the part of Gill and some others for stock jobbing purposes. They did not suspect that the mine had been gutted and badly managed, nor did they dream that the very respectable gentlemen, who formed the Board of Directors were so well aware of the true state of the case that they had disposed of their holdings while the price of the stock was still high. General Charles C. Dodge is a very reputable and wealthy gentleman. The firm of Dodge & Potter sold large quantities of the stock of the Little Pittsburg, but it seems that General Dodge himself, if this publication is correct, owned only one hundred shares on the 13th of this month. Of course, being an honorable gentleman, he must have informed all his friends and customers whom he induced to purchase the stock to sell at the proper time. Mr. Henry Havemeyer, also one of the directors, was very active in getting the stock placed, yet he, it seems, had only one hundred and twenty-five shares when the list was taken, although W. J. Havemeyer is down for seven hundred. Mr. C. L. Perkins, another director, had only one hundred shares, at last accounts. Mr. J. E. Babcock, another director, does not appear in the list at all. Mr. Dam had in his name some thirteen hundred shares when the stock broke. It will strike him as remarkable that his associates on the Board were so much more lucky than he was. Mr. H. A. W. Tabor, also, the honest millionaire miner from Leadville, who made such immense sums of money out of the original sale of the Little Pittsburg, is down for one hundred shares. Some little bird must have told him what was coming. Then the honorable Ex-senator J. B. Chaffee, who fathered this great enterprise, and who added to his enormous fortune by another fortune in selling the mine, is down for only one hundred shares. From February 21 to March 5, he and Moffat transferred fifty-one thousand shares. Ex-Congressman Abram Hewitt, the honest politician, owned originally, it is said, four to five thousand shares of the stock bought, it is believed, upon the recommendation of his partner, Rossiter Raymond, who was the expert chosen to examine the property. He seems to have sold out and did not have a share of stock in his name when the break occurred. Now, who told Mr.

Hewitt? Was it Professor Raymond, his business partner? The professor, it is said, never owned any of the stock himself and has not been near the mine since he made his report last year. He is now again examining the property.

We think it but proper to publish names in connection with these mining enterprises. In all the great gambling eras the outside public have been caught out by the use of reputable names in connection with questionable enterprises. If any of our readers will look back at the time when the petroleum excitement was raging he will find our leading citizens acting as directors and manipulators of petroleum stocks. Of course we do not say that in every case these gentlemen were consciously giving their influence to sell extravagantly appreciated stocks to the unsuspecting and gullible public, but we do say that their names were made use of to exploit the public. We think it but right that the gentlemen who were foremost in handling properties like the Little Pittsburg should be known and honored of all men. It will doubtless give weight to all the properties which they may hereafter recommend to the public. If we have any influence we are determined that these gentlemen shall not hide their lights under a bushel.

Among other persons who strongly recommended the Little Pittsburg was Senator Jones, of Nevada. Jones has quite a reputation as an honest miner. His name, however, did not appear upon the list of stockholders of the Little Pittsburg when the stock broke. A number of gentlemen connected with the Stock and Mining Exchange will recall the readiness with which Senator Jones gave points to buy Imperial Consolidated on the Comstock. It is supposed that over 40 per cent. of that stock was bought for the New York account from San Francisco and mainly through the influence of points honestly given, of course, by Senator Jones. To be sure all the boys got stuck, badly stuck, but still Jones is Senator of the United States, and would not do any man any wrong. His was merely an error of judgment. If it should prove that he was a large owner of Imperial stock before it was sold at high figures and did not own any of it when the bubble broke, it might provoke some comment, but we suppose there is no way of getting at the true inwardness of that deal, as it is impossible to secure a list of the stockholders under the California method, as ownership is disguised by the use of trustees names. By the way, on this Little Pittsburg list, an office boy, in a broker's office, down town, is credited with 20,000 shares. We judge there are many persons owning Little Pittsburg and other mining stocks who are afraid that their credit would be injured if it was known, and hence we see the name of two or three trustees holding large blocks of stocks for unknown parties. Happy thought! Perhaps General Dodge and Abram Hewitt, Senator Chaffee and other directors, who appear with such small amounts opposite their names, may be the owners of the stock held in trust.

It will strike our readers as a somewhat remarkable fact that, while this list was published last Saturday, the daily press, which has given so much space to the puffing of mining properties, has not thought fit to analyse it, or to make any comment upon the gentlemen who figure as directors and stockholders. We said last week the daily press could not be expected to tell the truth about mining. Their interests are on the side of the sellers of property and not of the investors.

THE NEW MINING BOARD.

This organization has now been trying to be born for some six months. It will probably go into operation some time during the month of April. It is understood to be fathered by gentlemen who have a great deal of stock to sell to the public. A number of mines have been placed upon this market, the stock greedily taken up in large blocks, but this stock has not yet been marketed at a profit. Among the mines which the promoters of this new Board are interested in are the Chrysolite, Little Chief, Bull Domingo, Freeland, Spring Valley, Big Pittsburg, Horn Silver, Bassick, Iron Mine, as well as several others. The experiment is to be tried of running an Exchange with a view to selling shares and to keeping their prices up. To do this there is a trust fund and banking department to be associated with the Exchange, to lend money on the stocks that are dealt in. We do not believe this scheme will succeed. It will be regarded, and justly, as an attempt to foist properties on the public with some kind of a "boom." Banking is not stock operating. While money lenders have a great deal to do with stock operators, yet the interest of both are anything but identical, and it will be mixing oil and water to attempt to combine them in one enterprise. Still, we are willing to see the matter tested. We can quite sympathize with the desire of the promoters of this new board to protect their stock from the raids which would be made upon them if they were placed upon the regular Stock Board or Mining Board. The business of a broker is to create fluctuations in prices. He cares nothing for the property he deals in. His interest is not that of the seller of a mine. Nay, it is to his advantage, if he can, to purchase a twenty dollar stock for ten dollars, and hence we do not wonder that gentlemen who are laden up to the eyes with mining shares, which they wish to distribute at good prices to the public, should dread any exchange where the real price of the property or public confidence in it can be tested by free and open sales. But we advise the investing public, before they listen to the voice of the tempter, to see whether the other highly puffed mines are not going to follow the example set them by Little Pittsburg.

THE TRUTH ABOUT LEADVILLE.

People who have money to invest would do well to be on their guard against any of the companies organized on Leadville property. Not but that the district is rich, very rich, but it should be remembered that the ore in that camp is a deposit and is not likely to last. Old Californians shake their heads and look dubious when examining the Leadville mines. These are rich in silver carbonates; are easily worked because near the surface and hence the first output is very large and the mine apparently very profitable. But as has been demonstrated by Little Pittsburg and other Leadville mines, the deposit does not last long. Uninitiated investors may not know that the most permanent mines are those which bear ore in fissures; that is, openings in the rock in which is quartz bearing metal. But instead of running down into the earth as is the case with true fissure veins these Leadville deposits are horizontal or as one well known miner says, "in Leadville the fissures are on their backs." Hence instead of having the centre of the earth to go for, the Leadville mines have at best, less than a hundred feet of depth. Old, experienced miners say "beware of specimen mines." That is, distrust any rock which shows gold or silver to the naked eye. Nature is never or very rarely lavish. Wherever gold or silver is found in an almost pure state, one may be sure that there is not much of it. The most profitable mines, so far, have been those in which the silver has been mixed largely with lead or, as in the Black Hills, where the gold is a very low grade but covering a large amount of rock. Silver Cliff has been well styled the silver Black Hills for there the ore is in immense quarries. This one is of low grade requiring expensive machinery to work. But that region, like the Black Hills, exemplifies the experience of all miners, that the most profitable districts to work is where the grade of the ore is low, while there is plenty of it. The Plumas County region, in California, has this peculiarity, hence the first popularity of mines like the Green Mountain, Empire and Grass Valley, where dividends have been paid almost for a generation. But Leadville has literally put its best foot foremost. The ore was near the surface, of very high grade, easily mined, and the first output was so astonishing that it led to the organization of companies and their capitalization at most monstrous figures. It was very easy to compute that if a mine could pay two hundred thousand dollars in dividends in a month that it must be worth many millions of dollars. The manipulators, however, very well understood that this could not last, but the ignorant public bought upon that basis. This is why so many mine manipulators are anxious to have a new Mining Board, to get rid of the stocks now paying large dividends, but which, in all human probability, will run out and run down, as has the Little Pittsburg. The figures at which the leading Leadville properties are placed on this market are simply monstrous. They are a fraud upon the public. True, they seem to be justified by the dividends paid, but the public must bear in mind that nature does not scatter her riches in any such way. The people who finally make the money are those who get the properties for a few thousand dollars and then put them on the market for many millions. Beware of high-priced Leadville stocks.

THE HOMESTAKE, ONTARIO. DEADWOOD, ETC.

The most successful and satisfactory mine ever put upon this market was the Ontario. It has paid dividends of fifty cents per month ever since the mine was listed upon the New York Stock Board, and in the first year and a half it repeatedly declared dollar dividends. Those who originally bought the stock at twenty had the satisfaction of getting all their money back and several dollars besides. Indeed, it was the story of the Ontario which gave the first impetus to mining investments in this city. Professor Newberry declared before the Bullion Club that he believes the Ontario will pay its present dividend for many years to come, accidents excepted. The mine has been developed only to the six hundred foot level, and there is no reason why it should not continue in good ore for several thousand feet lower. The Last Chance mine adjoining is soon to be consolidated with it, and that promises to be as rich a property as is the Ontario.

The firm that put the Ontario on this market exercised a great deal of judgment. It was placed at $20, and the price gradually advanced up to $40. It is an open secret that the stock of this company has been manipulated. That is to say, a wealthy pool has stood behind it, never allowing it to fall below a certain figure, and always ready to offer more stock above a certain figure. The natural timidity which all capitalists feel in putting their money into mining shares was thus overcome. Day after day, month after month, yes, year after year, it was noticed that there were no fluctuations, or next to none, in Ontario. The price was gradually marked up and timid, conservative investors were not terrified by any "slump" in the stock. The same firm that floated the Ontario, also put the Homestake upon this market. That started at $20 and $22.50, and was moved up to nearly $40, the same tactics being adopted in its case as in that of the Ontario. A gravel property and the Deadwood

Mine in the Black Hills District have also been placed upon the New York market by the same firm, and for a time were protected. Lately, all these stocks have had a set back. Their market value has declined somewhat. Deadwood is selling for less than the subscription price, Homestake is seven to eight points lower than it was last December. They are all on the down track.

We have no hesitation in saying that while these mining properties are held in high esteem by conservative investors, that they are still dangerous stocks to hold. The Black Hills properties are altogether too high priced. Mines, at best, have but a short life. There are so many uncertainties connected with the best of them that no prudent man will gauge his estimate of their value by the dividend. In other words, a poor mine may pay a large dividend. Belle Isle, in the Tuscarora District, paid fifty and seventy-five cents a month for a time, but to-day the stock is selling for $1.05, and never reached $4. It was simply a rich pocket, out of which the dividends were paid. The criticism upon the Homestake, Ontario, Deadwood and the Excelsior is that they are deceptive, because the stock has not been dealt in openly. They were maintained at a price far above what they should have been placed at. Any mine in which the investor cannot get his money back in two years is over valued. It is in this way that New York and the Eastern public are certain to lose money by and by. We are paying too much for mining properties. People will confound a mine with a transportation line. The New York Central, the Pennsylvania road, the Baltimore & Ohio, have been in existence over twenty years, and may live half a century longer, but mines are short lived; they do not renew their business day after day or month after month. The more you take out, the less there is in the mine for another generation. Mr. Haggin, of California, who has been instrumental in putting these properties on the New York market, is a man of immense wealth. He did not make his money by giving the public a chance. It was rather by getting property at low and selling it at high figures. This he has successfully done in California, and in the case of the mines we have mentioned, has also accomplished in New York. Some day the support will be withdrawn absolutely from these stocks, and then the conservative people will suffer in temper as well as pocket.

THE CENTRAL ARIZONA.

This was originally known as the Vulture Mine. It was worked shortly after the war, when the country was full of Indians, and, although $500,000 was taken out, all who invested in the property lost their money. Provisions were high, supplies costly, and then the mine was some nine miles away from water. But the mine was developed far enough to gut it of all the rich ore in sight, and when it was finally abandoned, it was pronounced practically worthless by experienced engineers. One of the owners, taking advantage of the mining excitement recently developed, sold the mine to a syndicate of Chicago grain operators, who determined to make a deal in it on the New York market. It was quietly listed last summer on the regular Stock Exchange, and a few sales of the stock were made at $10, but late last fall there were heavy dealings in the stock as high as $25, since which time it has fallen back to $6, and has fluctuated back and forth ever since. In fact, it has proved to be a very lively "wild cat," and has the distinction of being the only one so far listed upon the regular Stock Board. The mine is worthless, and is so pronounced by its former Superintendents, Mr. Robert Barton and Captain Taylor. The ore, such as there is, is low grade, water is nine miles distant, and it will not pay to haul the ore. This wretched stuff has been extensively puffed by the daily papers. The New York Herald money column has frequently spoken approving of it, and has helped to "shear the lambs" who deal in mining stocks. It ought to be stricken from the list of the Stock Exchange.

AN OLD MAXIM.

Investments in mining shares justify the old maxim that "high interest means poor security." There is no royal road to wealth. In speculative times a few persons may profit largely, but it is at the expense of a multitude of people who lose all their money. For the great mass of mankind it is decreed that the return for hard labor is small but sure recompense. It may be laid down as an axiom that any business which offers large returns is, in its very nature, risky. Commerce is profitable because of its uncertainty, and smuggling and blockade running are still more so because of the peril of life and property in the undertaking. The readers of mining prospectuses would do well to keep these plain truths in mind. If great profits are promised, corresponding risks must be run. Very often you have to take risks with the certainty that the profits will be secured by the persons you are dealing with. The truth of this remark will be recognized by the Little Pittsburg shareholders. Our readers will do well to bear all this in mind.

THE DAILY PRESS AND THE MINING BUSINESS.

The vultures of the press are hot after the carion which follows the wake of the mining "boom." In addition to the Tribune and the World, the statistical Bulletin, as well as the sedate Journal of Commerce, have opened mining departments. We do not find a word in any of these journals cautioning the public against unwise investments. On the contrary, they use their several departments to coax prudent investors to risk their means in the shares of mines of which nothing is known. It should be borne in mind that the companies keep a secretary who sends to the newspapers all the telegrams and news of a favorable character, while his business is to suppress all news likely to throw light on the conduct of the mine, or which is of an unfavorable character. Every day the public is treated to accounts of developments of mines which are entirely ex parte, and intended to induce investors to purchase the securities of the property advertised. In other words, the press of New York, to-day, is practically leagued to promote the interest of mine owners and speculators, and to coax the money out of the pockets of the business and investing community. The daily papers discredited themselves during the railroad mania which culminated in 1873. They never warn the public against unwise investments. The monstrous abuses of the life insurance business were never brought to light by the daily press, and now, as in former times, we find there is a conspiracy to make the public view all enterprises which advertise largely in a favorable light. If a few more Little Pittsburg affairs occur it will help to discredit the daily press. Indeed, it is curious that this disaster to the mining interest should have come about at the very time when the leading papers were organizing mining departments to puff mining schemes, without reference as to whether they were good, bad or indifferent.

"WILD CAT" MINES ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE.

Under the rules adopted by the Securities Committee of the Stock Exchange it will be possible hereafter to put any "wild cat" mining scheme upon the regular stock board. All that is now demanded is that the "hole in the ground" shall have a good title and that a certain amount of development shall have taken place. Under these new rules Bertha and Edith, or Lacrosse could be placed on the regular stock list and be bought and sold by customers of its members. With the exception of the Central Arizona all the mining stocks heretofore listed were good producing properties, but possibly because it is afraid of the competition of the new Mining Board the regular Exchange is now going to list every "cat" that comes along. Had the Exchange been wise, originally, it would have given the public some guarantee that the mining stocks it dealt in were well managed. If it had insisted upon full quarterly publications of the condition of the mines, and demanded that the books should be opened to the inspection of any stockholder dealing in them, the business, so far as the Exchange was concerned, would have been free from scandal. But now the door has been opened for the public to be plundered through the machinery of the regular stock board.

Perhaps it is all for the best. If any one Exchange kept any part of the business clean there would be danger of this stock gambling in mining shares being kept alive. But if the "wild cats" are allowed to befool even the regular Stock Board, it will hasten the day when the public will condemn the whole business. We warn investors to keep out of the mining share market. Those whom you deal with play with loaded dice.

JOHN BONNER ON MINES.

In a recent number of the Evening Post there appears a letter from Mr. John Bonner, which contains a couple of paragraphs that are worth reading. He says:

If the mining mania is to last and be a source of steady profit to minors and dealers in mines, the present fashion of overcapitalization and strained monthly dividends and absurd newspaper reports must be stopped. Oro shoots, as the Mexicans say, are as uncertain as women, and the only safe rule in capitalizing a mine is to estimate its value at twice its reasonably figured annual product. Nothing can be lost by doing so, for if the mine continues to yield after the two years the stock will command a premium. On the Boston Exchange some Lake Superior stocks which were capitalized on sound principles are steady at from two to three hundred per centum premium, and need no new bank to make them pass current as collateral security. As to monthly dividends, they are dangerous indeed. No miner can tell whether the next stroke of his pick may not disclose a pinch-out or a lean streak. What shall the manager do in such case, if the board of direction require him to furnish them money for a monthly dividend, in order to maintain the price of the stock? He has no choice. He must gouge his mine. And of this the result, sooner or later, is inevitable collapse.

There are more millions than it would be discreet in your correspondent to estimate to be dug from the soil of Colorado in the next ten years. Leadville alone will probably yield twice as much as the Comstock lode, which added three hundred millions to the world's stock of silver. But if the present race of promoters continue as they have begun, Eastern capitalists who invest money in mining enterprises in Broad street will be much more likely to lose than to gain. The way to establish confidence in mining companies is not to found banks which are to receive money to be lent exclusively on fancy mining stocks, but to incorporate the companies with modest capitals, and to pay dividends only when a sufficient quantity of ore has been mined on correct principles, and sold, and there is a cash surplus in the treasury. On the stock of companies so organized and so conducted, any bank would be glad to lend, and investors would buy without fear of a fifteen per centum collapse in six weeks.

This is a matter which should be taken up by the New York mining boards. It is vital to them that their business should last. It will not last—not be profitable—if one stock after another collapses from over-capitalization and strained dividends. It will be as it was in 1855, when certificates of mining stock were sold by the pound avoirdupois.

BROOKLYN REAL ESTATE.

ACTIVE BUILDING OPERATIONS—BETTER PRICES FOR BUILDING LOTS—LARGE DEMAND FOR SMALL HOUSES.

A trip on the Franklin avenue, Nostrand avenue or Tompkins avenue cross town cars, from the Broadway ferries, affords a fine opportunity of seeing the large number of really fine dwellings that have gone up or are going up. On De Kalb and Gates avenues there have been some beautifully arranged "flats" erected, but they are not in as great demand as it was thought they would be, for the reason that people prefer small houses; even with less improvements, than living in flats or apartments. A remarkably large number of new buildings, generally of brown stone fronts, have been erected on or along the line of the elevated railway, and others are contemplated there, notwithstanding the hesitancy to build on account of the increased cost of materials and labor. Mr. Paul C. Grening is one of the most enterprising real estate brokers in the Twenty-third ward, and his business extends not only over that ward, but through the Twenty-first and Twenty-fifth wards. A Times reporter made two attempts to get an interview at the main office, and each time found Mr. Grening busily engaged with customers. The second attempt to secure a little of Mr. Grening's time was successful, when the following conversation occurred:

Reporter—How are prices and rents compared with last year?

Mr. Grening—The prices realized on sales have been at least 10 per cent. higher than last year, and the same may be said of rents, if we take the average.

R.—How do builders view the future? Are they putting up many buildings?

Mr. G.—Building in this vicinity is very active, and builders view the future with great confidence. Many of their houses are being sold before they are completed.

R.—Where do the applicants come from, and what class of people are they?

Mr. G.—I have sold a large number of houses for investment, and to business gentlemen living in this vicinity, who have the means of judging of the advantages and prospects of property in this neighborhood, as relates to rapid transit; among others, Mr. Hoagland and his friend, here. You have heard what they think. I further find many persons coming from upper New York, since the enormous advance in property there on account of the elevated railroads, seeking cheaper homes in Brooklyn, and they are of an excellent class of citizens.

R.—What class of houses are in the greatest demand?

Mr. G.—Two and two and a half stories and basement, brick or brown stone. The demand for three-story and basement houses is greater than before, and builders have somewhat anticipated that demand, by putting up a greater proportion of that class than formerly.

Messrs. Sumner & Dorland stated—From letters and calls which we receive from New York, we find that prices and rentals of up-town property have already gone so far beyond the ability or willingness of many business men and others resident in that city or elsewhere, as to demonstrate that the New York elevated roads have finally produced a reaction in favor of our own market. For, while during the last two and a-half years New York property has been advancing, even in the Harlem Districts—and there largely—Brooklyn property continued to depreciate until the spring or summer of 1879; so that now purchasers of desirable residence property have more to gain by coming here than at any time since 1863. A few owners have advanced their prices, but, while the market is firmer, we are still offering nearly all except the newly built houses at the prices touched in 1879. Ours is slower to move than the New York market, but the people cannot for any considerable length of time resist the elements that make the basis of values.

Rents are firm and there will be more money received from the same this year than last; but there is not a perceptible general advance. We are renewing most of our houses at last year's rates. 1881 is likely to witness some advance. We are renting the bulk of our three-story brick and brown stone houses, containing twelve rooms, at $500 to $800, and two-story houses at $300 to $500. The supply of parts of houses is as yet limited, but is increasing and the rentals for the same do not vary materially from 1879 rates.

Mr. George E. Hoyt said—Parties are daily dropping in the office from New York to look for houses, and the supply in no way comes up to the demand. Rents have not advanced materially. Such owners as those for whom I am doing business prefer to have their tenants stay another year. There is not one of the tenants occupying my houses but what has decided not to move.

The general complaint among people coming from New York to look for houses here, is that rents over there have advanced. It is chiefly such people who are looking for houses. There are no indications of much moving among Eastern District people this spring. Those who come from New York are of the better middle class, and are looking for houses that rent at $500 to $700. The great demand is for two-story and basement brick houses.—Brooklyn Times.

WHAT IS THE MATTER WITH SENATOR ASTOR.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

Can you inform a subscriber what is the "true inwardness" of Senator Astor's attempts to deprive the community of the comforts they have enjoyed in travelling over the lines of the Manhattan Railway Company. I leave you and others to discuss the five cent fare question, and trust that all those favoring the movement will never more enjoy the luxury of a comfortable seat. I may say, however, that the other evening some wag, at the Windsor hotel spread the report that Mr. Astor was interested in a patent for a "self supporting strap" to be offered to passengers the moment the five cent fare rule should crowd the cars to suffocation. This is, however, digressing from the purpose I had in view when addressing you. I see that the Senator is now making an onslaught on the neat and tidy looking news stands, where I have been able to buy my papers just when I wanted them, and changing off from one paper to another whenever I pleased. Are we to be deprived of this comfort also? I regard these news stands as veritable societies for the diffusion of knowledge, and if the elevated road or the news company makes money by the transaction, I say, good luck to them. They deserve it, for the people at large and the readers of journals generally are greatly benefited. Your own useful RECORD, by the aid of these stands now reaches a class of builders who are being instructed by the contents of its columns, and Mr. Astor's own property will one of these days reflect the knowledge that has thus been diffused among the building fraternity.

SUBSCRIBER.

[While thanking "Subscriber" for his pleasant remarks in regard to THE RECORD, we cannot assume to speak in behalf of Senator Astor. As a legislator he has the undoubted right to introduce whatever measure he may deem of importance to the public, and the public press has the right to discuss it as such. Personalities are at all times out of order, but we can assure "Subscriber" that whatever measure the Senator introduces, though based upon a mistaken policy, arises from an honest desire to benefit his constituency, and, as he thinks, the general public.—EDITOR RECORD.]

THE RECORD FOR 1880.

THE REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE, published at 135 and 137 Broadway, enters with the New Year upon its twenty-fifth volume, a fact which alone justifies the estimation in which it is held by investors, capitalists, builders and dealers generally.

Without desiring at all to boast of the safe guide THE RECORD has been to investors in realty during the depression now happily passed, we are safe to say, and challenge contradiction on the subject, that of all the publications in New York City, THE REAL ESTATE RECORD has been the only journal that comprehended the financial situation, and warned its readers against coming disasters in 1872 and 1873, and again encouraged them to renewed enterprise when the dark clouds began to disperse.

Having received ample support and praise for our work from those whose praise is worth having, THE RECORD enters upon the new year with a full determination to pursue the same untrammelled course it has followed in the past, speaking the truth on all matters affecting realty and the growth of our city and suburbs. The year 1880 will probably see the inauguration of active building operations on the too long neglected West Side, and also along the upper portions, particularly the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. How to build and where to build are questions not only affecting owners but also architects, builders and, in fact, mechanics generally. To all of these THE RECORD will be a necessary adjunct to their labors, as its columns will carefully reflect all that is going on toward building up that section.

No business man, however, who cares at all to be up to the spirit and enterprise of the times in which he lives, should be without it, as it furnishes regularly every Saturday the following information:

First—All the Chattel Mortgages filed in New York, Kings, Dutchess and Schoharie counties and New Jersey.

Second—All the Judgments docketed in New York and New Jersey.

Third—All the Real Estate Mortgages recorded in New York and New Jersey.

Fourth—All the Real Estate Conveyances in the same places.

Fifth—All the Foreclosure Suits against real estate in New York and Brooklyn.

Sixth—A complete list of all the property to be sold from week to week under legal proceedings.

Seventh—A complete review of the real estate and building material markets.

Eighth—General editorial articles on all matters affecting property in New York and the suburbs.

Ninth—A complete record of all the Satisfied Judgments.

Tenth—A list of all property affected by assessments and a notification of the time the assessment is handed in to the Collector.

Eleventh—The proceedings of the Common Council affecting real estate.

Twelfth—A complete record of all new buildings projected in New York City or Brooklyn, together with the name of the owner, architect and builder.

OUR MINING SUPPLEMENT.

On Tuesday next we will issue a supplement to THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, giving important mining intelligence, made up in the interest of investors, and not of the sellers of shares. There is enough, and to spare, of publications aiming to induce the public to invest in mining companies. The leading daily papers of New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis now have departments devoted to setting forth the great value of mining properties. We think the sanguine view of this great interest is much too prominent in all the publications we have seen. There is money to lose as well as money to make in mining investments, and our aim is to represent the cautious, conservative investor, rather than the hopeful promoter. The price of the supplement will be five cents per copy, with the usual discount to the trade. Any subscriber of THE RECORD will receive a copy free by sending to the office, 137 Broadway.

TO OUR ADVERTISERS.

The importance of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD as an advertising medium for those who have anything at all to sell that belongs to a house, whether it be the lot on which it stands, or the handle of the door that denotes the entrance to said house, is attested by the following letter received at this office Thursday:

NEW YORK SOAP STONE WORKS, }
61 Gold Street.

To the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD:

I take pleasure in informing you that, after the very first insertion of my advertisement in your valuable paper, a man came to this office with a RECORD in his hand, and pointing to my advertisement therein, stating that his attention had been called to my soap stone by the same, gave me, after some brief negotiations, an order amounting to over $300. You are at liberty to make whatever use you please of this information.

OUR COURSE ON MINING STOCKS.

Certain city journals have taken THE REAL ESTATE RECORD to task for giving some attention to mining matters, in the interest of the investing class. They allege it is out of the line of our specialty and that we have made the mistake of attacking the best securities which are dealt in on our mining exchanges.

Now, it happens that the articles in THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, upon mining, were written by those who are thoroughly competent; who know whereof they speak, and who have been in the business and on the "inside" for the last three years. We believe profoundly in mining as a legitimate industry. We regard the business in itself as worthy of encouragement, and it is in the interest of mining, as a legitimate industry, that these articles are written for THE RECORD.

We do represent the real estate interests. After a period of depression, in which well located and valuable property has been slaughtered by foreclosure sales, and an unreasonably gloomy view of the situation has prevailed, the time has come when real estate interests ought to look up and so they do. Property in and about New York is held at much higher figures than was asked a year ago; still, there is no question but that real estate as yet lags behind in the general march of improvement. True, it is nearly always the last interest to recover after a great panic, but wise investors do not buy property when it has become high but before it begins to rise. We believe in the mining business, but we object to a craze—to dishonest methods, to over capitalization, to the gutting of mines, to the foisting upon the Eastern public of properties at four times the value they would command in California, where they are known. We find that the whole daily press has practically entered into a conspiracy to puff all manner of properties, good, bad and indifferent, and it struck us that some paper representing the investing class should assume the role of censor and tell some of the adverse stories about mines and mining properties as well as those which are complimentary. We did so last week and whether we shall continue these articles depends wholly upon our readers. If they want them, they shall have them. If they do not, we shall stop these supplements, or issue a paper especially devoted to the business of telling the truth, not only about mining matters, but about financial matters generally. And we do this because we are interested not only in the investing class, but in real estate. It should be remembered that mining is taking immense sums of money away from other legitimate business. There is just now an unwholesome excitement all over the country, and the most conservative people are putting their means into all manner of ventures, which will scatter money in the Western Territories far remote from the centres of trade.

In the list of 160 companies, of which some account is given in the Tribune of last Monday, the total capitalization is $580,000,000. Now, this list does not begin to give all that there are in the United States, but only those that have offices and do business in the city of New York. Of course, this great aggregate is partly nominal, but still these 160 companies fail to represent the vast number of private corporations which are forming, and in which money is being invested for the purpose of finally bringing them on the Eastern market. It is not too much to say that nominally $2,000,000,000, take the country through, east of the Mississippi, is now being placed in mines in Colorado, Dakota, Nevada, Arizona and California. A good deal of money also is being sunk in the silver mines of Maine, where already over one hundred and fifty companies are organized, in Arkansas and in the South Atlantic States. Now, this sudden diversion of great sums of money is unwholesome. The returns, if any, are in the distant future. A great deal of this money will be absolutely wasted in prospecting, in putting up mills, in sinking shafts, in organizing water supplies, which will not tell at all, or from which there will be no return for eight or ten years.

From statistics recently published in the Daily Bulletin, it seems that of new railways there are nearly 16,000 miles either under way or projected. The capitalization of these will absorb, according to the Bulletin, $273,000,000, while the nominal capital is already put at $473,000,000. With regard to this matter, the Bulletin well says:

If we assume this to be the average rate of capitalization, it will follow that, upon the 15,612 miles projected and placed under construction within the last seven months, the new issues of stock and bonds will aggregate $437,000,000. If we take the actual cash cost of line and equipment to average $17,500 per mile, and assume that all the projected roads will be actually built, we reach the conclusion that these new enterprises will absorb $273,000,000 of capital. This diversion of capital and labor from its ordinary productive employments to provide mere facilities of transport constitutes a very important element in the prevailing tendency towards high prices. It was this same process of sinking capital in non-productive works in advance of the requirements of trade, that more than anything else brought upon the country the inflation that collapsed in 1873; and it is anything but an assuring symptom that the evil is being so soon and so holdly repeated.

With this revival of interests in non-productive work like railways, and the vast flow of capital into new mining enterprises, it will be seen that we are preparing for an unwholesome state of affairs here in the East, for tight money, for high prices, and, what is of more moment, to real estate owners, the indefinite postponement of any activity in realty. People have made money in the last year and a half, a great deal of it, but investors cannot eat their cake and have it too. They cannot invest heavily in new railways and "wild cat" mines, and then buy real estate besides. We believe the whole real estate interest will join with us in deploring the unhealthy excitement which is raging in the mining world. We believe, as they believe, that this intense interest in mines is unnatural, and that it will end in disaster.

Then, as to the properties we have criticised. We have picked out the so-called best in the market, to show even their shortcomings. We believe that in the end there is more likelihood of danger to the conservative investor from mines like the Ontario, Homestake, Father De Smet and the Standard than from the very worst "cats" on the market. The backers of these mines are Californians, who have so manipulated the San Francisco market that it has raised a public revolt which is driving them away from the Pacific coast. Mr. Haggin, of San Francisco, who is at the back of most of these mines, is a man of immense wealth, who has made it in ways satisfactory doubtless to himself, but not to those who have dealt with him.

Our readers may have noticed in the published list of San Francisco mines the Tiptop, of Arizona.

Among the officers of this mine occur the names of Messrs. Haggin & Lent. It is an open secret on the Pacific coast that they are getting the Tiptop ready to bring upon the New York market. It has been a large bullion producer, but has never paid any dividends. It has, however, been subject to several assessments. As the stock was scattered, it was desirable to consolidate it—and effecting this Mr. Haggin pursues the usual course, and Tiptop levies an assessment. There is one now upon that mine. The result, of course, was to depreciate the stock in order that the California people might get it in hand, bring it upon this market and sell it here at a high figure.

The Hillside Mine, of the Bristol District, Nevada, is also to be brought upon this market, and its present managers have been levying assessment after assessment in order to "freeze out" the present stockholders. We give these instances to show the methods pursued by those who look to floating properties upon the New York market. There are a dozen other mines we could mention which are being manipulated in the same way, the object being finally, of course, to get the Eastern public to pay ten and fifteen dollars a share for mining properties which are now selling for one, two and four dollars a share.

But enough of this. As we have said, if this kind of news is not popular with real estate investors we shall discontinue giving it, or put it in a special paper by itself.

NO HALT, BUT A HEALTHY, FORWARD MOVEMENT.

The financial editor of the Philadelphia Ledger, one of the ablest commercial writers in the country, thinks that the present business prosperity has come to stay a considerable time, and he points to the rise in real estate in the large cities as a sure indication that the present activity is not fictitious nor temporary, but sure to last several years. We quote:

"The increase in the rentals of stores and offices, and the brisk market for building lots and dwellings, show plainly that the business of all the large cities is in a healthy condition. Among the purchasers of houses are said to be not a few capitalists from other sections of the country, who have concluded to transfer themselves and their possessions to places where bustle and buoyancy usually make their first start. It is in the large cities that traffic and great profits first show themselves, and to these centres are the country sections gradually drained, until the current decade winds up with an overflowing city population and a general scramble back to the country and plain living. Cities rapidly grow in prosperous times and ten year seasons of adventure and enterprise, and shrink even more quickly when the current of trade halts and turns backward. But there is no indication yet of a turn back. The season of the 'boom' has but barely begun."

This applies not only to Philadelphia and Boston, but more particularly to New York. As THE RECORD has repeatedly shown, during the past few weeks, the "boom," as our contemporary admits, has but barely begun, and where it has shown vitality, it is limited to a certain section of the island only. There has been great activity between the Eighth and Ninth avenues, but, as we have already demonstrated, even there prices are not up to those of 1871 and 1872. As to other portions of the island, it cannot be said that any "boom" exists at all, but how soon it will come, in these days of activity, nobody can tell. It is well that this is so. Either too rapid an advance in prices in a particular locality, or a too general speculation in all parts of the city, would drive out of the real estate market the fresh blood of the mercantile community, which is the main spring of that healthy activity now witnessed in Pine street. Though Manhattan Island is a narrow strip of land, and the number of lots for sale is growing smaller year after year, there is plenty of time yet for an increase of prices, and plenty of room yet where the boom has not made its appearance. That splendid section of our city lying between the Hudson and Harlem, where the rocky ridge of the Island reaches its highest acclivity, is as yet virtually unknown either to speculators or the ordinary investor. The new road just completed, under the direction of General Viele, and which runs along the crests of the Washington Heights, will be opened for driving during the spring, by which time the greater part of that section will, no doubt, be divided up into villa sites of various dimensions. With the East Side settled, and the lower West Side cleared of unsightly shanties, so as to permit improvements to go forward there, the time is not far distant when upper New York, above described, will be taken in hand. Only there is a time for everything and nowhere more so than in real estate investments. There is ample room left yet for all who desire to settle permanently in the metropolis, and there exists no necessity for rushing matters in all directions.

As our Philadelphia contemporary remarks, it is only in the large cities that the tide of prosperity is making itself felt. The interior of our State has not, as yet, experienced a steady revival of business, and, until the smaller cities begin to share part of that activity, as they will in the course of the summer, it cannot be said that the present prosperity is general. Right across the river the situation is quite different. Neither in Brooklyn nor in Jersey City has there been a proportionate increase of prices in the real estate market, and matters there must also mend before we can consider ourselves in the full tide of prosperity. All this, however, goes to prove the more that the situation is healthy, that we are not going too fast and that there is no indication whatever of a halt, but of a steady, progressive forward movement, based upon a sound state of affairs.

THE LITTLE PITTSBURG AGAIN.

The excitement about Little Pittsburg continues unabated, but the daily press has not seen fit to ventilate the subject. When a disaster such as this occurs in England, the London Times makes it a subject of leaders, and there is no hesitancy in personally denouncing presidents, and officers of companies who put their names to misleading or fraudulent statements. This is not the practice of the New York press. All the scandals connected with the railroad era and the life insurance frauds were passed by because the large business and advertising interests connected with them would not tolerate free discussion. The newspapers are now very naturally trying to increase their business receipts, and, as the mining interest is large and growing, they do not think they can afford to expose deception if it will interfere with the general mining business. We gave last week a list of the directors of the Little Pittsburg and showed how small a number of shares were held by them on the 13th of March. In an interview in the Tribune, Mr. Chaffee, its president, admitted that he knew the condition of affairs last January, but he thought that the ore reserve might last until June, yet the following are extracts from a circular sent out from the Little Pittsburg office on January 10, 1880. The circular contained the result of the examination of Mr. J. C. Wilson, general manager, by the executive committee of the Little Pittsburg Consolidated Company, on January 9.

After many questions in regard to the plan of working the mine, the condition of its timbers, shafts, etc., the following questions were asked by Mr. Smith, one of the directors:

Q. Tell me, in round numbers, how much ore you have taken out since the company was organized?

A. About $1,800,000.

Q. Do you recollect about the amount of ore that was uncovered when the party was out there last spring?

A. I think it was placed somewhere between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000.

Q. What amount should you think we have now uncovered?

A. I have not gone into any calculation recently, but some time ago I made an estimate, and from it I conclude that we have now thirty months' dividends in sight, and possibly $5,000,000.

Q. That is based upon explorations and developments already made?

A. Yes, sir; from developments actually made, without taking into consideration the probabilities in the unexplored ground; I think there is a large body of ore in the Dives, but I don't take that into consideration in my estimate of $5,000,000; I have taken nothing into account but what I can look at.

After other questions, concerning the method of assaying the ore and other points tending to show the economical management of the property, Mr. Wilson's examination concludes as follows:

Q. (By Mr. Smith.) You have already told us of three years, and possibly five years, of dividends in sight upon our property at the present moment, and only the smaller portion of the property opened; what is your opinion of the future probability of ore developments?

A. From the amount of ground developed the property has already produced, and, in my opinion, yet shows in sight, what will be equal to over $8,000,000 net, if we are to reckon upon this basis—and I know of no reason why we should not—then, as before stated, we have but a portion of the ground developed, leaving the largest part to be yet developed; after making due allowance for possible barren ground and all other contingencies, it would be safe to reckon that the remaining undeveloped portion of the property will yield a net profit of $25,000,000, or say a total of $33,000,000 from date of discovery.

Q. It has been estimated by experts that we shall receive a much larger amount, and by some as high as $50,000,000 to $60,000,000; you seem to be under these figures—why?

A. I would rather underestimate the amount than over state it; I want to state an amount that I feel confident results will justify.

Following is an extract from a circular sent out by the president of the company on October 24, 1879.

Since publishing this prospectus the ore reserves have been largely increased, and at a low estimate the ore now exposed in the New Discovery claim alone amounts to fully $5,000,000 (five million dollars.) In addition to the payment of the regular dividend of $100,000 (one hundred thousand dollars) per month, the company have a surplus of $150,000 (one hundred and fifty thousand dollars), which fund we expect to increase during the month of November to $250,000 (two hundred and fifty thousand dollars). The surplus in excess of this amount will be disbursed in extra dividends from time to time, as the directors may deem advisable. * * *

Yet, with these statements deliberately made, under authority of the officers of the company, the mine practically runs out of pay ore within two months. At this very time that these re-assuring statements were published, the officers of the company were selling out their stock, and probably "going short" of the market. Is it any wonder that public confidence has been shaken, not only in mining but in the integrity of the people who manage them, and who have heretofore borne reputable names. One of these names is that of Ex-Governor Rice, of Massachusetts. That he profited by his inside knowledge is shown by the fact that he had only two hundred shares on the 13th of March. It is the opinion of some people acquainted with the stringent laws of this State, that all these Directors could be proceeded against by stockholders who lost money. Our mining laws in the State of New York are very severe. They involve great responsibilities to Directors, and the lawyers will yet have a fat harvest in prosecuting trustees for deceptive statements. We think it would be a good thing if the gentlemen interested in the management of the Little Pittsburg were brought to trial. They are now under a cloud. Perhaps the result of the trial would clear them of having practically entered into a conspiracy against the stockholders of the company they were in office to protect. Certainly, somebody lost a great deal of money in the fall of the stock, from thirty-three down to eight, but it seems from the published list that they who lost were not the officers of the Little Pittsburg.

THE NEW PARK COMMISSIONER AND CITY IMPROVEMENTS.

While Mayor Cooper is to be congratulated at having appointed ex-Comptroller Andrew H. Green as successor to the late Park Commissioner, Mr. Wetmore, it is a mistaken idea, nevertheless, to date from this appointment a new era in our uptown city improvements, as is predicted in certain quarters. No single man, however energetic or honest, can under the present system of our municipal government inaugurate a practical reform in that direction. It is not a change of men that is wanted, but a change of measures. Can anyone tell where there is to-day a limit to the operations of the Park Department, and how far extends the jurisdiction of the Department of Public Works. Where does it begin, and where does it end? Amidst the conflict of authority, as created by the very statutes now in force, Commissioner Campbell has thus far sailed along very smoothly, taking responsibilities here and ignoring duties there, so as to keep himself pretty safely in smooth water. But how will it be when he meets a determined, industrious official, who, with notions of his own as to the actual powers of the Park Department, may, and no doubt will, insist upon the control of certain streets and avenues, which Mr. Campbell has been quietly permitted to take under his wing? There probably is not a single phase of our municipal government that needs such thorough systematizing as this very question of city improvements. Avenues and squares have been neglected and permitted to remain barren deserts in our midst, simply owing to this conflict of authority, or rather ever changing system of authority. Manhattan square is a case in point. Its present unsightly condition is due, not to the jealousies of officials, but to the doubt that naturally hangs over all sorts of municipal improvements, whether this or that can be done under the present existing muddle of the municipal statutes. The newly annexed district, which needs thorough draining, and that, too, without delay, would long ago have been taken in hand were it not for the confusing mass of worthless statutes and ordinances that clog the operations of the most energetic department charged with such work. Mr. Green's appointment will be valueless to all intents and purposes, unless the legislature before adjournment, simplify the laws regulating city improvements, and make them uniform, so that hereafter, there will be an absence of all doubt as to the right of this or that official to do this or to do that. This is the kind of legislation we want for New York City just now, and we can well afford to wait another year for those phases of the new charter which are purely political.

SUPPRESSING PUBLIC RECORDS.

Among the instruments recorded at the Register's Office recently, were two deeds which were for a time suppressed by the officials of that office. One of the papers was a deed by which James Scobie conveyed to Charles R. Robert a plot of land, 172.1x135.5x irregular, located on the east side of Riverside avenue, 225 feet north of One Hundred and Sixteenth street, for a nominal consideration. Nothing could be ascertained about the other suppressed document, further than that it was a deed from J. Hustace to Louis A. Loew, a brother of the Register, who is employed as a collector in his brother's office, and a request for the production of the paper elicited the reply that it could not be had for publication, as Mr. Loew did not desire to have the transaction reported. Several other instruments have been suppressed in the same manner within the past few months, and no trace could be found of them.—Daily Tribune.

We copy the above—as the common saying is now-a-days—from our “esteemed contemporary,” for the purpose simply of calling our reader's attention to the fact, how important it is to subscribe for and read THE REAL ESTATE RECORD. Both of the instruments alluded to by the Tribune were duly recorded in these columns at the proper time, without any delay in their publication or abbreviation in any details whatever. We know of no “instruments” that have been “suppressed” in the Register's office, as here charged, within the past few months, and if such an attempt was ever made, our experts, ever on the alert, would be the very first to discover it, and their discovery would be cheerfully assisted by the Register himself, who has no desire whatever to withhold any information from those entitled to it. The reliability of our columns, so often tested during the past few years by the press and the public, is once more confirmed by the above publication in a leading daily, and must be construed by all of our friends as a veritable compliment to THE RECORD, which is always right, regardless of officials or any other set of men.

YELLOW HOUSES.

O'Neill, on Sixth avenue, has tried the effect of a novelty in color in painting the outside of his store, which will probably have many imitators. Instead of the ordinary red, he has given his store a coating of yellow with black lines and brown trimmings, which is certainly very attractive and striking. In Milwaukee, Wis., in Rockford and Chicago, Ill., there are quite a number of houses constructed of Milwaukee yellow brick and of a species of rough yellow stone, which is very pleasing to the eye in a building. The first instance of the use of Milwaukee brick in this city was in the coal and real estate building at the corner of Thames street and Broadway. Time, however, has discolored that building, but when first put up the effect was very striking and picturesque. It is something to have any relief from the brown sand stone or red brick of New York City. We think, however, that even red brick might be much more used than it is in combination with white and other colored stone trimmings, but an apartment house of yellow would, we think, be a pleasing novelty and will prove attractive. It will be remembered that yellow is the color which can be seen farthest. The most distant object in nature is the yellow star with its background of dark blue. The most effective signs on the streets are gold with a background of black, and we hope that architects and designers in constructing or recommending new edifices of New Yorkers will try the effects of yellow, so as to be able to recommend that color. Its combinations with black and brown are very effective.

HINTS IN BUYING UNIMPROVED REALTY.

First, purchase on leading avenues, rather than on side streets. When an advance is made, the avenue lots, although dearer, advance in price geometrically, while the side street lots improve in market value arithmetically. There is a possible forty to sixty thousand dollars in every lot on Eighth avenue, fronting the Park, or in lots on Riverside Drive overlooking the Hudson River. Certain lots on the Boulevard which can be got to-day for six and seven thousand dollars may some time in the future be selling for thirty thousand dollars. But side street lots, which can be bought to-day for from three to six thousand dollars, will very rarely reach, even in ten years time, more than seven to ten thousand dollars.

Second, if you cannot afford an avenue lot, buy the lots on the street nearest the avenue. The houses near Fifth Avenue are worth very much more than those situated in the centre of the block.

Third, you can afford to pay more for a north side exposure than you can for a south side exposure. It will be noticed that when the south side is wet, the north side pavement will be dry. There are many sanitary and other reasons why the north side of the street is the best.

Fourth, buy when prices are low, and sell when they are high, always taking a fair profit. Never wait for “booms.”

Fifth, the most money is made in buying high priced lots, just in advance of improvements. There is more profit in property along the line of the elevated roads, to be made within the next five years than there is by buying cheap acres on the north side of the Harlem River.

Sixth, remember that people go out of town for economy and come to town for luxury. Hence the superior advantages of city over suburban property for investment purposes. The price of a city lot in time becomes a fancy price. Two horses which look exactly alike, bred of the same dam and sire may yet differ very greatly in price. The one may sell for one thousand dollars and the other for five thousand and all because there is a few seconds difference in the time which one can make over the other. So it is with city lots. Some that are quite as good as others are, will sell for lower prices because of their remoteness from some desirable locality.

Seventh, you can afford to mortgage on a rising market, but are foolish if you do it on a falling one.

FORECLOSURE SALES AND REFEREES.

A motion was made a week ago in the Supreme Court, before Judge Daniels, by John McGurk, counsel for A. J. Dam, to set aside a sale of property which was made in the month of March in the Exchange, by Richard V. Harnett, and by order of E. Ellery Anderson, referee. The property was owned by A. J. Dam, and the foreclosure was made on account of Mr. Dam's failure to pay the $6,000 mortgage. It consisted of a house and several lots in the Twenty-third Ward. It is alleged that the sale was not advertised except in The Register.

The affidavit alleges that some days before the proposed sale, Mr. McGurk, in behalf of Mr. Dam, served upon the referee a written request that he should state to those present on the day of sale the nature and condition of the improvements which Mr. Dam had made, and which had cost him $4,500. The affidavit declares that Mr. Anderson put the matter into the hands of Richard V. Harnett, auctioneer, and that on the day of sale Mr. Dam, Mr. McGurk and the referee attended with one or two other persons; that then Mr. Dam and his attorney both requested the referee to inform those present, and especially one person, who desired to get information on the subject, with a probable intention of purchasing, what improvements had been added to the property by Mr. Dam. The affidavit declares that the referee refused to furnish the information for the purpose of benefiting the owner. Mr. McGurk asked the Court to grant an order to show cause why the sale should not be set aside. Judge Daniels granted the motion, ordering the return to be made on April 1. On this last date counter affidavits were presented, showing that the allegations of the plaintiff were entirely erroneous, and the Court, Judge Lawrence presiding, peremptorily refused the motion to set the sale aside, the plaintiff also being ordered to pay the cost of the litigation, thus vindicating the action of both auctioneer and referee.

TAXATION OF MORTGAGES.

Mr. Chamberlain introduces a bill in the Assembly, providing that real estate mortgages shall not be taxed, but the land shall be taxed in full to the mortgagors, who shall be credited on the mortgage with such an amount as the mortgage bears to the assessed valuation. This is a bad scheme. Suppose a piece of land worth $10,000 is mortgaged for $3,000. Notoriously, it is never assessed at more than $6,000. This scheme would make the mortgagee pay half the tax when he has not one-third interest in the land. But the bill is clearly unconstitutional as to existing mortgages, and has been in effect so pronounced by the Federal Supreme Court. That court said, in Murray v. City Council of Charleston, 96 U. S. 432; S. C. 17 Alb. L. J. 321: "It may then safely be affirmed that no State, by virtue of its taxing power, can say to a debtor, 'you need not pay to a creditor all of what you have promised to him. You may satisfy your duty to him by retaining a part for yourself, or for some municipality, or for the State treasury.'" As to mortgages that are not in existence, the bill would be perfectly ineffectual, for no one would be so foolish as to lend his money on mortgage under such a law. The scheme is dishonest, unjust, ridiculous and impotent.—Albany Law Journal.

HIGH BRIDGE PARK AND VICINITY.

The one hundred lots or thereabouts secured at the Carman sale by Mr. William Lalor form together, perhaps, the most eligible plot of ground that can be found in that section. Situated directly north of Reservoir Park, or as it is better known, High Bridge Park, and the southern portion on the Harlem River, the various acres of ground present a most magnificent view of the surrounding country. The solid and comfortable mansion located on the plot nearest the New avenue, was built by Mr. Richard F. Carman for his own use, is solid throughout and just as nice a residence as one could wish for. It might be stated in this connection that the timber used in this house is part of the same material used for the construction of the High Bridge, and which Mr. Carman secured for his especial benefit. Immediately adjoining are extensive outhouses, barns and stables, also a fine pond. A boat-house directly in front of the house furnishes all the conveniences required for those who desire to indulge in aquatic sports on the Harlem River. A boathouse four hundred feet long, near the northerly line of what was formerly known as One Hundred and Seventy-sixth street, in the centre of the plot, adjoining the mansion, can be made available without delay by any one securing this property. The new Boulevard or Public Drive goes through the very heart of this part of the Carman estate, thus favoring improvements of no small order. Other sheds and extensive stables, more directly bordering on High Bridge Park, go to complete a purchase that may be regarded as the most advantageous secured during the present season. Mr. Lalor is willing to show any one not thoroughly acquainted with that neighborhood over a section of ground that is destined to have an immense future, especially now that the improvement of the Harlem River is a simple question of time.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages iv., v. and vi. of advertisement.

Were it not for the activity displayed by the auctioneers who had numerous orders to sell property that had been held back for some time past by executors and trustees of estates, the market might have been called languid. Not that investors have at all exhausted either their energies, or their resources, for any number of them were on hand day after day to secure choice parcels, but only at their own figures, and not at the dictation of any "boom" preachers. The latter have indeed had somewhat of a set back during the past week, especially those dealing in speculative property. Nevertheless, in the face of his temporary lull, the duration of which depends greatly upon the state of the money market, some sales of considerable magnitude were made during the week, all continuing to show a healthy state of affairs in the very absence of all excitement. Property in the Eighth and adjoining wards, in Spring, Greene, Wooster, West Third and even Twelfth street, found ready purchasers, anxious to invest their surplus fund in that now semi-business section, thus showing confidence in the continuance of commercial prosperity. Ninth avenue lots, as far up as One Hundred and Sixth street, were eagerly snapped up by buyers who count their dollars twice before handing them over, but when it came to the section where the speculative mania has been raging, though only to a small degree during the past two months, there was a halt, and where there was no halt, there were lower prices. Probably the most successful auction sale during the week was the partition sale of the estate of Jas. Meinell, by Mr. Raymond. An excellent price, $77,300, was secured for the Broadway property near Thirty-second street, and also for several other parcels. The southeast corner of Broadway and Prince street, comprising five lots, did not come up to the estimate of many who watched the sale, and Mr. Southmayd, who, it is said, was acting for Mr. Wm. Astor, secured the property for about $230,000. The Olympic Theatre property, purchased by Mr. Rothschild, is also considered a good investment for future improvement.

Some fair sales also took place in Brooklyn, and the Twenty-fourth Ward during the week, particulars of which will be found in our list at foot.

Some notable auction sales are announced for the coming week. Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son will hold on Thursday a partition sale of twenty-seven choice lots on St. Nicholas, Tenth and Eleventh avenues, Eighty-second, Ninety-fourth and One Hundred and Twenty-first streets, by order of the executors of Wm. Stammers. The attention of investors is particularly directed to this sale, full details of which will be found in our advertising columns.

Valuable improved Broadway, Canal street and other property, also several vacant lots on the West End and Twelfth avenues, by order of the executors of George Fulton, will be offered by Mr. Harnett on Tuesday.

Two vacant lots well located on Eighty-first street, west of Lexington avenue, will be sold peremptorily by the Messrs. Phillips on Wednesday.

Business property in the lower part of the city, especially in South, Roosevelt and Water streets, will be sold during the week at auction by Mr. Hugh N. Camp.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

There has been the usual inquiry after vacant lots during the week in the various brokers' offices, but bidders are unwilling as yet to see the lull in the market and remain firm in their demands. A continuance of this lull for a few days longer will result in their yielding to the demands of those standing ready to invest fresh funds in the real estate market. The financial institutions are quietly making sales of property they have now been carrying for some time to those who do not always visit Pine street. We hear of a sale by an up town savings bank of thirty-two lots along the Boulevard, Tenth avenue, Eighty-fifth and Eighty-sixth streets, for $125,000 and the assessments of $30,000.

Messrs. Scott & Myers have sold during the week, at private contract, for Mr. J. H. Robinson, thirty lots on Ninth avenue, Ninety-fourth and Ninety-fifth streets, for $125,000 to Mr. John Noble.

The sixteen Boulevard and One Hundred and Twenty-second street lots recently sold by Mr. Wm. Myer to Mr. A. H. Stevens for $57,500, have been resold for $64,000.

Three stable lots, in a locality where there is but little of that sort of property to be had, have been sold by ex-Mayor Gunther on Sixty-sixth street, between Lexington and Fourth avenues, for $24,000.

As we go to press we hear of the purchase of the block bounded by Fourth and Madison avenues, One Hundred and Twenty-first and One Hundred and Twenty-second streets, except two lots on the southeast corner of Madison avenue and One Hundred and Twenty-second street, for $125,000, to Messrs. Deane & Chamberlain, who have signed the contract, it is said, in behalf of other parties as yet unknown.

A sixty-ninth street lot, between Third and Lexington avenues, has been sold at private contract by B. M. Farley for $9,000. The same party has sold during the week a three-story and basement house on Seventy-second street, between Second and Third avenues, 16 8x50x11 2.2, for $12,000.

Among other sales at private contract of improved property, we note the following by Mr. Lionel Froehlich: No. 240 East Fiftieth street to Geo. Ott for $9,500; No. 404 East Fiftieth street to C. A. Stadler for $9,500, and 2-9 East Fifty-second street to H. Kling for $7,750. Mr. B. S. Levy has sold during the week No. 207 West Thirty-eighth street for $15,000.

Mr. Wm. S. Ridabock (executor) has sold Nos. 20, 22, 24 and 26 Greene street, 75 5x100, to Mr. Samuel Inslee for $55,000. The latter purposes erecting two six-story, iron front buildings, 37.5x100, each to be ready for occupancy by the first of January, 1881.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending April 2:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—The market for Common Hards has been somewhat irregular since our last, with the final position slightly in sellers favor, although as yet showing no special inclination to buoyancy. At one time the accumulation was quite full, amounting to about two and one half millions, and pretty much all "Up Rivers," under which the depression was sufficient to shade cost a trifle, and some sales reached down to $1.50 M. About the middle of the week, however, buyers came forward with greater freedom, and so reduced the amount afloat as to form basis for some recovery and as we write the line of valuation is up again to $7.75@8.25 per M. with not many attractive offerings available below $9.00. On Haverstraws the rate has been a little more uniform with $8.25@9 covering the general range, and $8.50 now about as low, as stock can be reached. Indeed, our attention has again been called to the fact that no really first-class quality can be found even at the above outside figure, as the principal manufacturers continue to hold back their supplies, and assert that they will positively refuse to ship until assured of a much higher rate. Pale Bricks do not find much favor and have an uncertain sort of value, sellers frequently making quite a variation on cost to suit momentary views, but about $5@5.50 per M seems to be about all that can be obtained for the average offering. Fronts quiet for want of stock. We have met parties this week recently returned from a trip along the Hudson River, and their reports indicate simply immense preparations for the next crop. In fact almost everybody, great and small, who has the least knowledge of brick making (and some who know nothing about it at all) appear to be going into the business, and yards which have remained idle for years will again be brought into requisition to help swell the output of Brick.

CEMENT.—Demand for domestic continues good from local points, and there is a gradual increase on the run of orders from out of town sources. The supply not large and prices firm. Imported stock is quite scarce, old accumulations having been worked down and current receipts mostly placed before arrivals which with continued cheerful accounts from abroad leads to a little buoyancy and except under special contract it would now be difficult to reach any of the leading brands of Portland for less than $3 per bbl.

HARDWARE.—For staple goods there is a fair seasonable demand, but no great amount of activity and the movement on the whole is evidently somewhat disappointing, dealers having calculated upon a greater revival ere this. Bad country roads, high railway tariffs, etc., are named among the principal causes leading to the slow tone, but the high cost of hardware and the receding value of material coupled with a pretty full accumulation of supplies at many points in the interior are factors of no small importance in checking demand. Buyers in fact have cooled down in the excitement into which they were led during the early portion of the year, and now stand off for better terms, with indications not wanting that they may be able to realize their hopes upon some of the leading styles of goods of a staple character. The disagreement between manufacturers of Wood Screws has already turned the cost in buyer's favor and while list notes remain about as before outside lots are selling at some reduction.

It is announced that E. M. Boynton, Lightning Cross Cut, Champion Cross Cut and other varieties of saws, controlled by the same patentee, will be advanced in price on April 15th, Mallory, Wheeler & Co. have issued their revised list for Door Knobs, etc., with discount sheet at 10 per cent. on Padocks and Padlock Keys; and 30 per cent. on balance of list. Ball Braces, Nos. 117, 118 and 119, have made another advance to 50 and 2½ per cent. discount.

LATH.—As our last report was closed the market appeared to be lacking in strength, and subsequent developments verified the indications as further sales were made on the declining scale, until $1.50 per M was touched. A change in the wind and unexpected heavy arrivals, brought a full accumulation afloat, which receivers were compelled to offer with some freedom, and as the majority of dealers continued indifferent, and investment in lath as an article for speculation appeared to have been abandoned, about the only course was to shade until demand could be attracted. Having finally worked out the surplus, however, the selling interest regained an advantage, and partial recovery on price followed, with the valuation now again restored to $1.75, and some showing of firmness made. Indeed, we know of two instances at least, where receivers are piling out cargoes failing to reach the above rate, under instructions from manufacturers. The claim is again made that the bulk of the shipments intended for this market are now forward, and that even were there a desire to send more it could be done only in limited quantity, owing to the exhaustion of supplies at primary points. In addition to this, also, our market when at its recent high figure was the main attraction to shippers, but since the break many other markets, and some of them nearer the shipping source, offer a better margin, and naturally may be expected to draw a good proportion of the stock seeking sale from first hands. Our dealers hang back somewhat, because they cannot secure or duplicate purchases at $1.50, but a few seem to be inclined to bid up a trifle as we close, and the feeling is more cheerful.

LIME.—Demand has continued slow and uncertain, the condition of building operations as before indicated not leading to a very liberal consumption of lime at present. Supplies in the meantime while not over large have been abundant, as compared with the outlet, and receivers found it necessary to shade on cost. The decline is 10c per bbl and the new rates on Rockland stand at 90 for common and $1.15 for finishing and State lime weaker in proportion.

LUMBER.—Business continues to move along without unusual excitement or flurry. Yet on all classes of lumber dealers appear to be occupied and there has of late been some increase in the volume of operations. This is in part due to slightly larger offerings which, in verification of indications previously noted, secured attention the moment they became available, and in part to a more open and direct call from buyers seeking to engage stock on orders against coming wants. A portion of the latter is new demand and a portion comes from those who have been trying the "holding off" policy and after due consideration conclude that it is not likely to work advantageously for some time to come at least. The movements have been facilitated by the development of a few new sources of supply, principally Eastward, and it is also gently hinted that manufacturers receiving bids slightly in excess of the currently quoted market rates have suddenly discovered that some of the engagements on hand were not quite so pressing as they supposed and "just to accommodate" the new and full bid a few cargoes could be run in at a comparatively early date. Taken altogether the position seems to be fairly balanced, with no evidences that stock can be offered with sufficient freedom to cause more than a fractional shading, yet the season is so far forward as to remove danger of actual scarcity and the temptation of slightly increased bids likely to induce an extra effort to meet the call.

Spruce continues to show a slight degree of irregularity but not sufficient to influence the general range of values, and the selling interest retains most of the advantage. A few of the yards now show a fair assortment in view of the receipt of early ordered specifications, and the opportunity occasionally afforded to pick up a random cargo. The accumulation, however, is by no means large, retail dealers appear to have abandoned the old cut throat policy of competition, and now ask a fair advance over the cargo cost instead of selling below it. Some contracts on specials have again been closed, but buyers say it was a rather difficult matter to induce sellers to meet them. On the general range, quotations remain at $16.50@17.50 for Randoms and $17.50@18.50 for specials.

White Pine is in somewhat larger supply under the receipt of stocks wintered over up the river, etc., but even a portion of these arrivals were under engagement and the accumulation is neither excessive or uncomfortable. Demand keeps up well from all home sources, indeed, if anything a little beyond calculations, and the present loadings for export are quite full with indications that shippers still hold some comparatively liberal orders on West India account. The South American call has subsided. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine continues in first rate shape and the selling interest has very few neutralizing influences to combat. The outlet for stock is full as now existing with the prospect strongly in favor of an increase and of late there has been noticeable a more vigorous form of bidding as an inducement for manufacturers to agree to early delivery. This has proven successful in a few cases but mill proprietors are careful about making engagements as even where there is a probability of cutting stock in time, there is very serious doubts about obtaining shipping facilities except of an advance. Prices are higher generally and close firm. We quote random cargoes at about $24@26 per M; ordered cargoes, $25@27 do; green flooring boards, $23@27 do, and dry do do, $26@28. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $22@24 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $15@16 for rough, and $20@22 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are generally quoted about as before with some increase of the demand and little or no addition to the supply available. Values very firmly supported on all grades and in some cases the cost on the primary point is said to be relatively higher than here. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. cills, $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles have already commenced to sell with some freedom on home account and the export call keeping up well values are easily sustained. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar shingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

At the yards business is good and general in character with values well sustained.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am ship, 2,166 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Liverpool, deals, 57s. 6d.; a schr, 351 tons, hence to Cardenas, empty hogheads, 60c.; a Br brig, 146 tons, hence to Port-au-Platte, lumber and general cargo, $1,025; a barque, 521 tons, from Portland to Cardenas, empty hogheads, 85c.; a barque, 595 tons, hence to Havana, white pine lumber, $4; three Br schrs, from St. John, N. The Tonawanda Herald says:

The toll sheet adopted by the canal board only differs from that of 1879 in these particulars: Toll on timber squared and round, transported in rafts per 1,000 cubic feet, five mills instead of one cent; foreign salt, one mill instead of two and one-half mills.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, March 30, 1880.

If there has been any change in the market during the past week it has been in the direction of greater firmness and an advance on uppers. One dealer having a fine quality of dry uppers is asking $40 for them, which is generally regarded as more than they are worth, but uppers being scarce both on the river and in the outside markets that price may yet be realized. A number of dealers from abroad have been on the river the past week and several sales have been made. A sale of 2,000,000 feet at $7, $14 and $35 is reported; one of 500,000 at $7, $14 and $34, another of 500,000 at $7, $14 and $32 and a smaller lot of coarse dry lumber at $6.50, $13 and $30. Driving prospects are very discouraging. A number of the mills intend to start up next week, if the warm weather continues favorable. The salt association has reduced the price of salt 20 cent per barrel. Shingles continue in active request.

We quote cargo rates:

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, } CHICAGO, March 25, 1880. }

The weather has been fine since the date of our last report, and while the trade at the yards has not presented any appearance of animation, the figures of shipments show a volume of more than 30 per cent. increase over the corresponding week of last year; while in shingles the excess is more than 70 per cent. The figures of shipment are, however, hardly a criterion, as we have reports of a heavy city demand, the extent of which cannot be approximated until the reduction of stock, as indicated by the usual monthly report of stock on hand shall reveal it after the first of April. That it is large may well be asserted, as indicated by one bill now being figured on by several dealers, of which the sum is 4,000,000 feet. Exchanges among dealers are becoming so common in consequence of the broken character of the stock, that we can scarcely find a dealer who expects to fill an order out of his own yard. As regards the prospect of stocks for the coming season we see no reason to modify our former statements. While a portion of the territory contributing to Chicago's supply will, without doubt, have a full stock, and, as regards Menominee, will probably have 30 to 35 per cent. more logs in the stream than for the cut of 1879, it is unquestionable that the greater part of the territory has not such a surplus either of logs or lumber as can in any event respond to an increased demand over last year, if such should be experienced. It is even doubtful if the Menominee and other northern streams will be able to utilize their excess stock, from inability to largely increase the mill capacity of last year. We still think that Chicago can count upon nearly 1,500,000,000 feet for the coming season, but can find no favorable indication for hoping that this amount can be increased. Present indications point to an eastern demand for a portion of this supply. Should the Michigan drives prove a failure to any great extent, Chicago will not be able to get all the lumber her customers will be in need of. That the situation is appreciated by larger buyers is evident from the patience with which they listen to figures which even three months ago would have been scouted at.

Prices are firm in the market, the only element of disquiet being that of yards which are about changing location, some of which will give better terms to country customers on time than to home yards for cash.

Navigation can hardly be called open, although a large number of vessels are afloat.

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, } MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., March 25, 1880. }

The events of the last week have proved the sagacity of the representatives of the Mississippi Valley at the late Chicago Convention, in declining to adopt a uniform price list for the whole West, which they did upon the express ground that Chicago would not maintain her own list. The fact becoming generally known that many large dealers were cutting prices to secure trade in the West; they offer as an excuse that they intend to move their yards this spring, and want to reduce stocks. A comparison between the thickness of this reason and a mosquito bar would make the latter at least ten feet through. The river markets are suffering a little by reason of the reduction of freights west from the lake, but still are enjoying a large trade. The cold weather of the last week added very seriously to the stock of logs in the Northwest, but not much to the crop of Michigan. The men are coming out of the woods of the Northwest feeling good, but the transactions so far have not been sufficient to establish prices on logs anywhere. Holders and buyers are a considerable distance apart and few sales are on p. t. The Chicago "bear" organ claims and parades the shortage of logs in Michigan now to be considerable, but will produce the evidence that it will be more than made up about the time new lumber shipments commence.

Prices are fairly adhered to in all parts of the West, although many are cleaning up the remnants of stocks which are seldom choice in any grade. The matter of transportation continues to be the one great question in the Northwest. Heavy shipments are reported by the new line which makes a show of intention to hold a share of the business. Trade at St. Louis runs half a million a day on the smallest kind of a stock. Business at Minneapolis remains in a satisfactory condition as will be seen by the tables of shipments.

The Commercial Gazette of St. Louis has the following upon the timber supply:

One of the most important subjects upon which information may be expected to be compiled in the census of the present year is that of timber supply. It has been a much vexed and very bewildering subject. It has evaded calculations and ruined the credit of many a statistical theorist. Concerning it, assertions have been easy and plenty, and proofs difficult and lacking. The census report of 1870 gave the annual production of lumber at 12,000,000,000 feet. A standard statistical work then estimated the country's total supply of standing pine, spruce and hemlock timber at 100,000,000,000 feet; but a full decade has nearly passed, and, so far as trade indications are concerned, the lumber regions are as inexhaustible as ever. Ten years ago it was confidently predicted that all the territory of Canada and of the United States which lies east of the line of the Rocky mountains would be substantially denuded of timber. The facts are far from bearing out the prediction. Yet it is indisputable that within 60 or 70 years past the forests of the Eastern States have disappeared, and that they have been consumed by a much less dense population than that which is now drawing upon our present supply. It is high time that a definite and reliable account of our timber supply should be taken. The people desire to know just where we stand in this regard. If it is absolutely necessary to assist or protect nature in her production of timber, the sooner the all-important fact is known the better. Most persons of ordinary reading are aware that European governments devote much expensive attention to the subject of forestry. It is not impossible that we have been neglecting this interest too long. At any rate there is no good excuse for the present state of dense ignorance in which this question is now enveloped. No one can say with anything like exact truth whether the country is or is not to experience a timber famine in a dangerously near future. If the coming census does not settle this question it will fail of its mission.

FOREIGN.

This week's steamer from Rio de Janeiro brings mail advices to March 5th (A. C. Nathan & Co.), as follows:

Pitch Pine Deals.—The arrivals have been 491,076 feet per Proteus, from Brunswick, 303,246 feet per Woodland from Feruandina, 233,082 feet per Aquidneck from St. Mary's and 362,527 feet per H. B. Sibley from Pensacola; all sold at $3$000 per dozen 3x9x14. Market is steady, and now that the shipments from the United States are known to have been small, we are enabled to quote Rs. 36$000 per dozen, 3x9x14, which figure the next arriving cargoes should fetch.

Spruce Pine Deals.—None on hand, a few re sales have taken place at Rs. 29$000 per dozen. We quote Rs. 28$000 per dozen. Market steady.

White Pine Lumber.—The arrivals have been 215,027 feet per Ocean, and 415,831 feet per Verona, both vessels from New York, and both lots sold at 110 reis per foot. Market supplied.

We make the following clipping from the London Timber Trade's Journal:

In London there is no apparent abatement of confidence in the rise of deals, &c., but some people are beginning to find out that there is likely to be as much goods of most sorts coming forward this season as the trade will require. The month has begun very favorably for the building trade, and outdoor work can be got through almost as well now as at any season of the year. This has given more heart to the dealers, and improved the demand considerably; hence the sale we have just referred to may be taken as the best, both in attendance and general interest, that has taken place since the year was born. Buyers are becoming accustomed to the altered state of prices, and are prepared for a continuance of the present premium which wood has attained. Deals of good class last year were not considered much of a bargain at £10 10s., whereas now similar goods cannot be obtained for £2 more, and battens even fetch as much.

LIVERPOOL.

The tendency toward a decline in prices, which has recently pervaded nearly all branches of business, has not passed without in some degree affecting our timber market.

Wholesale prices of some goods, such as spruce deals, are weaker, owing as was pointed out previously, to be the lower rates of freight now obtainable in the shipping ports, whilst the higher prices now demanded for other woods, owing either to the short stock on hand, the increased cost abroad, and the probability of limited supplies, has tended to check consumption and rendered buyers diffident of purchasing further than is absolutely necessary to keep them going on with the works they have in hand.

The demand for wood goods, generally speaking, is, therefore, steady, but limited, inasmuch as there are now very few large orders in the market, and the impending dissolution of Parliament will, no doubt, tend to check the trade of the country until after Easter, and in this we must expect the timber trade to suffer with all other branches of business.

Reports from the Tyne indicate that the American timber trade, as compared with last year, is opening out well. A few more ships are expected in the Tyne with pitch pine from Pensacola.

DUBLIN.—The Irish Times, in its timber report, states that trade has been better this week than for a long time past, and a large business has been done at advanced rates. A cargo of pitch pine and another of flooring are reported. These are the first arrivals this year. The following are the latest quotations: St. John deals, £13 to £14 per standard; first Quebec, £21 to £22; second Quebec, £14; third Quebec spruce, £12 10s. to £13; pitch pine, 65s. to 70s. per ton; yellow pine timber, 90s.; red pine timber, 70s. to 80s. per ton; large Memel, 72s. 6d. to 75s.; small Memel, 52s. 6d.

NAILS.—A fair number of calls are still made to meet export orders but none of any great magnitude so far as reported. The home demand is uncertain in volume, occasionally running pretty full and then down to quite small proportions, but in all cases buyers appear to be governed by the old caution and are rarely known to anticipate their wants. On prices there is much irregularity. A "list" is still named as representing manufacturers prices, and possibly it does, but rumors of outside lots available at something less are so constant there is natural reason to believe in foundation for the report. We quote nominally 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.65; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.15; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.65; 2d per keg, $7.90. Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.90. Floor casing and box, $6.15@6.90. Finishing, $6.70@7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.

1 3/4 to 1 1/2 in. 2 & 2 1/4 in. 2 1/2 & 3 1/4 in. 3 in. & longer.
$7.90@8.00 $7.40 $7.15 $6.90 per keg.

OILS.—A very fair jobbing distribution is taking place to about all the usual outlets, and at steady rates, with dealers manifesting no hurry to operate. In a wholesale way, business is dull. We quote Linseed Oil at 80@83c. from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—A good, general jobbing trade is doing, covering all the leading styles of goods, and full rates are obtained. A portion of the movement is on local account, but there is some call from the interior, including orders from points only just now represented on the market, and from whence a further liberal call is expected to develop. From first hands the sales are good in the aggregate, but somewhat irregular, buyers only moving to the extent of early wants. On leads there has been some weakness shown, owing to the decline in material, but, as a general thing, the tone of prices is quite steady, and the holders offer stocks carefully.

PITCH.—Business has continued fairly active on most of the regular outlets, the supply about equal to the wants of the market and a steady range on values retained. We quote at $1.87 1/2 @ 2.12 1/2 per bbl. for City, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—Demand on the jobbing market continues moderately active and about the average amount of stock has been moved. The wholesale market has been dull and uncertain, but the speculative feeling seems to have subsided in a great measure and values are easier generally. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 47@49c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Supplies are not abundant or tending to increase and the market fairly under control with full prices naturally asked. The demand has been mostly of a jobbing character on the regular outlets. We quote at $1.87 1/2 @ 2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and $2@2.25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages, they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date

THE RECORD FOR 1880.

THE REAL ESTATE RECORD AND BUILDERS' GUIDE, published at 135 and 137 Broadway, enters with the New Year upon its twenty-fifth volume, a fact which alone justifies the estimation in which it is held by investors, capitalists, builders and dealers generally.

Without desiring at all to boast of the safe guide THE RECORD has been to investors in realty during the depression now happily passed, we are safe to say, and challenge contradiction on the subject, that of all the publications in New York City, THE REAL ESTATE RECORD has been the only journal that comprehended the financial situation, and warned its readers against coming disasters in 1872 and 1873, and again encouraged them to renewed enterprise when the dark clouds began to disperse.

Having received ample support and praise for our work from those whose praise is worth having, THE RECORD enters upon the new year with a full determination to pursue the same untrammelled course it has followed in the past, speaking the truth on all matters affecting realty and the growth of our city and suburbs. The year 1880 will probably see the inauguration of active building operations on the too long neglected West Side, and also along the upper portions, particularly the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards. How to build and where to build are questions not only affecting owners but also architects, builders and, in fact, mechanics generally. To all of these THE RECORD will be a necessary adjunct to their labors, as its columns will carefully reflect all that is going on toward building up that section.

No business man, however, who cares at all to be up to the spirit and enterprise of the times in which he lives, should be without it, as it furnishes regularly every Saturday the following information:

- First—All the Chattel Mortgages filed in New York, Kings, Dutchess and Schoharie counties and New Jersey.
- Second—All the Judgments docketed in New York and New Jersey.
- Third—All the Real Estate Mortgages recorded in New York and New Jersey.
- Fourth—All the Real Estate Conveyances in the same places.
- Fifth—All the Foreclosure Suits against real estate in New York and Brooklyn.
- Sixth—A complete list of all the property to be sold from week to week under legal proceedings.
- Seventh—A complete review of the real estate and building material markets.
- Eighth—General editorial articles on all matters affecting property in New York and the suburbs.
- Ninth—A complete record of all the Satisfied Judgments.
- Tenth—A list of all property affected by assessments and a notification of the time the assessment is handed in to the Collector.
- Eleventh—The proceedings of the Common Council affecting real estate.
- Twelfth—A complete record of all new buildings projected in New York City or Brooklyn, together with the name of the owner, architect and builder.

DIRECTORY OF

RELIABLE REAL ESTATE AGENTS.

We have carefully investigated the responsibility of all Real Estate Agents named in this Directory, and find them to be in every way competent and responsible. We therefore recommend them to capitalists and real estate operators generally as being the best agents to be secured in their respective section, as shown by letters from prominent business firms, which may be seen at the office of the REAL ESTATE RECORD.

RAPID TRANSIT IN THE ANNEXED DISTRICT —CAUSES OF THE DELAY.

An erroneous impression prevails in certain quarters that the construction of the Rapid Transit lines in the annexed district has been indefinitely postponed, because a few well-known capitalists are no longer connected with this enterprise. We are authoritatively informed by a gentleman whose entire time is devoted to the affairs of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards, that the withdrawal of the $75,000 previously paid in has no such meaning, and that this action was but the natural result of decisions recently rendered by the courts. The Suburban Transit Company, for which this capital had been subscribed, received its franchise from the first Rapid Transit Commission, and when this, by the mandate of the court, ceased to exist, the Transit company created by it, of course, had also to suspend operations. It has, in accordance with the decisions rendered, to begin its work all over again, and must also obtain a new franchise. In other words, in order to have any status at all it required a franchise de novo from the second commission. This it will receive and in the course of another month the new company with new officers and new capital, it is confidently expected, will be under full sail. The Central Trust Company, according to the official view of the case, had no other choice but to make to the dissolving company the tender of the capital so deposited, and the subscribers instead of permitting it to remain to serve as a basis for the operations of the second company took back the money so tendered. There can be no doubt, and this is admitted even in official circles, that just now there is among capitalists no great anxiety to invest any more money in elevated roads. Several causes have, during the last three months, combined to create this apathy. The constant interference of the legislature with the franchises once granted is a source of constant annoyance and vexation on the one side, and at the same time the unsatisfactory showing made by the roads now in operation on Manhattan Island also act as a damper on the ambition of the projectors of transit lines in a sparsely populated district. This may be, however, only a temporary difficulty which the organizers of the new suburban transit company are meeting with, and it is a difficulty which they look squarely in the face and honestly acknowledge to those seeking information.

As to the reasons which induced the original capitalists to withdraw their funds, we have stated above the views as given in official quarters. The bankers, themselves, decline to furnish any other reasons than those in regard to the uncertainty of elevated railroad enterprises as experienced during the past few months, for not forming part of the second combination. And yet there are those on the inside of this Suburban Rapid Transit movement, and less close-mouthed than the retiring bankers who maintain, that, aside of the cloud which has recently been thrown over rapid transit enterprises, there are cogent reasons why the new company could not succeed in retaining the old capitalists. It is claimed that the latter only withdrew when they ascertained that the rapid transit commissioners had granted permission to the Hunt's Point Road, which means the New York & New Haven Railroad, to construct the Second avenue bridge across the Harlem River, and that the entire capital required for that purpose had been subscribed for by the New York & New Haven Railroad Company, and that, further, the money for the small branch to Jerome Park having been subscribed for by Mr. Jerome's friends, some of the best plums in the suburban rapid transit system had been dealt out before this company could get a seat at the table. The inhabitants of the district will just as well be benefited by this mode of proceeding as if the Commissioners had given all these rights to the regular rapid transit company. Only, it is said, that, owing to this action of the Commissioners, the company will find it more difficult to obtain the requisite capital in as short a time as was originally anticipated. That it will eventually be in good working order there can be no doubt, but the various causes as detailed above are the principal reasons why the building of all the rapid transit lines in the annexed district may occupy more time than is agreeable to those citizens of the Twenty-third and Twenty-fourth Wards whose daily occupations call them to this city.

In this connection it ought to be stated that the New York & New Haven Railroad Company have two years to build the Second Avenue bridge, and that very shortly they intend to run a ferry, so as to connect with the Harlem & Portchester or Hunt's Point road. It is also given out that negotiations are now pending for the purchase of land in Thirty-fourth street and Second avenue, where the New Haven Company intend to establish a branch depot.

EXPERT RAYMOND AND THE LITTLE PITTSBURG.

Dr. Rossiter Raymond calls the Editor of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD hard names because of the statement that Mr. Abram Hewitt probably sold out his Little Pittsburgh stock from some hint he got from him (Raymond).

But, surely, if there was any mistake it was a very natural one. Raymond examined the mines as an expert. His employer, Hewitt, was among the original purchasers of the stock, of which he took a large block. He sold out at a high figure, not holding any when the stock broke. It certainly was not unreasonable to surmise that he got his point in both cases from the expert who examined the mine.

However, we will not again make the same mistake. We now understand that when Mr. Hewitt buys mining shares he carefully avoids consulting his employee, Raymond, especially if the latter knows anything about the property from personal inspection; and when he sells, being a good business man, of course he does not post himself as to the real value of the shares he deals in. Mr. Hewitt's ways of doing business are peculiar, if Raymond represents them aright, but we advise the latter not to get out of temper and call people names, as he does in the last Engineering and Mining Journal, because they innocently supposed Hewitt had some confidence in the judgment of one of the persons in his pay. It is just possible that after this Little Pittsburgh fiasco the investing public may place the same estimate upon Raymond's judgment of a mine that Hewitt does.

Dr. Raymond makes one point which will attract attention. He says his report was not made to the public, or even to the stockholders of the Little Pittsburgh, but to those who paid him his fee; presumably Chaffee, Moffitt, Tabor & Co., and he intimates that it is an impertinence for any one, except his paymasters, to call him to an account for any statements he may have made about any mine. This doctrine if accepted would, no doubt, make things pleasant for mining experts, but we judge $5,000 fees would be scarce unless the expert's repute and former official position could be made use of to float the stock of mining companies. Raymond's name and supposed trustworthiness was certainly used to get subscriptions to the stock of Little Pittsburgh, but the public will hereafter understand that he repudiates any responsibility for statements he may make about a mine. Only his employers have any right to call him to an account.

CARICATURES ON MINING.

Puck had a cartoon the other day on the mining furore, which is striking but unjust. There is more or less fraud and swindling in connection with all speculative movements, but it is not fair to charge the whole mining industry with dishonesty. All mines are not "wild cats." All Boards of Managers are not dishonest or inefficient. So far, Little Pittsburgh management is a thing by itself. No doubt, other Little Pittsburghs will deceive honest investors, and perhaps it is well that Puck, following the lead of THE REAL ESTATE RECORD, should warn the investing public not to be too hasty in believing all the stories told by the promoters of pretentious mines. Puck's condemnation is altogether too sweeping.

REAL ESTATE AS AFFECTED BY ELEVATED ROADS.

The property-owners along Fifty-third street, and also several prominent owners along Sixth avenue, are justly elated at the decision of the Superior Court General Term in the Caro suit. For the first time, after several years of litigation, they have scored a substantial victory, and it already has had the effect of bringing their various forces into closer union. There has been in the past quite a number of defections from the ranks of the Property-holders' Associations, banded for the purpose of fighting the roads, and only a few of them subscribed enough money to carry on the litigation up to this stage of proceedings. Since this decision has been rendered, however, meetings and consultations have been held and the most sanguine of them already dream of Sixth avenue redeemed and the elevated structure taken down, as was the old Knox Bridge, in Broadway. The result of their consultations thus far is that, should the Court of Appeals confirm the decision of the Superior Court, there will be any number of cases like that of Doctor Caro, enough to keep the lawyers and courts busy for any length of time. It is the unanimous opinion of the owners that there will be no new trial, but that both plaintiff and defendant will at once elect to go to the Court of Appeals. Of course, a new trial will have to take place some time or other and the property owners will then probably ascertain that juries are mighty uncertain. We do not want to discourage the property owners, but the case of Doctor Caro is probably one of the very strongest that can possibly be presented to a court of justice. Granted that, in a new trial, Dr. Caro recovers judgment for damages actually inflicted upon his Fifty-third street property, will the case on the part of Sixth avenue owners be equally strong? Of course, it is immaterial to the property owners who shall pay the damages, should judgment be rendered in their favor. It may be that the city will be authorized to assess these damages upon those owners in the upper part of the city that have been materially benefited by these elevated roads; it may be also that the city may be compelled to pay these damages out of its municipal exchequer, or possibly the Legislature will appoint a Commission with power to assess the damages proportionately on the city, the property owners benefited and the elevated railroads. At any rate, doubt and confusion will surround future litigants as well as the present, but that any actual or permanent injury will ensue to the elevated roads themselves, owing to this decision, is beyond our present understanding. One thing has been settled, that these elevated roads meet the requirements of nearly a million of people and are sustained by them morally and materially. To imagine now that the grievances of a few owners of property can prevail against the masses, is an idea so visionary that property owners, who as a rule are men of common sense, ought not to give it countenance for a single moment. Where one has been injured, a hundred others have been benefited. The time to prevent the running of elevated roads in certain particular avenues is passed; that ought to have been done when the legislature granted these corporations the various franchises. Now it is un fait accompli, which no number of property owners can fight successfully, except, perhaps, for the recovery of a few thousand dollars, to be assessed cautiously and carefully by experts. In connection with this it may be of interest to show our readers how even the most persistent enemy of the elevated road on Sixth avenues does not intend to fight rapid transit per se, but while opposed to its being conducted along the Sixth avenue, praises its general usefulness from beginning to end. "Only," he said to the writer, the other evening, "let them buy the right of way between Seventh and Eighth avenues, build a depressed road there, do the same between the Lexington and Third avenues, and the amount of such purchase will not exceed the total amount of their present bonded debt."

He was willing enough to have rapid transit in New York, but not in front of his store, which is quite prominent and which he claims has been materially injured by the construction of the Sixth avenue branch. As we have said before, had all these owners combined energetically years ago that which they now complain of might have been prevented. Now, that they claim to have been actually injured, their cases will have to be taken in hand separately and decided in accordance with the actual amount of damages sustained by them. How much they will finally gain by this mode of procedure is not a doubtful question to those who understand the costliness of this class of litigation.

Brooklyn owners of property are decidedly happy just now that the two million bill for the bridge has been signed by the Governor, and that active work is really progressing on their elevated road.

THE GREAT "MUTUAL LIFE" SALE.

The announcement made in another column by Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son that they have been instructed by the Mutual Life Insurance Company to sell at auction the surplus real estate held by this financial institution, will not surprise those who have watched the columns of THE RECORD, where such a disposition of the mass of property bought in under foreclosure was long ago predicted. Of course, the sale will be an event in the real estate market, and the fact of its having been entrusted to the Messrs. Muller & Son is a guarantee of its being conducted in full accordance with the wishes of the President of the Company, whose letter accompanies the announcement of the sale. We have heard of late that a great amount of capital is waiting investment in New York real estate, and the opportunity that will be offered to investors on the 20th instant will no doubt prove the correctness of these reports. In our next issue we will, for the information of such investors, furnish a more detailed description of the various unimproved plots and improved property that will be offered, and only now call general attention to the fact that a large amount of the realty to be sold in this manner is situated along the numerous avenues, boulevards, and cross streets on the line of building improvements. No sale has taken place for years that will so thoroughly attract the attention of buyers generally, and, if we are not mistaken, the last sale of equal magnitude, in 1873, was conducted by the same reliable firm.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

 For list of lots and houses for sale see pages v. vi. and vii of advertisements.

The auction sales of all sorts of property have followed one another up very rapidly during the past week, and notwithstanding the continuance of the lull in the market there has been no lack of interest. On the contrary, the Exchange Salesroom, especially on Tuesday and Thursday, continued to be the centre of attraction to many who were not only brokers and spectators but also bona fide buyers. Prices for unimproved property, especially on the West Side, were not well maintained at the various sales, but they were surprisingly firm for all sort of improved property whether located in the lower or upper part of the city. There was lively bidding, on Wednesday, for 380 and 382 Broadway, and, even at the sum of $250,000, those having charge of the choice corner would not part with it. Sixth avenue property also, between Fifty-first and Fifty-second street, offered, on Wednesday, brought a fair price, so did business property in Water, South and Front streets, but when it came to eligible lots on Ninety-first street, even in the excellent neighborhood of Fifth and Madison avenues, there was no sale, and the same was the case with vacant property on Seventy-first street west of Ninth avenue.

The two leading sales of the week, however, aside of the above scattering sales, were the estate of George Fulton, sold by Mr. Harnett, on Tuesday, and the partition sale by Messrs. Muller & Son on Thursday. The Fulton estate sale, taken all in all, must be called a success, some excellent prices being secured for Washington street, Canal street and Broadway property. A Twenty-fourth street parcel and also the vacant lots in Seventieth street, forming part of the estate, brought the full market value, while the Eleventh (or West End) avenue lots, between Seventy-ninth and Eightieth street, averaged $3,500 to $3,600. The sale of twenty-seven lots along Tenth, Eleventh and St. Nicholas avenues, Seventy-sixth, Eighty-second and other streets as far as One Hundred and Thirty-first street, conducted for Messrs. Wormser & Myers by Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son, was successful in so far that every piece of property put up was actually sold. There were numerous bidders present, but the actual buying was limited to few parties respective friends of the two partners who had chosen this manner of dividing their partnership account in real estate. Considering this peculiarity of the sale, prices were sustained and, though in the opinion of many who closely watched the proceedings, some of the lots were disposed of at an extremely low figure, it will be found that the average prices, taking in view the fact that a great deal of unimproved property is soon to be thrown upon the market, came up fairly to, if they did not surpass the expectations of the most cautious buyer.

During the coming week, Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son will sell, on Tuesday, valuable improved property on Bleeker, Pearl, East Twelfth, West Forty-first and East Twenty-ninth streets, and on Wednesday the southeast corner of Mott and Pell streets, comprising several buildings; a very valuable building and lot on the northwest corner of Mercer and Pine streets, will be offered by the same firm on Thursday. Mr. Harnett will offer, on Tuesday, an excellent apartment house on East Ninth street, and on Thursday, valuable improved property on Forty-second street, between Broadway and Sixth avenue, also an English basement house on West Thirty-ninth street. During the coming week, also, Mr. Louis Meser will sell by order of the Court, under foreclosure, fourteen valuable vacant lots on Seventh avenue, One Hundred and Forty-first and One Hundred and Forty-second streets, particulars of which will be found in our advertising columns.

Valuable business property on Wooster street will be offered at auction on Wednesday next, by A. W. Bogert, Jr.

• GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

The auctioneers, having taken possession of the real estate market, the brokers who ordinarily make things lively in Pine street are quietly resting on their oars. The New York Mutual Life sale, commented on at length elsewhere, has been generally discussed by brokers, speculators and investors generally, and good results are anticipated therefrom. At the close of the week there was already noticeable a better feeling again in the market, and enquiries for vacant property became more numerous. There appeared to be a feeling that after all there is to be no tight money market, and that the capital originally set apart for investment in real estate will not be diverted from its fixed channel. Judging by the demands that have already been made upon the auctioneers for the maps of the Mutual Life, not by brokers only, but by actual investors, there does not seem to be the least doubt but that the property offered will command better prices than is anticipated in some quarters. Said a well-known buyer to the writer yesterday, "I am sorry the sale does not come off this week, I want to buy some of that property, and, I am afraid, that two weeks hence prices will be higher." This was spoken even before it became generally known that the tight money market, so generally feared, was, after all, only a temporary affair.

It may incidentally interest our readers to know, if they will kindly refer to our advertising columns, that about ten days after the Mutual sale, some twenty-six lots, belonging to the Mott Estate, will be offered once more by the Executors, the time being considered appropriate to invite buyers' attention to an estate that has always been considered quite eligible in our midst. We will allude to this sale more particularly in a future issue.

To say, that the market is quite barren of private transactions, while an avalanche of auction sales is making its appearance, would not be the exact truth. Only it seems to be more difficult than it was two weeks ago to make contracting parties come to terms. We know, for instance, of negotiations pending, and almost concluded for the sale of a large parcel of lots along Fifty-eighth and Fifty-ninth streets, between Sixth and Seventh avenues, on the basis of about $16,000 per lot. We have also authentic information, that the transaction, relating to a large tract of land in the annexed district, previously alluded to in this column as pending, and as surpassing in magnitude the recent Astor purchase, is progressing quite satisfactorily. It may as well be said now as later that this tract comprises no less than five hundred acres, from Port Morris up to and including the Barretto property, and that the purchaser, whose name will be given the moment the preliminary papers are signed, is a prominent railroad magnate, who intends to invest no less than a million and a half in the annexed district, it being trust funds belonging to minor children, whose interest, so he wisely thinks, cannot be more safely guarded than by investing it in the soil of a section that has a great future before it.

It was authentically reported, yesterday, that Nos. 64 and 66 Broadway, forming part of the Charter Oak Life property, had been sold at private contract to Mr. Parrish, of Philadelphia, for $350,000.

Messrs. Mondecail & Bellamy have sold four lots on the north side of Seventy-fifth street, between Madison and Fifth avenues, for $70,000 ($17,500 each), no mortgages but all cash, to be paid within thirty days, to a prominent capitalist. The same firm have also sold, during the week, at private contract, a piece of Broadway property, below Twenty-third street, for about $110,000, also for cash, but as yet refuse to give further details of this transaction.

Messrs. L. J. & I. Phillips have also made various sales of vacant lots during the week, of which they decline to give particulars. It has transpired, however, that two of the lots sold by them are on Ninety-third street, 102 feet east of Fifth avenue, which they have disposed of at $10,000 each.

There have been some sales of Ninety-fifth street lots during the week at private contract, Messrs. Lespinasse & Friedman having sold three lots on the north side of that street, between Eighth and Ninth avenues, for $12,000, and Mr. Geo. Burling, three and one-half lots on the same street, for $14,000.

Messrs. Crevier Bros. have sold at private contract the plot on the west side of Lexington avenue, from One Hundred and Twenty-ninth to One Hundred and Thirtieth street, 40x200, for $12,125.

Mr. W. P. Seymour has negotiated the sale of six lots on the northeast corner of Fifth avenue and Seventy-ninth street, 100 feet on the avenue, and 150 on the street, for $225,000, to the President of the Real Estate Trust Company.

Speaking of the annexed district once more, we ought to state, Mr. Horace B. Clafin has purchased a tract of fifty acres, including the Bussing residence, near Williamsbridge, and that the property once owned by "Corneel Corson," of ring memory, comprising about twelve acres, at Mount Vernon, has been sold for $15,000.

Mr. Jay Gould is reported to have purchased the large marble mansion of the George Merritt estate, along with the adjoining grounds, a short distance south of Tarrytown, for about $200,000.

From Brooklyn, we hear of the sale at private contract of the Halstead mansion, and the adjoining stone dwelling, on the corner of Clinton avenue and Willoughby avenue, 158x200, to the Academy of the Visitation, for $63,000.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Sales-room for the week ending April 9:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—Common Hards have found a very good market and continued to gain in tone, with a further addition made to values and sellers generally in a cheerful mood. The consumption on new work commences to set in, and while a great many of the jobs have a partial or entire supply on hand, there is also a large number for which stock has yet to be secured by builders who, for various causes, have postponed purchases. The arrivals have been fair, but not sufficient to result in any of the heavy surplus accumulations noticeable a few weeks ago; indeed, the offering from day to day has kept pretty closely sold up, and no very liberal arrivals are expected. There are still some bricks at the yards, but, as before noted, a portion of them and especially the best lots, are held on extreme limits, and where shipments are intended they will, in all probability, be made without haste. In short, the entire situation shows healthy elements at the moment, and there seems to be much confidence that this condition of affairs can be maintained until the appearance of new brick, at least. As we write, the rates stand at about $8@8.25 for Up Rivers, and $8.75@9.00 for Haverstraws, and a few Jersey have been selling at $7.50@7.75 per M. Pale brick have been rather neglected, and the quotations remain at $5.00@5.50 per M. Very few "lammies" have been offered this spring. On fronts the position is still somewhat uncertain, and values, to a certain extent, nominal, but we hear that some of the leading brands of Trentons have been offered at $18, delivered on board at the primary points.

HARDWARE.—Business is still rather more backward than dealers had expected, and the tone of the market is unsettled in many cases. A great many deliveries continue to be made on contract, but not enough to fully exhaust the product, and accumulations commence to increase in the hands of manufacturers and agents. There is an assumption of much firmness and confidence on the part of the majority of dealers, but it is impossible to conceal an undertone of anxiety, and actual opinions respecting the Spring trade have taken a much less sanguine form of late. Valuations remain about as before on all kinds of goods, and there is no changes on lists to advise this week.

LABOR.—Some of the daily papers have been filling out their columns with immense headlines in inky black capital letters followed by what purported to be accounts of "successful strikes" by bricklayers, carpenters, etc. The fact is that with the exception of one or two jobs there has been no strikes at all. The workmen have simply made a fair and courteous request for a reasonable increase of wages, and have been met as we predicted they would, in like manner by employers, who granted the advance asked and work proceeded without interruption. In fact up to the present writing we hear of no disturbing element between employer and employee in the building trades.

LATH.—There has been no great change in the general situation since our last report. The firmer tone then noticed has been maintained and so far as reported all sales made were at $1.75 per M with this now a little inside on the views of some receivers and lower than a portion of the stock in first hands can be reached. The demand has not been a really active one and many dealers still seem inclined to fight shy of stock at the cost, but enough are really in want of supplies to provide a place for the arrivals and we hear of no cargoes carrying long enough to entail expenses. Receivers assert that their advices indicate the probability of light shipments in this direction for some time to come, on the ground of reduced amounts available at primary points, pretty full freight charges and prices current at Eastern and Sound ports which afford a better margin than here. It may be added, however, that it requires only a few cargoes to satisfy what is called an active demand on most of the Eastern markets and should there be any surplus it will naturally come in this direction.

LIME.—Nothing new since last report. The decline then noted has quickened the demand from a few sources, but business, as a rule, is not over active and the supply available has been sufficient for pretty much all wants. At ruling rates it is not likely that shipments will be very liberal, as manufacturers find small margin.

LUMBER.—Taken all in all the market is in very good shape, and the prospect, generally, of a promising character. A portion of the selling interest occasionally shows a little nervousness, and buyers can also be found moving with considerable caution, but so far as the home trade is concerned, there has been nothing to check the average volume of demand, and with the wants known to exist there is an outlet ahead for a liberal quantity, and a general assortment of lumber. The check to export orders a few weeks ago has not been fully recovered as yet, but still there is quite an amount going out in the completion of old contracts, and in small lots on new purchases, especially for the West Indies. Accumulations here are increasing somewhat, but the assortment is not a good one, and operators have tried the primary points, especially toward the interior, report not only a great scarcity of attractive supplies, but a line of valuations above a parity of our own market.

Spruce arrives to some extent in random but does not remain long unsold, and the demand, as a rule, is good for anything at all merchantable. Values fluctuate somewhat, but only over a small line, and the changes are due, in the main, to influences of a minor and temporary character, such as quality, point of delivery, terms of settlement, etc. Arrivals of cargoes on contract continue pretty free and contribute to the increase and improvement of the assortment in yard but do not make the amount full, as a great many deliveries go into immediate consumption. Specifications are still offered with some freedom and are not quickly taken although more manufacturers can now be found willing to negotiate than at the commencement of the month. Within a week or so buyers have gained possibly 50c. per M. on good random, with cost at about $16@17, but poor stock. in some cases, sold as low as $15 per M. About $18 is an average top figure on specials.

White Pine does not show much change. On shipping grades there is possibly a slight loss of tone in view of the reduced number of orders for large parcels and a rather uncertain movement of the smaller dealings. No actual decline on the general run of quotations may be quoted, however, and desirable supplies are offered with care. On choice stock the feeling is very firm indeed, on the support of a scant supply and a first rate home demand. Fine, clear and dry stock is extremely scarce, not only here but at all points, and many interior holders ask more than could, at the movement, be obtained on this market. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine retains about all the elements of strength before advised. Supplies afloat very rarely furnish anything upon which negotiations can take place and when a random does appear it is quickly snapped up, with buyers wanting more at full prices. Yard accumulations are small and poorly assorted. From the primary points the advices all come to hand with a firm and confident tone and cautioned moderate offerings, with no probability that buyers could close contracts, unless they were anxious enough to overbid those ahead of them and thus tempt manufacturers to deliver out of turn. Supplies for Europe are still loading at the mills and a few shipment are making on South American and West India account. We quote random cargoes at about $24@26 per M; ordered cargoes, $25@27 do; green flooring boards, $25@27 do, and dry do do, $26@28. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $22@24 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $15@16 for rough, and $20@22 for dressed at Gulf ports.

Hardwoods are firmly supported and not offered with much freedom either here or at points of supply. The demand also shows increased anxiety and sellers have about all the advantage of the position. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do; cherry, $45@75 do; white wood, 1/2 and 3/4 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $33@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do, for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Yard trade is good and increasing, with full rates obtained on pretty much all classes of stock.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

A Br barque, 959 tons, from St. John N. B., to Liverpool, deals, 60s; An Am barque, 577 tons, from Portland to Buenos Ayres, lumber, supposed $14 net; a schr, 168 tons, from St. John, N. The Export Lumber Company publish a "statement of lumber exported from the port of New York," and show the following totals from Jan. 1st to April 1st:

This is nearly correct, so far as it goes, but their detail of points to which shipments are made omits British and other European destinations, with the exception of Spain and Italy. These exports amounted 2,391,000 feet, 2,089,000 do., and 1,090,000 do. respectively, during the years named, and brought the actual total of exports to the following aggregates:

STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending April 6th, is reported by the Argus as follows:

There is a steady business in the District at unchanged prices. Shipments continue, and if all was moved that has been sold ahead, the District would present a very bare look, leaving to the trade a broken and badly assorted stock. With the opening of the canal, for which no day has yet been assigned, we shall have free receipts from the West and North and from Canada.

The condition of the lumber market in Saginaw Valley is towards greater firmness with an advance in uppers; for one lot $40 per M is asked, and it is said may yet be realized. A number of dealers from Chicago, Ohio and the East have been in market. The reported sales are 2,000,000 feet at $7, $14, $35; 500,000 feet at $7, $14, $34; 500,000 feet at $7, $14, $32.

The lumber boom seems to have struck the pine bearing regions of Wisconsin; at fourteen different localities along the line of the Wisconsin Railroad, from Stevens Point to Ozema, the cut of logs to be manufactured into lumber aggregates 75,000,000 feet a quantity three times as large as the cut for the same mills in 1878-9. And this is exclusive of large quantities of walnut, oak, maple, hawthorn and railroad ties.

The receipts of lumber at Buffalo for the week are 75 carloads.

River freights are without change, but the tendency is to an advance.

Note.—The Albany lumber quotations will be found in our regular column of prices current on another page.

The Tonawanda Herald contains the following:

The Lumbermen Happy.—A week or two ago a committee of the Buffalo and Tonawanda Lumber and Stave Dealers' Association went to New York and had a personal interview with the leading railroad authorities of the New York Central and Erie lines, and achieved most gratifying results. Indeed it may be said that so ably and earnestly were the claims of the Buffalo and Tonawanda lumber interests represented and advocated, that more real good was accomplished by this committee than any other individual or combined effort had before been able to accomplish. This port was represented by Messrs. W. H. Gratwick and J. R. Smith. Mr. W. H. Vanderhilt kindly granted the committee an audience, and gave the most positive assurance that hereafter Buffalo and Tonawanda would be well looked after in the matter of furnishing transportation for the immense and growing lumber trade of these ports, and satisfactory arrangements were made in reducing the freight tariff so as to successfully compete with through Western rates. The latter had been a great detriment to our trade, and an unjust discrimination. Lumber could be shipped from Chicago and Saginaw at very much lower figures in car lots than either Tonawanda or Buffalo could secure, and Eastern buyers were taking advantage of it. Now, however, the scales is turned, and our local business with New England and Southern points will receive a new impetus. It will be possible hereafter to receive lumber in bulk by lake from the Michigan mills, and tranship from this point by rail much cheaper than ever before, and thus offer inducements to purchasers to buy here and receive their cargoes by rail where water transportation is not possible. The lumbermen are feeling very good natured over the favorable turn affairs have taken, and the entire trade will be materially benefitted. No more Western monopoly by rail.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, April 6, 1880.

The tremor of spring's awakening is felt along the arteries of trade in the valley. Navigation is open and nothing prevents the immediate moving of stock toward the east, but the maneuvering of shippers and vessel men for the advantage. What the rates of freight shall be is a matter of great moment to the trade, and naturally is exciting much attention. The vessel men have made their minds up to getting $3 to Buffalo, while shippers have determined that not more than $2.50 should be the prevailing rate. The disposition of the latter seems to be to insist on their terms, and there is a probability that they will succeed. Charters have been made at $2.50 from Bay City to Sandusky, $2.62 1/2 from Oscoda to Tonawanda, $2.75 from Saginaw to Cleveland, $2.62 1/2 from Bay City to Tonawanda, and $2.50 from Bay City to Tonawanda. The market continues firm at previous quotations below. Shingles are in active request. Railway freights have been reduced as below.

We quote cargo rates:

Three upper qualities.....	$30 00@35 00
Common.....	13 00@15 00
Shipping culls.....	6 50@7 50
Lath.....	@ 1 75
Shingles.....	1 65@2 85

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, } CHICAGO, April 1, 1880. }

The season of navigation approaches rapidly, and the spring equinoctial being now passed, succeeded by pleasant weather, vessels are rapidly making preparations to enter upon their season's work. Several cargoes of lumber have reached this port, the majority of them being at once towed to the docks of the purchasers. We hear of but three vessels which have stopped at the market, one of which, with a cargo of No. 2 Muskegon lumber, found a market at $12.50. On Tuesday a cargo of Norway piece stuff from Manistee reached the dock, and another, of boards, from Benton Harbor. The former was of last fall's sawing, and had been cross-piled, but with the effect of slightly removing it from the domain of green lumber. It was held at $11, but up to this writing has not only not been sold, but no offer has been made for it. The cargo of boards was at little in request. The fact probably is that buyers are not yet ready for the market to open, and we did not discover a single one, among the crowds of laborers who had gathered fully prepared to take advantage of the first work offering.

The feeling of disquietude among dealers induced by the lists which one or two have sent out leads to an extreme indifference about purchasing any thing more which is not strictly choice or largely composed of sizes which are hard to obtain and short in stock. It is now a settled fact that some of the dealers, who are not intending to change location, either from fear of some other dealer getting more customers than themselves, or for the purpose of impeding the efforts to close out their stock which removing yards are now making, or for some other equally cogent reason, have decided to cut on some grades, and have issued price lists accordingly. A number of the yards adhere to the old quotations, and are selling at the lists, cutting only on certain coarser grades, of which they have large lines, or to mollify a customer who feels that because one or two parties are not disposed to adhere to the list, therefore the whole trade should at once become demoralized. It is now altogether likely that for a month or six weeks there may be some cutting and slashing of prices, which, in the end, will bring the dealers together, with the conviction which closed the memorable interview between the parrot and the monkey, and with equally satisfactory results.

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, } MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 1, 1880. }

The logging season has closed and hauling logs has ceased, leaving the bulls and bears in a tussle over the price of logs. The story of the buyers is that an enormous crop has been secured everywhere. They stand around and shed tears of sympathy for the unfortunate men who have cut and own logs. They furnish newspapers with items like the following, which has gone the rounds:

Mississippi Riv. 300,000,000	St. Croix River 100,000,000
Black River... 300,000,000	Railroad mills. 200,000,000
Chippewa Riv. 500,000,000
Wisconsin Riv. 200,000,000	Total..... 1,600,000,000

On the other hand, log owners are satisfied that there is a fearful shortage of logs. The result is a wide margin between the mill and log men as to the price of logs, and few transactions have taken place on p. t. in the West. The fact is, about a full ordinary stock has been cut on the waters of the Mississippi River, and the same will be done in Michigan yet, and prices should rule 20 per cent. higher than last year to cover the increased cost. It is claimed that piece stuff will open at Chicago at $10 per M., and it costs two dollars to handle it. There is but little fear that prices will drop in that market very much, notwithstanding they are indulging in a little throat-cutting now.

The drop on freights to Missouri River points has had quite an effect on the business of St. Louis, Hannibal and Chicago. The shipments for last week from the former hardly reached last year's figures, while the trade of Chicago has been raised to over two million per day. It is feared that still further discrimination will be made. Stocks of lumber at all the river points are reduced so that Chicago and interior points are being called upon heavily to patch up the assortment, which accounts somewhat for the increase of business on the lake. Dry stocks on medium and upper grades are held very firmly, and at some points even above the quotations of last month.

THE EAST.

A correspondent of the Lumberman writes as follows, respecting logging on the Kennebec:

The season for logging is nearly over in this section, though for the past two or three weeks the weather has been very good, and operators have probably banked fully as much stock as in any equal length of time during the season. Most of the teams are still at work, and will, no doubt, have good weather until they get ready to leave the woods, which they will do very soon on account of the danger in crossing the ponds and lakes on their way out. The season has been one of the most favorable ever known in this section, and the amount of logs secured is fully one-third larger than that of last year. Lumber is selling very readily here now at an advance of at least one-third over last year's prices. Parties hauling logs by the thousand have done very fairly this season, though the general feeling among them is that the prices they have received do not correspond with the improved prices of lumber. Should the season prove a good one for driving, and the logs all come out, the next contracts for hauling will be made at better figures.

An item in another exchange says:

Lumbermen recently from the logging camps of Northern Maine report about three feet of snow and excellent sledding. There is an abundance of snow in the Rangely Lake region for successful logging, and lumbering is being vigorously prosecuted. Teams on the Androscoggin river have nearly closed operations, and it is estimated that the stock will be eight to ten millions short this season, in consequence of the early breaking up of sledding. Altogether, it is said that this has been the best winter for hauling in Maine for a number of years.

FOREIGN.

The following items are from the Timber Trade's Journal:

We have little or no alteration to report in the market. Prices continue pretty firm, but there is an evident desire on the part of those who hold stock purchased at the advance to press sales while the market remains in their favor, as if under the impression that high water-mark would shortly be reached. "Make hay while the sun shines" is one of the many truisms that applies not inaptly to the present position of the London market. Sellers are looking right and left to find an opportunity of realizing without troubling the public sales, that they may take advantage of the full prices now that the market is up. On the other hand, buyers do not come forward so readily, and are rather shy of purchasing outside of Thread-needle street, on the supposition that prices will be easier by-and-by; and possibly before they had time to place their purchases the tide of values would be flowing in an opposite direction, and, instead of a profit, they might have to put up with a loss.

METALS.—COPPER.—Ingot has found a light and uncertain demand from pretty much all sources, and with an inclination manifested among holders to work off stocks, prices are easier, closing unsettled. We quote at 21 $\frac{3}{4}$ @22 for Lake. Manufactured copper is slow but generally held and valued at about former rates. We quote as follows: Brazier's Copper, ordinary size over 16 oz per square foot, 34c per lb; do do do, 16 oz and over 12 oz per sq foot, 36c per lb; do do, 10 and 12 oz, per sq foot, 38c per lb; do do, lighter than 10 oz per sq foot, 40c per lb; circles less than 84 inches in diameter, 37c per lb; do 84 inches in diameter and over, 40c per lb; segment and pattern sheets, 37c per lb; locomotive fire box sheets, 34c per lb; Sheathing Copper, over 12 oz per sq foot, 32c per lb, and Bolt Copper, 34c per lb. IRON.—Scotch Pig has found only a moderate demand and the tone of the market developed weakness, with some sales made from vessel at less than our figures. We quote nominally at \$27@32 per ton according to brand and quantity. American Pig has not received much attention, indeed, was under quite decided neglect, but sellers refused to offer with freedom or to make any decided shading on cost. To sell, however, prices would have to be materially modified. We quote at \$36.00@38.00 per ton for No. 1; \$35@36 do for No. 2; and \$34@35 for forge. Rails have sold moderately for early delivery and it is also understood that some liberal contracts were awarded for next fall. So far as known, prices remain about as before. We quote at \$53@58 for iron, and \$76@81 for steel, according to delivery. Old Rails \$35.50@37 per ton; scrap, \$33@40. Manufactured Iron has found only a moderate uncertain sale and the market lacked tone. The old card rates are retained as a representation of values but comparatively liberal shadings are said to be allowed to secure customers. Nominally we quote Common Merchant Bar, ordinary sizes at 3.7 from store, and Refined at 4c; wrought beams at 4.6c@4.7c. Fish plates quoted at 3.8c; track bolt and nuts, 4.4c; railway spikes, 5 $\frac{1}{4}$ @5 $\frac{1}{2}$ c, tank, 4.8c; horseshoe, 4.7c; angle, 4.3c; best flange, 6.3c; and domestic sheet on the basis of 5@5 $\frac{1}{4}$, for common, 10 to 20. Other descriptions at corresponding prices with 1-10c. less on large lots from cars. LEAD.—Domestic Pig finds rather a slow and uncertain sale, as buyers and sellers are apart in their views, and business confined to parcels required for immediate and absolute necessity. We quote 5 $\frac{1}{2}$ @5 $\frac{3}{4}$ c. The manufactures of lead are firm and quoted: Bar, 7 $\frac{1}{2}$ c; Pipe, 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ c., and Sheet, 9c., less than the usual discount to the trade; and Tin lined pipe 15c. Block Tin pipe, 45c. on same terms. TIN.—Pig has met with a pretty liberal sale and the reduction thus made in the amount offering imparts a somewhat more hopeful feeling. We quote 21@21 $\frac{1}{4}$ c. for Banca, 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ @2 $\frac{1}{2}$ c for Straits, 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ @2 $\frac{1}{4}$ c. for English Refined, 19 $\frac{1}{2}$ @20c. for do. Common. Tin Plates have had a very unsettled market, but without much activity and stocks proving pretty full the line of value has favored the buyer. We quote I. C. Charcoal, third cross assortment, \$8.62 $\frac{1}{2}$ @8.75 for Allaway grade, and \$8.87 $\frac{1}{2}$ @9 for Melvin grade; I. C. Coke \$6.62 $\frac{1}{2}$ @6.87 $\frac{1}{2}$ for B. V. grade; \$7@7.25 for Yspit grade; Charcoal terne \$7.75@7.87 $\frac{1}{2}$ for Allaway grade, 14x20; \$16.50@16.62 $\frac{1}{2}$ for do., 2x28; Coke terne, \$6.87 $\frac{1}{2}$ @7 for Glais grade, 14x20, and \$15@15.12 $\frac{1}{2}$ for do., 20x28—all in round lots. Spelter has continued to sell slowly and the tone of the market a little weak at 6 $\frac{1}{2}$ @6 $\frac{3}{4}$ according to brand. Sheet Zinc in good average demand and steadier at 8 $\frac{1}{4}$ @8 $\frac{3}{4}$, according to quantity.

NAILS.—The "holding" market remains steady, manufacturers and agents having a list rate, which they point out as the current market value. The "selling" market, however, is quite another matter, and when it comes to the actual movement of goods, especially in large quantity, buyers have a great many more advantages than shown by the association list. We retain the so-called "official" figures, but outside lots can be bought less. In some sections manufacturers keep production at a stand still, as an offset to the dull trade. We quote nominally 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.65; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.15; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.65; 2d per keg, $7.90. Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.90. Floor casing and box, $6.15@6.90. Finishing, $6.70@7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.

1 $\frac{3}{4}$ to 1 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. 2 & 2 $\frac{1}{4}$ in. 2 $\frac{3}{4}$ & 2 $\frac{1}{2}$ in. 3 in. & longer
$7.90@8.00 $7.40 $7.15 $6.90 per keg

OILS.—The ordinary consumptive wants continue on local account and there is a fair run of orders from the interior, with values well supported, and jobbers not pressing stocks. The wholesale market is dull. We quote linseed oil at 8 $\frac{1}{2}$ @9c. from crushers' hands.

PAINTS.—Dealers, in most cases, continue to claim a good, healthy jobbing movement, with a tendency to increase rather than diminish, and the call covering nearly all grades of stock. Retailers have not distributed with much freedom as yet, but have found the symptoms of a good general consumption quite promising, and are willing to stock up in anticipation. On the wholesale market, business fairly active, with some little irregularity on values. The variation, however, was small, and the general range of quotations is not disturbed.

PITCH.—An irregular movement of supplies has taken place without, however, reaching a very full total or developing new outlets. Stocks fair and offered readily at about former rates. We quote at \$1.87 $\frac{1}{4}$ @2.12 $\frac{1}{2}$ per bbl. for city delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—A fair average distribution making in a jobbing way, possibly a little larger if anything, and full prices secured as compared with the wholesale cost. The latter, however, has weakened under a partial breaking up of the speculative combinations, and buyers have greater advantage than for several weeks. As this report is closed, the quotations stand about 41@43c. per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Dealers have distributed fair amounts on the ordinary outlets and preserved a pretty steady basis of valuation for all stock in good order. Supplies are comparatively small, but enough for the current wants of the market. We quote at \$1.87 $\frac{1}{4}$ @2.25 per bbl. for Newberne and Washington, and \$2@2.25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corre-sponding date

AN EXHIBITION MORE IMPORTANT THAN THE WORLD'S FAIR.

There is now awaiting action before the Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce a communication from Secretary of State Evarts of far greater importance to the enterprising capitalists of not only this city but of the entire country than any scheme that may or may not be successful for the holding of a great World's Fair in this city in 1883. It is a demand for the construction of a mammoth building in New York to exhibit samples of wares and merchandise required by the various nations of the world, notably those in Asia, Africa and South America.

At first glance, some of our hot-headed and yet energetic fellow citizens may possibly belittle such an enterprise. Looking at it calmly however and studiously, it will be found that such an establishment fostered by the General Government is only one, still a very important, link in the great chain that must be forged ere long to readjust our commercial system and to attain for this country, and above all for our own city, that supremacy to which both are entitled. The REAL ESTATE RECORD, ever on the alert for those waves that occasionally disturb material prosperity, has heretofore pointed out how in order to prevent periodical panics, our entire commercial system needed readjustment. Not only State legislation but federal aid was invoked for this systematizing of all of our industries. We have shown how this country required better navigation laws; why this State should do its utmost to remove the burden now resting on manufacturing capital and throw its portals wide open to those men from New England and other States anxious to make their wares and notions in the immediate vicinity of this great shipping point. We have also spoken of the climatic influences that bear on certain industries, as exemplified by the success that has followed the establishment of cotton factories in the South next to the cotton fields. By-and-bye not only legislators in Washington but those in the various State capitals will learn what is best for their respective sections, and how in a vast territory such as is covered by this Republic, the proper readjustment of our commercial system, so as to create the greatest possible prosperity for the country in general and the various States in particular, will be the greatest problem to solve during the next quarter century. It would be plain fallacy to presume that all this can be done at the twinkling of an eye. Study and constant application of new methods are required before the final goal can be reached. When once we as a commercial, manufacturing and agricultural country have learned wherein we have failed heretofore, then there is a prospect of permanent amelioration and hope for a constancy in prosperity, which then no nation can wrest from us.

New York City, as the fountain-head of this Union, has a deeper interest in the success of the better readjustment of our commercial and industrial system than any other city in the country. Our owners of property dream of El Dorados in the great and distant future, while they sit listlessly when the plain path to that future is cautiously pointed out to them by those who seek nothing but greatness for this city, and yet are willing to profit by the experience of the past. We might go into an elaborate discourse to prove that agriculture, for our own State, for instance, has ceased to be profitable, and might repeat at length the threadbare arguments to show how other cities on the Atlantic seaboard are trying to come up to us—if they can. All this, however, is superfluous. We have come to a period where we, here in New York City and State, must make up our minds to live in and among beehives, where everybody is at work, and makes with his own hands, or with machinery created by his hands, manufactured products that in our State, at least, will outrival the products of the soil. We have made wonderful progress in this respect during the past few years—the hard times since 1873 having indeed proved “a blessing in disguise”—but our manufacturers have yet a great deal to learn. It is that which Mr. Evarts proposes to teach them. Never having been educated to make manufactures one of the reliable mainstays of our prosperity, we have heretofore been content in making whatever we liked to make, and how we liked to make it, as we always could sell all we made in our own country. The accumulation of stocks on hand, however, aye, the increase of capital, and also of mechanical skill, made American manufacturers seek foreign or rather neutral markets. This has been going on now to a considerable extent for three years, and yet we are not making in that particular line the headway to which American ingenuity is entitled. The truth is, our manufacturers have been too self-opinionated on the one side and too ignorant on the other. The Federal Government, seeing the importance of fostering the export trade of our manufactured products, has decided to come to our rescue by gathering, through the aid of our Consuls in foreign lands, samples of wares and merchandise such as are actually wanted there. It will not do to tell other nations that the styles, shapes, sizes, etc., of our products are far preferable over the styles, shapes and sizes they call for. We cannot sell them only what we make, we must sell them what they require. It is that which our State Department is now anxious to show to American manufacturers, and what better centre can be selected for such an exhibition than our own city of New York. A building fully as large as the Madison Square Garden may be required for the purpose, but the indirect value that will ultimately accrue to the realty of our city from such a permanent exhibition, will compensate for any sacrifice that may have to be made at the outset, to give the Federal Government ample space in our midst for such a wise innovation—that will indeed prove a new era in the permanency of commercial prosperity.

NEXT TUESDAY'S GREAT SALE.

The important real estate sale ordered by the Mutual Life Insurance Company, to be conducted by Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son, will take place on Tuesday next, 20th instant, at the Exchange Salesroom. During the past week the demand for maps on the part of those desirous of investing has been unprecedented in the annals of the real estate market, and this, too, at a time when the lull of the past few weeks had not yet entirely disappeared. At the company's offices, also, there were any number of applicants for certain eligible parcels, but in not a single instance did the officers of the institution show a disposition to disturb the programme previously agreed upon. We know positively that since the sale has been advertised, the company was offered its own price for three distinct parcels—that is to say, the price at which these parcels were held before the auction was ordered—but not disposed to break the sale or in any manner to interfere with it, these offers were all declined. It will be understood then by this time that this sale, which, more than any other will test the real estate market, will give capitalists and investors an opportunity to demonstrate the amount of confidence they actually possess in the future of the American Metropolis. It must not be said that only the remnants of the real estate held by this institution are to be thrown on the market. A glance at the excellent map, gotten up by the auctioneers, will soon dispel that idea, and the improved, as well as the unimproved property is located in some of the very best sections of the city. As to the former, intending purchasers can readily ascertain, without our guidance, the nature of the property offered. We will content ourselves, therefore, with giving some explanations of interest to those desirous of investing in the vacant lots that are to be sold by the Messrs. Muller, for the Mutual, on Tuesday next.

Sixty-sixth street, west of the Boulevard, where six lots are offered, is finished, except as to paving. Some of these lots contain rock, others are on a good grade, and the Tenth avenue, which is 125 feet west of these lots, is paved. The Tenth avenue lot is on the east side, 25 feet south of Sixty-seventh street. On the rear of this lot is rock, about six feet above the grade. Blasting is now going on on the adjoining lots.

The five lots on Boulevard and Sixty-ninth street contain a good deal of rock, about six feet high.

Four lots on the easterly side of Tenth avenue, south of Seventy-fourth street, are five feet above the grade. There is one brick front dwelling and a small brick building on these lots. The avenue here is finished except as to paving. The locality is in excellent condition for immediate improvement.

The entire front on the east side of Tenth avenue, between Seventy-sixth and Seventy-seventh streets (eight lots), is about ten feet above grade. Seventy-sixth street, it should be remembered, has a Belgian pavement and Seventy-seventh street, in this locality, is curbed, guttered and flagged. One or two of these lots on the latter street contain rock, the rest are on good grade.

Almost the entire block bounded by Ninth and Tenth avenues, Ninety-fifth and Ninety-sixth streets, will be offered. While the former street is not opened, Ninety-sixth street, it should not be forgotten, is a wide street and finished, except as to paving. The lots are all on a good grade.

There are ten lots along One Hundred and Third street and Tenth avenue from eight to ten feet below grade. The street is not yet opened.

The numerous lots along Tenth avenue, One Hundred and Thirty-sixth and One Hundred and Thirty-seventh streets, are part on grade and part below grade.

There are several lots on the south side of One Hundred and Fortieth street, which thoroughfare is opened from the Boulevard to where the dwelling is located. The Boulevard is finished and the lots are all on grade, containing a very fine building with attractive surroundings.

The block bounded by Eighth and St. Nicholas avenues, One Hundred and Twenty-second and One Hundred and Twenty-third streets, contains lots that are ten to twelve feet below grade, while the streets are not opened, but the avenues are finished.

The Fifth avenue lots, north of One Hundred and Fifteenth street, are about six feet below grade, while those immediately north of One Hundredth street are six or eight feet above the grade, the latter containing a quantity of rock.

The lots on Third avenue, north of Ninety-sixth street, are twelve to eighteen feet above grade and filled with rock, while those north of One Hundred and Sixth street are a little below grade. The latter street is finished, except as to paving.

With the above descriptions, carefully collated, purchasers can easily ascertain the exact nature of the various parcels offered and act in accordance. We anticipate the very best results of the sale.

THE COLLECTION OF ASSESSMENTS.

It is understood that Mayor Cooper's reasons for vetoing many bills for up-town improvements are based upon the fear that the city authorities may not be reimbursed for incurring extraordinary expenses, owing to the recent decisions of the Court of Appeals vacating assessments. West Side property-owners who insist upon the development of that section, who demand that unopened streets should be opened, sewers constructed and streets regulated and paved, find themselves in a dilemma, and are now endeavoring to convince the authorities that they are perfectly willing to bear the burden of these public works and have no desire to throw it upon the general taxpayer. In this emergency, the West Side Association has appointed a committee for the purpose of urging the passage of a just assessment law, whereby the claims of both the corporation and the property-owners will be equitably secured. There are now drafts of such bills in Albany, and Corporation Counsel Whitney has sent in another. To harmonize the conflicting interests, various consultations have been held between the above committee and Mr. Whitney, which, it is hoped, will soon lead to the passage of an equitable law. The appointment of Commissioners of Assessments and their compensation appears, however, to be the great stumbling-block in the way of a satisfactory agreement between the two parties. Shall they be appointed by the Legislature, as Mr. Whitney proposes, or shall the Supreme Court appoint them, as has been the custom heretofore? The West Side Association, through its committee, prefers to leave these appointments with the Supreme Court General Term, but has this always worked well in the past? It is a question we should like to hear discussed by those property-owners who have not been benefited by certain public improvements for which they have been assessed years ago. It is a timely subject to be argued on both sides, so that before the enactment of the law that must be passed this session, the calcium light of experience can be thrown upon it.

THE LULL IN PRICES.

It is a notable fact that for a month past there has been a serious "set back" in prices of all kinds of commodities. From stocks all through articles of universal consumption down to food, there has been a reaction to lower figures. The year 1879 was a phenomenal year. The country was bare of goods of all kinds and then there was a sudden addition to our currency of the gold and silver which had been inert during the previous seven years. Fully three hundred million of precious metals were made available for business purposes. Then we were exporting largely not only provisions of all kinds but cotton and our securities. The difference had to be paid in gold, of which we received nearly $80,000,000 during the year. All the bullion we produced, amounting to about $75,000,000, was retained in this country. This enormous addition to our currency coincident with bare markets led to the tremendous advance in all articles dealt in upon our marts of trade.

As a matter of course, this great enhancement of values could not be maintained. Our powers of production have been marvelously increased within the last few years, and there is likely to be something of a glut in manufactured articles within a year or two. The "boom" is not however over. We believe that we will see higher figures, for the same causes which made the large advance are still at work. That is all but one. Our importations have become so large that it has checked the flood of gold in this direction. There will be no further additions to our bullion receipts except from our mines, and we would not be surprised to see one hundred million added to our store of precious metals before the close of this year, and this all from domestic production. We have not only ceased to import gold and silver but we have begun to export it, and it is perfectly natural that we should. Bullion is as much a product of this country as is cotton or wheat, and it is unnatural for us to retain what we produce. But in every other way our currency is unaffected. Congress does not dream of reducing the volume of legal-tenders. The banks are issuing instead of withdrawing their notes, so there is no danger of any very serious collapse in prices. Nothing will do that unless the export of gold should be so great as to alarm the timid, and then if the Treasury should decline to furnish gold on demand there might be again a temporary demonetization of the precious metals by a premium being demanded for gold and silver coins. This is not an impossible contingency, but it is yet in the distant future.

We ventured towards the close of last year to predict that money would be high priced during the year 1880, and this has so far proved to be the case. We argued then, as we reiterate now, that the great demand for money in all channels of business would make it dear, as everything else was dear. High prices in all products of human industry mean also an increased value to money itself, which makes the exchanges. So the recent tightness on the street should not cause surprise. The large importations daily call for heavy payments to the Sub-Treasury, and then the mining mania as well as the revival of railroad building is locking up money in every direction. All the manufactories report a stoppage of new orders. There are plenty of old contracts yet to fill, and after that work will be continued to keep up the stocks. We venture to predict that there will be a new advance in prices; that the present lull is wholesome, and that the country has entered upon a career of prosperity which can only terminate upon the occurrence of some disaster as now unforeseen. There is no danger of any meddling with the currency, and business is, on the whole, on a prosperous basis. The laboring class are everywhere demanding and receiving better compensation. They find rents and prices advancing so as to make their lot intolerable, and the justice of conceding something to them is recognized by the employing class. The wage and salary receiving class includes nine-tenths of the community. There can be no real prosperity unless this great spending class are well paid. They will be better compensated hereafter and the beneficial effects will be felt in all departments of business. Manufacturers will not make such large profits as they did in the past year and a half, but trade will be steadier and prices not so fluctuating. We are not alarmed at the "set back" in values which has taken place. We regard it as wholesome. The next wave of prosperity will reach real estate. That is certain to advance, no matter whether the prices of other commodities stand still or go up.

MINING STOCKS, EAST AND WEST.

The following is an extract from an article in the Evening Bulletin of San Francisco, of a recent date. It reads like an extract from THE RECORD:

Eighteen months ago mining stocks had no formal recognition in New York. They were not quoted in the Stock Exchange, and they were not recognized as a valid security for loans. All this is changed. Mining stocks are worth more in New York than in San Francisco. Mines are daily listed on the stock boards there. Mining stocks are dull in this city; but they go briskly in New York. There are dividend-paying stocks sold daily in that market which have not produced a dollar of net profit for a year past. After a while, committees will be raised to enquire into such discrepancies. The earlier stages of the cinching process are always interesting. The last stages are not pleasing to the victims. There have been salted mines placed on this market, doctored mines, mines fixed up to sell, rose-colored reports, and the succeeding days when the bottom dropped out of this class of mines. We have had our stock booms and depressions. But the New Yorkers never before had a mining stock boom. Never before was it their privilege to buy dividend-paying stocks in mines where no dividends were earned. At present the further a mining stock is removed from the mine itself, the better it sells. San Francisco is too near. The uttermost facts are known here about mines on the Pacific coast. But they are not known in New York. Hence, the latter is a better place for doubtful mining operations than San Francisco. There is one check upon New York quotations furnished by the Stock Boards of this city. But to-day there are a considerable number of mining stocks listed in New York which are not called in San Francisco. The mining stock boom is, therefore, somewhat modified. But the new mining stocks are on the top now.

THE LENOX HILL DISTRICT.

It is admitted by all investors now that Lenox Hill is the choicest location in the city. The neighborhood is one not equalled anywhere on Manhattan Island for its healthfulness, commanding views and accessibility. The houses just finished, on East Sixty-seventh street, between the Fifth and Madison avenues, known as Nos. 20 and 22, and built by Mr. C. W. Luyster, are located in the very centre of the Lenox Hill district, and, owing to the excellent manner of their construction, are attracting a great deal of attention. Mr. Luyster has been a practical builder for the last seventeen years and has completed thus far, in this city, no less than fifty first-class dwellings, all of which stand as witnesses for his excellent workmanship. In the erection of the houses above mentioned he claims to have produced structures that must be called part of a general system of improvement, which he has made his own. It cannot be denied that the material used in their construction is of the very best quality, and that everything has been done by day's work under Mr. Luyster's personal supervision. No. 20 East Sixty-seventh street, which has a frontage of 27 feet, is a four-story high stoop brown stone house of loyal appearance with octagon fronts and ornamental trimmings throughout. The parlor floor, with its elegant reception and dining room, at once impresses the visitor with the excellence of the workmanship that is met with throughout the building. Ornamental hardwood mantels and elaborate mirrors, all finely polished, tend to enhance the cheerful aspect of this floor, which is, however, no exception to the general rule. The entire basement, as well as the first and second floors, are also finished in hard woods, and ornamental wainscoting is everywhere noticeable, the front basement especially being exceedingly pretty, so far as the finish of the hardwood is concerned. The same must also be said of the basement hall, the lower stairs, around the first story hall and the stairs ascending from the parlor floor. On the third and fourth floors are excellent marble mantels and the saloon style between front and rear bedrooms has been closely followed with elaborate trimmings and mountings. The description of No. 20 ought to be the very same as that of No. 22, the same careful workmanship being noticeable in each of these houses from cellar to attic. It should be said in addition that both of these houses are provided with three large and elegant mirrors and frames on the first floor, and two over the mantels on second floor. Elegant curtain cornices are also provided to all of the windows of the first and second floors. Nos. 24 and 26 in the same street, also built by Mr. Luyster, have already been sold, and No. 20 and 22 are now offered to investors, the former at $57,000, the latter at $52,000. There is always some one on the premises to show visitors the newly finished houses and Mr. Luyster's own office is at 357 West Fifty-second street, where he can be found whenever he is not engaged in the supervision of his new structures.

MR. MOWBRAY'S HOUSES, NOS. 12 AND 18 EAST SIXTY-SEVENTH STREET.

Mr. Anthony Mowbray is now finishing two first-class mansions, on Sixty-seventh street, between Fifth and Madison avenues, well worthy the attention of purchasers. The houses are respectively designated as No. 12 and No. 18 East Sixty-seventh street, the former having a frontage of twenty-five and the latter twenty-seven feet. They are both four-story and basement brown stone houses, with well constructed sub-cellars, and while No. 12 occupies in depth 70 feet, No. 18 extends in depth over 80 feet, the lots in both instances being 100.5 deep. The exterior of both these houses is made exceedingly attractive, owing to the bay windows, which in No. 18 extend to the upper stories. As to the general finish of two the houses, no difference in careful construction can at all be found, every available method being taken advantage of to give the occupant as wide halls, and as comfortable quarters as can be found anywhere in this now fashionable district. Of course, it is superfluous to say that all possible modern improvements have been introduced everywhere, from cellar to attic, and that the plumbing work especially has been carefully done in accordance with the most approved sanitary principles. The two lower stories are finished throughout in hardwood, the ornamental mantels, the elaborate mirrors and the cheerful Minton tiles giving the various parlors a most attractive appearance. The peculiar construction of the stairs in No. 12 has enabled the builder to find room, in addition to the wide halls and large parlors and dining room, for an extra apartment, thus creating a reception room in the front part of the hall as well as a smoking room in the rear. In the construction of these houses Mr. Mowbray has followed the designs created for him by his architects, Messrs. Lamh & Wheeler, of 173 Broadway. Now, that they are to be placed on the market for sale, at private contract, Mr. Wm. P. Seymour, of 171 Broadway, is ready to negotiate for them, as he is acting as Mr. Mowbray's agent.

Cheering reports continue to reach us from Brooklyn, where the real estate business has grown more active since the decision arrived at in Albany in regard to the Bridge, and the energetic efforts now being made to complete the elevated road. We are informed that an entire block of vacant lots purchased in the first week in March on the line, or rather in the immediate vicinity of the Bruff Elevated Road, has been resold during the week at an advance of 20 per cent.

Mr. C. B. Le Baron, whose business as a buyer of commercial paper is well known to builders and material men, has removed his office from 25 Pine street to 35 Nassau street.

MARKET REVIEW.

REAL ESTATE MARKET.

For list of lots and houses for sale see pages v. vi. and vii of advertisements.

There were a large number of offerings at the Exchange Salesroom during the past week, and the number of those on the lookout for bargains was not in the least diminished. It was only here and there, however, that the bargain-seekers succeeded in throwing their bait accurately, for in most instances property that could not command the attention of bona fide buyers was promptly withdrawn from sale. In looking calmly over the week's doings in the public salesroom, one cannot but admire the persistency with which not only buyers, as well as sellers, insist upon holding their own. All the eloquence of auctioneers did not change one iota the views of bidders, nor did the growls of those desirous of taking an advantage of the lull in the market have the least effect upon either the auctioneers or their principals. Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co., when presenting the fifty lots bounded by the Eastern Boulevard, First avenue, Seventy-ninth street and Eightieth street, were offered a bona fide bid of $100,000 for the whole, but they would not listen to it, and after some vain attempts to sell the lots in small parcels, the entire property was withdrawn from sale. There were also any number of persons ready to put up money for the fourteen lots on Seventh avenue, One Hundred and Forty-first street and One Hundred and Forty-second street, offered by Messrs. Mesier & Peter F. Meyer, but the enormous amount of taxes and assessments due on the same frightened bidders, and though the attendance at the sale was extremely large, only one bid, that of the plaintiff, was heard, and it was finally knocked down to him at the very first figure named by him, no advance being heard from the numerous audience, most of whom were capitalists as well as interested spectators. This, however, relates mainly to the unimproved property that was offered from the various stands during the past week. When a review is taken of the improved parcels sold under the hammer during the same space of time, the picture displays quite different colors. Even here, of course, prices did not at all times come up to the views of sellers; nevertheless, there appeared to be a market, and a very active one, for that class of property. No. 712 Madison avenue, 20x100, was sold by Messrs. Scott & Meyers, in this manner, for $25,200. Mr. R. V. Harnett sold at auction two four-story brown stone houses, on West Forty-sixth street, for nearly $15,000 each. Mr. Ludlow also sold in this manner, No. 106 East Twenty-fifth street, only 19x90, for $13,625, while several small three-story houses on East Thirteenth street were readily sold by A. H. Muller & Son, for $8,000 each. The improved property belonging to the Adolphus estate was also sold to advantage by the latter firm.

In Brooklyn, also, during the past week, Mr. Cole has sold at auction houses on Spencer street and Bedford avenue, also a nice house on Pineapple street for $8,000, and some good store and tenement property on Baltic street, particulars of which will be found in our annexed table.

During the past week, James Coles' Son sold in Brooklyn, at auction, two blocks belonging to the Lefferts estate, bounded by Throop and Yates avenues, Putnam avenue and Hancock street, for $38,500, to S. Arthur. These two blocks contain 115 lots and about 25 gores, so that the average price paid per lot may be put down at about $300. The reason that the tax sale in Brooklyn did not turn out successfully is simply owing to the fact that a large number of would be buyers considered the mandate under which the city authorities were acting as illegal.

During the coming week, of course, the great event will be the Mutual Life sale, for which Messrs. A. H. Muller & Son have made ample preparations. The maps are by this time in the hands of a large number of investors residing not only on Manhattan Island but in Brooklyn and New Jersey, whence there have been of late quite a number of enquiries for the class of property offered along our West Side. It is superfluous in this column to direct our reader's attention to this sale any further, except to refer them to our editorial pages where some valuable information descriptive of the various parcels offered is furnished them, a sort of programme, in fact, which THE RECORD intends to supply to its readers whenever any auction sale of magnitude is thrown upon the market.

Those gentlemen having charge of the lots belonging to the Mott estate to be sold during the following week have apparently acted with considerable judgment. It will take place just about a week after the effect of the Mutual sale has been well digested, and as that effect will only be to strengthen the market for realty no difficulty will be found in finding an equal number of buyers.

An important partition sale of Hudson street and West Eleventh street property will be held on Tuesday next, by Mr. Harnett, to which we call the attention of our readers. The same auctioneer announces some important offerings for the following week, as will be seen by referring to our advertising columns.

GOSSIP OF THE WEEK.

Not many sales at private contract are to be reported this week, the great sale on Tuesday next, which, by unanimous consent, is set down as a test of the real estate market, being awaited with intense interest by buyers as well as sellers. Nevertheless, those who have on hand large and choice parcels of property continue their negotiations with unabated vigor, regardless of any property that may or may not be sold to advantage on the extreme lines. In this manner we heard only yesterday of pending negotiations for Fifth avenue property in the Eighties, amounting to over $200,000, where there was only a hitch of $5,000 between the contracting parties.

In this connection, also, we may state that the southeast corner of Fifth avenue and Eighty-fourth street, has been purchased for $40,000, cash, by Mr. Geo. H. Kemp.

Messrs. E. H. Ludlow & Co. have sold at private contract during the week the Riverside avenue property, between Ninety-eighth and Ninety-ninth streets, including the street lots, making twenty-five lots in all for $126,000, to Mr. John N. A. Griswold. The frontage on the drive between these two streets measures 213 feet.

The sale, at private contract, of six lots on the south side of Ninety-seventh street, 175 feet east of the Fifth avenue, was reported yesterday at $48,000, being $8,000 per lot. At about the same time, the sale of three lots on Ninety-eighth street, between the same avenues, was reported to us at $6,500 each, only the latter street has not yet been opened.

Messrs. Lespinasse & Friedman have sold at private contract three lots on the south side of Fifty-eighth street, 25 feet west of Fourth avenue, for $48,000—$16,000 each; also, two lots on the north side of Fifty-seventh street, 100 feet east of Fourth avenue, for $28,000—$14,000 each.

Mr. Wm. C. Lester has sold his two lots on the southwest corner of New avenue and One Hundred and Sixteenth street, for $6,000—one lot on the avenue and one on the street.

The Harlem Dispensary, on the east side of Fourth avenue, between One Hundred and Twenty-seventh street and One Hundred and Twenty-eighth street, 50x70, including the building, has been secured at private contract for $6,000 by Mr. Jefferson M. Levy.

Mr. J. W. Pinchot, son-in-law of Mr. Amos R. Eno, has bought a half interest from Mr. Wm. A. Morrill in the farm recently purchased by the latter, near Westchester village. The property is known as the Gouverneur Morris Wilkins farm, containing about seventy acres, for which title was taken by Mr. Morrill on April 6th. Several thousand dollars are now being expended on the place in roading, and it is the intention of the present owners to lay out the property as a private park with adjacent villa sites.

Mr. C. J. Lyon has sold for Wm. F. Croft the four-story dwelling No. 11 East Sixty-fourth street, 20x75x100, for $44,700.

The following are the sales at the Exchange Salesroom for the week ending April 16:

BUILDING MATERIAL MARKET.

BRICKS.—On the market for Common Hards a good firm tone has been preserved, with full former rates obtained readily, and the position healthy and promising for the present, at least. If there is any great amount of stock at the primary points it has certainly been dealt out sparingly thus far, and the supply has rarely exceeded the demand, while in some cases it was rather behind, and buyers found it necessary to engage cargoes ahead of arrival, where prompt delivery was required for some special work. The quoted range of cost remains about as last given, or say $8@8.25 for "Up River," and $8.75@9 for Haverstraw with some odd cargoes of Jersey's still ranging along from $7.50 to $8 per M. Pale Brick are doing better. The demand has increased and become more general, the offering was sold up pretty closely, and values have stiffened, closing at full $5.25@5.50 per M. Advice at hand from the "River" indicate that generally the preparations for the new make are in a very forward state, with work actually commenced at several points, and the promise that all manufacturers will follow suit, should the weather seem likely to continue mild. This, too, it is thought, will have a tendency to hurry forward whatever may remain of old stock, and buyers in some cases hope for a decline to result. The stock is not here, as yet, however, and a great many bricks will be required to meet the almost certain consumption before new lots can become in any way plenty. There is some hope of demand for elevated road work, but the prospect is not very clear as yet. Fronts remain to some extent nominal, but available lots meet with attention, and dealers report a good prospect for the summer trade. At present Baltimore's are offered by cargo at $38 delivered at the wharf here.

HARDWARE.—About the same general features may be advised. Demand lacks animation and force from all quarters, and buyers evidently find no incentive to handle supplies beyond the ordinary jobbing parcels as wanted for immediate use. The heavy purchases made during the early portion of the year have not yet been distributed, and the expected flood of spring orders has as yet failed to set in. On values it is still in fashion to talk quite firmly, and there has certainly been no open admission of weakness or reduction in cost; but in many quarters certain "signs" prevail which are not unfavorable to the buyer. Since our last, we notice that the Morse Tw. st Drill and Machine Co. have made the following changes in discounts: Machinists, or Hand, Nut and Blacksmith's Taps 25 per cent. discount; Pipe Taps 60, Pipe Reamers 50, Bolt Dies and Tap Wrenches, No. 1, A, B, C and D; also Screw Plates, No. 1, A, B, C, D and E 25, Pipe Stocks and Dies special. Machine Screw Taps, for the present, only 35 per cent. LATH.—The market has not shown quite so much tone, and in some cases there was a turn of five or ten cents in buyers favor where the situation of an offering made it cheaper to allow this concession than to delay by running around to hunt up customers. Demand was of a slow and careful character, and as for some time past a great many of our dealers are working along on just as little as they can manage to carry for the present, in hopes of securing a further break on value. As we close, there is quite an irregular range of quotations from $1.75 down to $1.65, the higher figure somewhat extreme probably, but all nominal in the absence of reported sales. Receivers still make the statement that light amounts are to come forward to this point and report that manufacturers retain a better margin on other markets. Indeed, cargoes consigned here have, upon arrival, been immediately sent forward to other ports, and in one instance, at least, a cargo went back to Fall River and secured a better profit.

LIME.—The market still appears to drag somewhat, and there is nothing new reported on either Eastern or State stock. Considering the cost of transportation, the comparatively moderate amounts of stock offering, and the relatively higher rates ruling on most other material, lime is unquestionably cheap. Buyers, however, do not seem to appreciate the fact to a sufficient extent to call for supplies beyond immediate wants, and the demand lacks vigor from all sources. The State stocks will soon have the benefit of water transportation complete.

LUMBER.—Nothing of a positively depressing character can be advised on the general market, but the tone is not quite so vigorous, and, in some cases, buyers have made a slight gain. This, however, appears to be the very natural result of the progress of the season, which has not brought supplies enough forward from certain points to partially fill the gap in the accumulation so prominent a month or so ago, and also increases the number of sellers and makes competition livelier. The actual shadings made on cost, however, are moderate, do not extend to all grades of lumber by any means, and the indications are that just about as large an accumulation will be required to meet the demand for consumption as originally calculated upon, so far as the local trade is concerned, and there is good reason to believe that several near-by points will in a measure depend upon this market for supplies. The export movement is a little doubtful and not altogether promising, but there is fair hopes that the West India orders will run full.

Spruce has fluctuated somewhat but without showing much of a tendency toward buoyancy. Between a fair number of randoms and comparatively full delivery on early ordered cargoes, some, indeed, on contracts made last fall, the yards have managed to get together a fair assortment for current use and this naturally affords basis for a little independence among buyers. A few cargoes above the average offering afloat, therefore, forms a surplus under which sellers labor at disadvantage, especially if the offering lack attractive conditions, and to realize before expenses commence to swell frequently requires a shading. The amounts in first hands, however, are by no means excessive and the weak spot in the market would, no doubt, quickly heal on a very slight addition to the demand. Quoted in a general way at $15.50@17.50, with possibly $18 for choice specials.

White Pine has a slightly unsettled tone. Common box and shipping grades, it is asserted, have not met with a sale quite as close to the amount offering, or within reach if wanted, as expected, and apparently a trifle discouraged by this, some holders were inclined to talk a shading on cost. Others, however, refused to modify their views, and confidently assert that "everything will be all right," if only a little patience is shown. Clear Pine, seasoned and attractive, retains a very strong position, and bids fair for some advance. The primary markets are above our own in many cases, and holders of the most desirable parcels are said to be about as indifferent a body of operators as can be found. Indeed, this will apply to all grades of White Pine just at the moment, and the intimation that talking the market weak here is merely to influence the interior, seems to have considerable justification. We quote at $17@18 per M. for West India shipping boards; $22@25 for South American do.; $16.50@17 for box boards; $17.50@18 for do. wide and sound do.

Yellow Pine still shows something of a one-sided market, the advantage remaining almost exclusively with the selling interest. Within the past three or four weeks a great many orders have been taken for comparatively early delivery on which terms were strictly private. This, however, as we have before intimated instead of showing a weakness, as might be inferred is a strong feature, and the explanation may be found in what has for some time been understood among the trade. Buyers who secure these deliveries simply bid a figure so high, that manufacturers succumb to the temptation, and delay earlier contracts to secure sales at the more remunerative rates. Not many randoms came to hand, and the sale is quick at extreme rates, while orders for future are neglected by agents, as they are too uncertain about transportation. Southern advices report a scarcity of vessels and higher freight charges. We quote random cargoes at about $24@26 per M; ordered cargoes, $25@27 do; green flooring boards, $2@27 do, and dry do do, $26@28. Cargoes at the South $16@18 per M. for rough, and $22@24 for dressed at Atlantic ports; $15@16 for rough, and $30@22 for dressed at Gulf ports.

We find the following in the Glasgow correspondence of the London Timber Trade's Journal:

In the absence of the Canadian imports of timber during the spring of the year, pitch pine from Pensacola and Dojoy coming in at that time assumes very considerable importance. The importations of this wood from 1st January till date amount to nearly double the quantity discharged here during corresponding period last year, the tonnage employed in conveyance being 6,495 tons, 1880; and 3,305 tons, 1879. This favorite wood will, no doubt, go chiefly into ship-builder's hands; for house building and cabinet work the demand meantime is rather quiet, although for superior varnished finishings and linings it cannot be dispensed with, some of it being unsurpassed by any other wood for figure and brilliancy of expression.

Hardwoods are in fair general demand, and the market retains a firm tone for every grade of stock now offering. Local consumption is good, and promises to increase, and, as with other woods, many nearby points seem likely to make this a source of supply. Amounts available are small, and no important additions expected. We quote at wholesale rates by car-load, about as follows: Walnut, $77@85 per M.; ash, $33@36 do.; oak, $35@40 do.; maple, $30@35; chestnut, 1st and 2d, $30@35; do. do. culls, $18@20 do.; cherry, $45@75 do.; white wood, 1/2 and 5/8 inch, $25@27.50, and do. inch, $3@35 do.; hickory, $35@45 do. for Western, and $65@75 for good nearby stock.

Shingles are in very good demand on the shipping and home orders, and with a not over abundant stock of desirable quality, values are well maintained. We quote Cypress at about $6 for saps, and $8.50@9 for hearts; pine shipping stocks, $4 for 18-inch, and Eastern saw grades at $2.50@4.50 for 16 inch as to quality and quantity. Machine dressed cedar slingles quoted as follows: For 30-inch $16@22.25 for A and $28.75@33.25 for No. 1; for 24-inch, $6.50@16 for A and $16.75@23 for No. 1; for 20-inch, $5@10.50 for A and $11.25@15.75 for No. 1.

Yard business appears to have been a little irregular, but reaches a fair total, and pretty much all dealers report full prices and a firm market.

From among the lumber charters recently reported we select the following:

An Am. ship, 1903 tons, from St. John, N. B., to Liverpool, deals, 55s; a Br. barque, 416 tons, from St. John, N. STATE.

The Albany lumber market, for the week ending April 13th, is reported by the Argus as follows:

Sales of round lots of Lumber in the District for New York and neighboring markets continue to be made but the particulars are kept p. t. There are several lots sold ahead remaining in the District awaiting shipment South. Prices of all grades of Lumber—Pine and coarse—are without change, and will continue without change for a week or two, and until we have new receipts by canal.

At New York, Lumber is quiet; consumers thereof move cautiously; there is, of course, a certain amount of building to be done; but it is to some extent interfered with by the advance in all kinds of building materials; iron, it is true, is for the present lower in price, but the opinion is gaining ground that it will soon advance.

At Chicago, the Lumber market during the winter has not been up to expectations, and there has been and is more or less cutting in prices; the stock is reported at 263,453,000 feet, against 338,906,000 on March 1st, and 238,106,000 feet on April 1st, 1876.

In Canada, lumber is moving lively; there is no dry stock in first hands for sale; a continuance of the present active market is confidently looked for. So many of the boats that previous seasons have been employed in bringing Ottawa lumber to tide water have been chartered to bring ice from the North to New York that large contracts have been made covering 300 to 500 cars—and open contracts are offered—for freighting of lumber by way of the Rome and Watertown railroad to tide water and New York. Of course, this will, even at the low freights contracted for per car, be a boom to the railroad company. It will last only so long as the Northern boats are engaged freighting ice.

Freights from Ottawa to Albany are $3.50@3.75 M; from Port Hope to Oswego 90c M; from Saginaw to Buffalo $2.50 M; vessels plenty and lower rates looked for certainly, unless the Chicago trade should show more activity. Lumber has been and is freely shipped, by rail, from Chicago to New York, but we do not hear the rate of freight.

There was received at Buffalo during the week 79 cars of lumber.

We find the following paragraph in an exchange:

A prominent lumber dealer of Oswego, N. Y., is of the opinion that Oswego will do a larger lumber business this season than any year before, and he estimates it at over 200,000,000 feet. The largest season's business, when times were prosperous and Oswego was the lumber center, was 300,000,000 feet or a trifle over. The Palladium says the demand for Michigan lumber in the West is withdrawing it from Eastern markets which must draw their supplies from Canadian sources, and for Canadian lumber Oswego is and always must be the chief depot. Our lumber merchants have been preparing for this increase of trade, and there is not a foot of lumber dock in Oswego that is not engaged. The leading firms have bought large stocks, and are counting an active demand. A return of our old lumber trade will go far to renew our old time busy aspect, and will afford employment to a large number of men. The gentleman referred to thinks that for the next 10 years Oswego will do a larger lumber trade than ever before, and that more room than we have now will be demanded to accommodate it.

THE SOUTH.

The Savannah Morning News has the following:

Lumber.—By Sail.—Our port is bare of available coastwise tonnage, and there are no offerings to arrive. Vessels are in great request, and will command advanced rates; but, in the absence of actual transactions, we do not revise quotations. Charters for the Mediterranean are also offering. We quote: To Baltimore and Chesapeake ports, $5.50@6.00; to Philadelphia, $6.50; to New York and Sound ports, $6.50@7.00; to Boston and eastward, $7.00@7.50; to St. John, N. B., $8.00; [Timber from $1.00 to $1.50 higher than lumber rates]; to the West Indies and windward, $7.00@8.00; South America, $17.00; to Spanish ports, $14.00@15.00; to United Kingdom for orders, timber 33@34s., lumber 45 5s.@45 10s. From 50c. to $1.00 additional is paid here for change of loading port.

THE EAST.

The state of the lumber trade in Maine is summed up by the Bangor Courier as follows:

Dry pine lumber has not been so scarce in this state for years as it is to-day. A Kendall Mills lumberman who usually carries a stock of from 200,000 to 500,000 feet states, "We have none," and the same may be said of all the Kennebec mills. Pine shipping plank, which have been plenty in this State the past few years at from $12 to $18 per thousand, now find a ready market in Boston at $20. Michigan stock is also becoming remarkably scarce, and a sharp advance may be looked for before the new stock is ready to market. Our sash and blind manufacturers, who use a good deal of this material, are looking around sharp for lumber with which to fill their orders.

THE WEST.

SAGINAW VALLEY.

Lumberman's Gazette Office,

BAY CITY, April 13, 1880.

No change is apparent in the condition of the market. The prevailing feeling is one of firmness, with no disposition to make concessions. The amount of dry lumber on the river for sale is so limited that transactions are mainly confined to stock to be cut; the prices being as quoted below. The sales of the week aggregate several million feet, one sale amounting to 3,000,000 at the market range, another 1,000,000 at $7, $14 and $30 and one 100,000 at $7.50, $15 and $35. A sale of uppers at $50 is reported at Flint.

Lake freights have not settled down upon any particular figures. Vessels have been loaded on the river the past week for $2.00 to $2.50 to Ohio ports and $2.50 to $3.00 to Buffalo and Tonawanda.

NORTHWESTERN LUMBERMAN, }
CHICAGO, April 8, 1880. }

The weather has in the main been pleasant since the date of our last report, and the movement of vessels has become pretty general. But few cargoes of lumber have arrived, however, and these have not met with such eagerness on the part of buyers as to warrant manufacturers in inaugurating a forward movement. Two or three loads of dimension stuff of ordinary sizes have found dull sale at $9. The fact is, that between the opening of navigation a full month too early and the inauguration of a cut in prices, the dealers of this city are not ready to buy random cargoes. The old stocks at the mills on the east shore of the lake have pretty generally been bought up, and vessels arriving with any portion of this go at once to the yard of the owner, making no stop at the cargo market. The movement in this class of lumber, however, is by no means extensive. Dealers have not got their receiving docks cleared for action, and some of the disposition to make allowance on prices possibly arises from a desire to clear off their dock fronts now encumbered with last fall's receipts.

Among the sales on the market on the 7th inst. were two cargoes of green piece stuff from Ludington, Mich., which sold at $9. A cargo of Ludington strips, fair stock, green, was held at $15, and a deck load of mixed dry strips from Muskegon at $13.

The stock of white pine dimension is small, and we know of several yards which are utterly cleaned out of this grade. A comparison of the lists of to-day with those of February 1, show the following shadings, viz.: 2x4 clear and select, $1; boards, strips and stock boards, nothing; 3d common flooring, $1; fencing flooring, 50 cents; 1st common siding, 50 cents; beaded ceiling, nothing; common boards, 50 cents on No. 1 and 2; fencing No. 1, 50 cents to $1; No. 2, nominally $1.50 to nothing; 4-inch, nominally $1; battens, nothing; small timber, nominally from 50 cents to $2; culls, 2x6, 50 cents; green lath, 10 cents; shingles, 10 cents decline, to 10 cents advance. It will be noticed that the better grades of lumber remain unchanged, and we are assured that the cut upon other grades is much more apparent than real.

In another column will be found a notice of a sale at Flint, Mich., of 100,000 feet of uppers at $50. We cannot recall a sale in that neighborhood at as high a price in the history of the trade. Dealers visiting Michigan's producing districts, report an almost impossibility to obtain any seasoned lumber at any price, and we have learned of a contract entered into at Muskegon, within the past week, whereby a Chicago dealer purchases 5,000,000 feet, to be cut, costing $15 on the dock here.

OFFICE OF LUMBERMAN AND MANUFACTURER, }
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., April 8, 1880. }

The opening of navigation on all the streams of the West and Lake Michigan has had little influence on the lumber trade so far as prices are concerned. The supply of sawed lumber is too limited to have much effect. A slight dropping off is reported at Chicago on piece stuff, while the tendency is still upward on all fine grades. The driving season has opened, and many of the mills along the river are at work replenishing stocks. The activity in railroad building again calls for an immense amount of bill stuff, and some heavy contracts are being negotiated at about the present list. The quality of the incoming crop of logs is much better than that of last year, and much less difficulty will be experienced in securing bridge timber than was felt last year, but the supply is not so excessive as to justify any reduction in prices on that account.

The business of St. Louis, Hannibal, Clinton, Dubuque and other Western markets continues good, and they are now sorting up stocks from raft lumber, which dries quickly, and they will be able soon to present full assortments to their customers.

The satisfactory condition of trade has enabled many to dispense with road men, and sell lumber at home. This is a great point gained.

The pressure on the West from Michigan will be somewhat relieved by the better situation at the East, where business is increasing. Under the increasing demand from the Upper Missouri region, the lumbermen of Minnesota are looking in that direction for trade rather than the Southwest.

FOREIGN.

Referring to one of the numerous nonsensical paragraphs upon the "rapid disappearance of the American forests" etc., and to the annual reports of a "small run of logs," "great scarcity of lumber" etc., with which the country was flooded a few years since, and which may still occasionally be found. The London Timber Trades Journal has the following:

"Those who are in the habit of giving their attention to our foreign correspondence will have remarked that scarcely a season since that time has passed which did not commence with reports fo some unfavourable state of weather, roads, or rivers abroad during the previous winter which was to affect and shorten the quantity of lumber to come forward for shipment in the spring. Probably there is some unfavourable weather for lumbering operations in the course of every winter; a week's thaw may be bad for the gangs when they are in the middle of work that is best carried on with frost and snow, and when they want a thaw, for the purpose of floating their rafts down the rivers, it is equally annoying to find themselves unable to move for the frost. These interruptions are loudly proclaimed, and obtain publicity throughout the trade. But while we are reading them the probability is that the lumberers are by that time rejoicing in the backwoods, with just the weather they want, in respect of which they do not hasten to make public any recantation of their previous complaints. Thus it is that, in the face of such statements, the exportation goes on just the same as ever, and ere the end of the season importers on this side have perhaps felt some indignation that in the beginning of it they were cajoled into making larger purchases than they should have done by the circulated demonstrations of a short supply, when the very reverse was finally proved by the quantities coming forward. At all events, up to the present time the scarcity of timber, asserted to have begun six years ago in the paragraph we have quoted, has not yet developed itself to the disadvantage of this country, and Canadian timber is cheaper here now than it was then."

There is probably not a lumber merchant on our own seaboard whose experience will not lead to appreciate the force of the above remarks. Yet, in common justice, it must be admitted that a decided improvement has taken place within the past two years, and the elaborate and expensive compilations of the two or three representative lumber journals of the West, with their earnest efforts to present a simple statement of facts, is gradually restoring the confidence so greatly shaken by previous exaggerations and "little" romances which so deftly figured every stick of standing timber into consumption within a period of five or six years.

The Timber Trades Journal as follows:

The freight market in North America is in rather a low condition just now; in fact, lower than we ever remember it, on account of many seeking vessels having gone out there with the expectation of getting grain charters home. But the monopoly in that market has thrown them into the timber trade, and consequently shippers are picking them up in the Bay of Fundy and Nova Scotia on their own terms. We see vessels have been absolutely chartered at St. John's for the west coast at 54s. or less, and from Quebec to London, 65s., which is what was current two or three years ago from the Gulf of Bothnia. Cargoes from Northern Europe are usually chartered for in smaller vessels for the British outports, say 100 to 200 standards, which obtain pro rata better freights; 40s. to London from a Baltic port is a far better rate than 54s. from the Bay of Fundy, as, at least, three voyages may be made for two, and at far less costly outfit and insurance, as the Baltic navigation is now regarded as little more than a coasting trade. The low freight from American ports is at present very much in favor of the shippers, who will be able to do good business on this side if the present price current here does not give way. When freights were 75s. to 80s. standard, and a heavy market here, their chance of profit was very small.

NAILS.—An irregular tone continues on this market, and the valuations as given retain much of the old nominal character. The tendency, however, is toward a loss of strength. Keeping up the old line of valuations, stopping production, etc., are still resorted to as a means of fortifying the position, but speculative lots outside the regular trade still appear to be available, and go a great way toward meeting the moderate prevailing demand. We quote nominally 10d to 60d common fence and sheathing, per keg, $5.40; 8d and 9d, common do, per keg, $5.65; 6d and 7d, common, do per keg, $5.90; 4d and 5d, common do per keg, $6.15; 3d and 4d, light, per keg, $6.90; 3d, fine, per keg, $7.65; 2d per keg, $7.90.

Cut spikes, all sizes, $5.90. Floor casing and box, $6.15 to $6.90. Finishing, $6.70 to $7.40.

CLINCH NAILS.

1 3/4 to 1 1/2 in.	2 & 2 1/4 in.	2 1/2 & 2 3/4 in.	3 in. & longer
$7.90 to $8.00	$7.40	$7.15	$6.90 per keg

OILS.—Demand for the ordinary consumptive purposes continues very fair, and jobbers, etc., secure full rates without much difficulty, and preserve a comparatively steady tone. For large invoices, the movement slow and rates easy. Linseed oil from crushers' hands, quoted 79 to 81c.

PAINTS.—Demand for consumption, local and nearby, is still good, and of a sufficiently general character to move all the principal styles. This keeps the advantage in seller's favor, and prices are preserved on a steady level without much difficulty. Advances from the interior appear to hold out hopes of some pretty large orders yet to come forward, but in this, as in many other lines of business at present, buyers are careful and not inclined to move greatly in anticipation of their wants. Accumulations and assortments are very fair.

PITCH.—Business has been moderately active, but a little larger if anything than last week. Supplies were about equal to the outlet, and prices ruled steady. We quote at $1.87 1/2 to $2.12 1/2 per bbl for city, delivered.

SPIRITS TURPENTINE.—In various ways there is considerable stock seeking consumption, with jobbers and retailers securing a fair margin, but the "boom is out of the market and buyers secure more consideration than a week or two ago. After a further considerable break the wholesale market steadied up again, and business did not greatly increase. As this report is closed, the quotation stands about 35 to 37c per gallon, according to the quantity of stock handled.

TAR.—Demand somewhat irregular and not altogether satisfactory, buyers coming in with smaller orders than anticipated. Stocks, however, remain small enough to be fairly controlled, and values are in consequence very well sustained. We quote at $2.00 to $2.25 per bbl for Newberne and Washington, and $2 to $2.25 for Wilmington, according to size of invoice.

MORTGAGES.

NOTE.—The arrangement of this list is as follows: The first name is that of the mortgagor, the next that of the mortgagee. The description of the property then follows, then the date of the mortgage, the time for which it was given, and the amount. The general dates used as headings are the dates when the mortgage was handed into the Register's office to be recorded.

Wherever the letters "P. M." occur, preceded by the name of a street in these lists of mortgages they mean that it is a Purchase Money Mortgage, and for fuller particulars see the list of transfers under the corresponding date
